POPE ENDS SECLUSION

Action Surprise for Rome

to Lateran Cathedral Made to Celebrate Mass on Anniversary of Pontiffs Venturing Into Italian Territory in Fifty-nine Years

Dec. 20. (AP)—The Bishop of Rome, in the person of Pope Pius XI today took possession of his own cathedral of St. John Lateran, the mother church of Christendom, for the first time since 1870. Pope Pius, ending the voluntary seclusion of the Popes — the Vatican since their first loss of temporal power, left Vatican soil early this morning and entered Italian territory to celebrate mass at St. John Lateran. The last Pope to do so was Pius IX, who ruled over all Rome as temporal monarch.

The Pontiff's exit took Rome by surprise, and no one was aware of the history-making trip until the Stefani News Agency announced it in a bulletin at 9:55 a.m. He drove to the cathedral in an automobile of American make which recently was presented to him.

EARLY DEPARTURE

by the provisions of the treaties by which Cardinal Gasparri and Premier Mussolini settled the Roman question on February 11, last, His Holiness left the Vatican at 6:45 a.m. while workaday Rome was rubbing the sleep out of its eyes. He went to the Lateran the place on September 19, 1870, Pius IX with the Italian forces thundering at the gates, went to

In the cathedral Pope Pius celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination, saying mass at the altar of the confession before which he was made a priest half a century ago to the day.

He thus performed one of the most dramatic acts of his long career and took even the members of the College of Cardinals completely by surprise.

PRELATES SURPRISED

It had been announced some time ago that His Holiness would celebrate his sacerdotal jubilee in modest fashion by saying mass in his own private chapel in the Vatican apartments, with only a few present.

To the astonishment of the small group of prelates summoned to the Vatican at 6 a.m. for these rites, Pope Pius announced he had decided to celebrate mass at the Cathedral of St. John Lateran.

Soon afterward the papal automobile left Vatican City territory and the Pope, without advising the Italian authorities and without obtaining a police escort, sped across Rome at dawn through streets he had not seen for many years.

ALL IN READINESS

Everything was in readiness at the cathedral. By the simple expedient of arranging for a mass by Cardinal Pompili, archpriest of the ba-

Representative Kaynor of Massachusetts on Way Home for Christmas

Crack Army Pilot, Mechanic and Passengers Die in Washington Crash

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—The airplane that was turning toward Massachusets to speed him homeward as a joyful Christmas surprise for his family plunged Representative William K. Kaynor and four others to death today less than a minute after the take-off.

Everyone aboard was killed in the impact as the trimotored plane hurtled downward on to Bolling Field from 300 feet, bounced, then burst apart and dug furrows three feet deep in the rain-sodden earth. Wounds showed the occupants died from head injuries, indicating each had been pitched forward or on to the ceiling as the diving ship twisted.

OTHER VICTIMS

Besides Representative Kaynor, those killed in this worst accident in Washington air history were:

Stanley B. Lowe, secretary to Mr. Kaynor.

Capt. Harry A. Dinger of Bolling Field, the pilot.

Private Vladimir Kuzma of Bolling Field, the mechanic.

Representative Kaynor had arranged to be flown to his home in Springfield to surprise his wife and children with a Christmas visit. It was his first flight, his interest in aviation having been spurred by a recent appointment to the House Military Affairs Committee. If the trip had been a success, he had planned an air visit to his family at home every other week-end. The Representative was serving his first term.

ALL WORE PARACHUTES

Cold winds were tearing across Bolling Field when the happy party arrived there shortly after 9 a.m. All bundled themselves into heavy clothing and donned parachutes. Meanwhile the transport plane was being warmed up for Capt. Dinger, a widely known army pilot.

All ready, he raced the plane across the field to lift it into the air and attempted a bank turn at 300 feet altitude. The ship's nose went down and did not come up again. Before field men watching the maneuver realized what was happening, the huge cabin transport was a tangled mass near where Lieut. George Cuddihy had crashed previously.

The first news of the tragedy was received at the Capitol from an unnamed woman who drove hysterically from the field. The White House and War Department were notified immediately and tonight an investigation was under way to determine the cause of the accident.

The plane was a counterpart of one of the finest commercial pas-

MANHATTAN FERRY BOAT IN COLLISION

Seven Hundred Rescued from Sinking Craft After Crash With Car Float

WEEHAWKEN (N. J.) Dec. 20. (AP) Seven hundred men, women and children were taken off the West Shore ferry boat West Point tonight after it crashed with an Erie car float off Hoboken early tonight.

The crash occurred as the ferry boat cast off from the New York slip at Forty-second street bound for Weehawken. More than 100 panic-stricken passengers leaped from the ferry boat to the car float. Five railroad tugs answered the call of distress sent out by the ferry boat. Three boats from the electric ferries also hastened to the scene of the accident.

All passengers were taken off the West Point by the Charles W. Culkins of the electric ferry line. The ferry boat began to list a few minutes after the passengers were taken off. Tugs pushed her to the mud banks along the shore to prevent her sinking.

CALIFORNIA MAN DIES IN CHUTE LEAP

Army Flyer's Rip Cord Fails to Work While He Falls to Death in Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Lieut. Elmer R. Miller of Dodd Field, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, a California man, was killed near here today when his parachute failed to open on a jump from a plane at an altitude of 2500 feet.

Miller was born in San Luis Obispo, Cal. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Miller of Stratford, Cal.

The plane, piloted by Lieut. Le Roy, had circled the flying field for the jump. The officer wore two parachutes. The rip cord on his regulation chute had been partially pulled. He pulled the cord of the emergency parachute just before striking the ground but too late to save his life.

Teachers Find There Ain't No Santa Claus

CHICAGO, Dec 20. (Exclusive)—The Board of Education threw up its hands and recessed its meeting today until the day before Christmas because there is no money to pay 13,000 teachers' salaries, due today.

President H. Wallace Caldwell had hoped to raise funds by today. As he informed the board that no money was available, the switchboard was swamped with calls from anxious teachers wanting to know if their Christmas money was forthcoming.

The Board of Education requires $3,412,558.21 for regular and $180,000 for substitute teachers' pay. Only $1,115,000 of school funds is available and many expenses other than the pay roll must be met by January 1. County employees looked forward to the week-end in order to do belated Christmas shopping. The October pay checks were distributed today.

Mary and Doug Sail for Home

YOKOHAMA, Dec. 20. (AP)—Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford sailed for the United States today aboard the Asama Maru.

Thousands of motion-picture fans braved a downpour of rain and thronged the pier to give the film stars a send-off, which climaxed their three-day passage through Japan. Crowds which collected to see the film players at Kobe, Kyoto and Tokio necessitated the use of police reinforcements.

Coast Vessel Goes Aground

PRINCE RUPERT (B. C.) Dec. 20. (AP)—The coastwise steamer Cardena of the Union Line was reported tonight aground near the Balmoral cannery off the mouth of the Ckeena River. It is awaiting high tide in the hope of floating off.

NEW RAIL LINE ORDERED

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. (AP) — President J. E. Gorman of the Rock Island Railroad has ordered immediate construction of the new line between Dalhart and Morse, Tex., a sixty-mile stretch which will represent an outlay of $1,500,000.

YOUTH GETS UNEXPECTED AIR THRILL

Farmer Boy Aiding Flyer on Ground Holds to Plane Tail Too Long

CAMDEN (N. J.) Dec. 20. (AP)—A 17-year-old farmer boy had a terrifying seven-mile ride on the tail of an airplane today.

The lad, William Coumbe, with other farm hands, was asked by Don Darby, a Curtiss-Wright flying pilot, to hold down the tail of his machine while he warmed up the engine. William assented readily.

When the motor was ready Darby signaled to the volunteers to let go. Coumbe did not hear the warning and soon found himself clinging to the tail unit.

Unaware of his passenger, Darby flew his craft for the seven miles between Moorestown and Camden at an altitude of 1500 feet. As the plane leveled to make the landing the boy jumped. He was taken to a hospital where it is said he suffered only a shaking up.

Seven Dead in Auto Crash at Rail Crossing

CLARINDA (Iowa) Dec. 20. (AP) Seven persons, six of them members of one family, were killed near here early tonight when the Tarkio branch passenger train of the Burlington Railway struck a truck on United States Highway No. 71.

The dead are F. E. Glass, his wife, baby and three young sons, and an unidentified man.

The family was returning from a shopping trip to Clarinda and the truck was laden with toys and Christmas things. The wreckage was strewn several hundred yards along the tracks.

Storm Period Reported at End in North

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Storm conditions definitely are at an end in Northern California for the time being, the Weather Bureau indicated tonight. Fresno was was the only northern station reporting rain today and the fall there was only .01 of an inch.

The forecast is for clear weather with frosts in the valleys and freezing temperature at night in the Sierra Nevadas.

RIVER PEACE STEP MADE

Wilbur in Plea to Three States

Resumption of Lower Basin Parleys Sought to Avert Arizona Court Move

Boulder Power Contracts to Await New Negotiations; Project in Peril

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Still hopeful of avoiding litigation on top of his other troubles in connection with the Boulder Dam project, Secretary of the Interior Wilbur has wired the governors of California, Arizona and Nevada asking if they would be willing to resume lower basin negotiations in a final effort to appease Arizona and get that State to drop its threatened injunction suit.

If the replies are favorable Secretary Wilbur will continue to take the initiative and will suggest a time and place for the proposed conference. He said today that he will not ask the river commissioners to come all the way to Washington, but will select a convenient location in one of the three States. If the meeting takes place he will be represented, but will not attend in person, according to his present plans.

MORE THAN MONTH GIVEN

The Secretary did not give out the full text of his telegram to the governors, but it is understood he indicated that he is willing to wait as long as February 1, next, before entering into the power contracts which actually will set the Colorado River project under way, provided there appears any chance of working out a lower basin compromise in the meantime. He announced at the conclusion of the protest hearings on power allocation here five weeks ago that he would have his final say on the allocation problem and would be ready to negotiate actual contracts "the second week in December."

The fact that Dr. Wilbur decided to hold off a while longer to allow time for a last attempt to draw Arizona into the project on friendly terms was stated exclusively in the Los Angeles Times last Tuesday. In that dispatch it was pointed out that the Interior head sees no logic in going ahead with the project so long as there remains any reasonable possibility of effecting a compromise between California and Arizona which would permit the development to proceed unhampered by a court fight which would delay it indefinitely, if not stop it altogether.

UNUSUAL ACTION

Secretary Wilbur's appeal to the governors of the lower-basin States is regarded here as a rather unusual action, and as showing his intense personal and official desire to grab the project out of its present precarious situation.

That it is in a dire state is conceded by some of the forces which fought it through and convinced Congress of its feasibility. Secretary Wilbur, there is reason to believe, is not at all certain that he can get the required contracts guaranteeing repayment of the government's huge investment, or that if he obtains such contracts they will be fulfilled. He has no absolute assurance that Los Angeles and the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California will vote the approximately $250,000,000 in bonds they will have to put up to finance their part of the gigantic undertaking.

ALLOCATION DISPUTED

Furthermore, his power allocation program is unsatisfactory to practically all the States, municipalities and private interests concerned. And hanging over the whole thing is the most serious threat of all in Arizona's apparent determination to carry her fight against the project into the courts, where she will plead that her rights as a sovereign State have been trampled.

The general impression among Boulder Dam observers at Washington is that Arizona will not be swerved from her course at this late date, and that a suit asking an injunction against Boulder Dam will be filed with the United States Supreme Court within the next month or six weeks. That, in fact, is the word reaching Arizona Senators. If the suit is filed, it undoubtedly will lead to a drawn-out court fight which will block the project for anywhere from seven to fifteen years with the possibility that if Arizona wins the project will be thrown out entirely.

Arizona's demands were set forth

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Dec. 20. [To the Editor of The Times:] I always felt there was only one thing could possibly defeat Mr. Hoover's capable management of our affairs, and that was when he run out of practical men to put on commissions, and, sure enough, he is getting short handed. Yesterday's commission didn't have a practical man on it; every one was a college professor. It's to find out "what has brought the social changes in our lives here lately." Knowing college professors, he gave them three years to agree on an answer. I could have told him before sundown what's changed our lives: buying on credit, waiting for relief, Ford cars, too many Republicans, Notre Dame coaching methods and two-thirds of America, both old and young, thinking they possessed "It."

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Baird Studio in New York Transmits Close-ups of Notables

Application Made to Radio Board for Broadcast During Evening

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Possibilities of television including the transmitted reproduction of a newspaper were demonstrated in a laboratory today.

A newspaper was held before the television "camera," and a reproduction, faint but recognizable, was seen in the receiver. Large headlines could be read. Printed pictures lost much of their detail, but retained enough so that men and women could be distinguished.

CLOSE-UPS SENT

The demonstration, conducted in the New York laboratories of the Baird Television Corporation, included the transmission of a close-up of Mayor James Walker, June Collier, actress, and two entertainers. Photographs of several celebrities, held before the transmitting machine, were reproduced in the receiver.

Another device, a "telereader," with words printed on a wide tape, also was run before the transmitter slowly enough so that it could be read at the receiving end.

Capt. O. G. Hutchinson, representative in this country of the John L. Baird interests of England, said the demonstration was given to show the progress Baird, pioneer British inventor, has made toward practical television.

EVENING BROADCAST

The pictures today were not sent by radio. Wires connected receiver and transmitter. However, Capt. Hutchinson said that the same success has been obtained in radio transmission in England and Germany.

He said application had been made to the Federal Radio Commission for permission to conduct television experiments on the broadcast channels in America during the evening hours. At present television is restricted to the hours between 1 and 6 a.m., except on short waves.

Weather Bureau Says More Biting Cold in Prospect for Central States

Shovelers and Snowplows Dig Out Auto Trunk Lines; Airmail Resumes

BY JOHN C. GALLAGHER
"Times" Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Emerging from the smothering snowfall which for forty-eight hours crippled urban transportation and paralyzed regional traffic, Chicago and the Central States tonight faced the forlorn prospect of a severe and protracted cold wave.

The local Weather Bureau, having cleared up the confusion that resulted in a "guesswork" prediction Thursday night, predicted positively that Chicago is due to experience frigid weather tomorrow and hereafter, probably until Christmas. The temperature tomorrow morning will be between 2 and 5 deg., the forecaster specified.

FRIGID OUTLOOK

The same cheerless outlook holds for all of Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota and all but the extreme southern portions of Illinois and Indiana, said the forecaster. He added ominously that Upper and Lower Mchigan may expect more snow.

A complete list of deaths attributable to the cold, snow and ice is unavailable with many sections still cut off by direct rail and highways and disrupted wire communications. It is estimated more than forty have perished in the storm in the Middle West. Thirty-one is the storm toll in the Chicago metropolitan area. Reports indicate the storm brought extreme hardship to small communities in the Chicago area. In the height of the blizzard, which struck St. Joseph and Benton Harbor, Mich., late Thursday night and raged until morning, a barber fell dead in a snow bank as he stepped out of his home to help a stranded motorist.

FIGHT BLOCKADE

A force of 1500 shovelers and 500 snow plows is still fighting through snow blockades that covered the hard roads from the Wisconsin line to Cairo and from Quincy to Danville, according to the State Highway Department at Springfield. Some of them have been out forty hours without relief. It is expected every trunk highway in the State will be passable by tomorrow morning, however.

Despite the freezing temperatures, the Wabash River rose a foot and is at flood stage of sixteen feet at Mt. Carmel, Ill. The flood waters are spreading over the lowlands but the prediction of a harder freeze alleviated fears of a destructive flood.

Ferry traffic across the Ohio River at Shawneetown was halted by ice blockades.

PASSENGERS MAROONED

Twelve passengers, marooned for sixteen hours aboard a Nickel Plate train at Gibson City, were rescued Thursday night by a train crew manning a locomotive and box car, which bucked through the drifts from Champaign.

Nearly 1000 students of the University of Illinois braved the snow-mounded roads and uncertain train schedules to start home for the Christmas holidays. Roads east and west of Champaign are blocked, but north and south routes are passable, motorists report.

At Danville a bob sleigh was hauled from its shed on rusty runners to bear a coffin to the cemetery after the funeral cortege got buried in snowdrifts.

Normal schedules were restored on the Chicago surface lines of the Rapid Transit and motor coaches tonight, but the steam and electric suburban trains still moved behind schedule.

Attendance at the public schools was almost normal, 500,000 pupils plodding through snow with few tardy.

FILMS SEEN AS CRIME CURB

Pastor Lauds Motion Pictures and Scores Those Who Would Turn Church Against Them

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Describing motion pictures as a "powerful deterrent of crime," Dr. Clinton Wunder of Rochester, N. Y., formerly pastor of the Baptist Temple there and author of many books giving the minister's outlook on modern life, told the National League of American Pen Women in an address here tonight that any minister or individual seeking to drive a wedge between the film and the church is assuming a "fearful responsibility."

"That deplorable fanaticism which tries to create discord between these two institutions must be discouraged." Dr. Wunder said. "It constitutes a real danger. Many of the world's most noted scientists and criminologists carefully have analyzed the relationship between films and crime and every one has found that the invariable message of the motion picture, where crime is depicted, is 'you can't get away with it.'

"On the screen the criminal never is a hero; he never succeeds in 'getting away with it.' A study of 628 features made in America last year shows that 33.7 per cent contained no villain and no crime; in 17.4 per cent the villain was killed; in 33.7 per cent the villain was captured and left securely fast in the confines of a prison; in 10.3 per cent the villain reformed, repented his evil ways and tried to recompense society; in 4.9 per cent physical punishment was administered to the villain by the hero."

BYRD MAY GET HIGH RANK

Senate Passes Bill to Make Him Rear-Admiral; Favorable Action by House Expected

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—It may be Rear-Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd before long, instead of commander.

The Senate today passed the Swanson bill granting the explorer the coveted rank. Favorable action by the House is awaited, and then only the movement of President Hoover's pen across the page will be necessary.

If and when these events occur, Byrd would be the youngest living member of that little group looked up to by the Navy's thousands—the rear-admirals, who are as far up as they can get in their world except for periods when, in command of operations, they might be allowed to drop the "rear."

Instances of officers "jumping" the rank of captain are as rare as the proverbial chicken's teeth. Byrd's fellow-officers said today, for that rank between commander and rear-admiral is "the hardest grade to make."

With the exception of some like Cary Grayson—President Wilson's physician, who received the rank at the age of 37—few officers as young have been rewarded with it during peace times. Charles Wilkes, the Arctic explorer, remained a lieutenant until he died.

Commander Byrd is 41 years of age. Except for dropping the mark of juniorship from his present title—by an act of Congress following his North Pole flight—he has come up through regular promotions.

His record is unique also in that he has been on the "retired" list all the while he was assigned to active duty, and on leave in order to carry out the exploits that have made him a hero.

He was retired in 1916 because his athletic activities at the Naval Academy had brought him a number of injuries, culminating with a broken ankle. This accident occurred while he was working out in the gymnasium.

The prophetic remark of the Midshipmen's Annual on their comrade, back in 1912, was:

"He already has lived a life rich in experience, and he will lead a life richer still, but he always will give to life more than he asks."

Gaining only $187.50 a year, Byrd as a retired rear-admiral would receive a yearly salary of $4500. Now he gets $4312.50.

senger planes in the country and is said to have cost approximately $80,000. It was designed for use by high government officials, and especially was used by F. Trubee Davison, assistant Secretary of War for Aviation. Representative Kaynor obtained War Department authorization for the flight.

His secretary, who also lives in Springfield, and leaves a widow and three children, accepted an invitation to make the flight, as did McGill, who originally had intended to fly to Boston yesterday with Representatives Martin and Foss of Massachusetts. McGill was to have been married in January and was going to Boston to spend Christmas with his fiancee.

Capt. Dinger, a crack Army pilot and one with the greatest experience with transport ships, was assigned as pilot with Kuzma, an Army private, as mechanic. The plane was warming up this morning when the party reached the field. The three men were assigned to their places, given parachutes with instructions how to use them, and then were strapped in with safety belts.

LEAVES GROUND EASILY

Capt. Dinger tried out the motors, pronounced "everything is fine," and took off southward down the field in the face of a twenty-five-mile wind. Eye-witnesses said the plane left the ground easily, climbed steadily until about 300 feet up and then started on a left turn.

Those first to reach the scene found all of the five men dead. The engines were buried about three feet in the ground and the Fokker plane was badly smashed. The bodies were moved to the field clinic and Assistant Secretary Davison, who was hurriedly summoned, directed that an inquiry be made. He issued this statement later:

"A board of officers has been appointed by Maj. Howard C. Davidson, commanding officer of Bolling Field, to look into the causes of the disaster. At this time there is no definite knowledge as to how it occurred.

PRECAUTION TAKEN

"We do know, however, that every possible safety precaution was taken before the plane left the ground. I have evidence that proper inspection was made of the engines, all three of which were tested and warmed up for about twenty minutes before the flight started, so far as the plane itself is concerned I am equally satisfied that the controls were properly inspected, also the transport only recently came back from the factory where it received a thorough overhaul.

"Lieut. L. M. Marrick, operations officer at Bolling Field, saw to it that the passengers were properly seated. He personally secured the safety belts and saw to it that parachutes were worn.

"He also went toward the pilot's compartment and asked Capt. Dinger if the three motors were functioning well; to which Capt. Dinger replied: 'Everything is fine.' Lieut. Marrick further stated that he listened to the motors as they were being warmed up and that they seemed to run smoothly.

NO CHANCE TO JUMP

"From the evidence at hand, Capt. Dinger, who had more experience in piloting trimotored transports than any other pilot in the Army Air Corps, took off in a southerly direction into a twenty-five-mile-an-hour wind, climbed to what seemed to be 300 feet, and turned northward when, according to eyewitnesses, the plane began to fall. The accident occurred so quickly at such a low altitude that no one had a chance to jump."

News of the accident saddened the House, which adjourned out of respect for Mr. Kaynor, who was serving his first term but had made himself popular. He only recently had been appointed to the Military Committee.

Word of the crash went out from Bolling Field, but it was difficult to obtain accurate information as field officials barred all newspaper men until over-ruled hours later by their superiors in the War Department. Special camera men were arrested by guards, but later were released.

Only Eight Persons Will be in Berkeley Chapel Monday When Tennis Star Takes Vows

BERKELEY, Dec. 20. (AP)—Only eight persons will be in St. Clement's Chapel in Claremont Boulevard here Monday noon when Helen Wills, tennis star, weds Frederick S. Moody, Jr., San Francisco broker.

These persons will be the bride and bridegroom, Rev. Lindley H. Miller, rector of the chapel, who will perform the ceremony; the parents of the bride, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Wills of Berkeley; the parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Moody of San Francisco, and one other member of the Moody family.

The world's women's tennis champion will not wear the traditional bridal gown, but will go to the altar unattended, dressed in a Patou model brown tailored suit, with felt hat to match.

After the ceremony the party will go to the Wills home for an informal wedding breakfast, then Mr. and Mrs. Moody, Jr., will depart on a wedding journey of two or three weeks.

Just where the honeymoon trip will take them remains a mystery, but rumors persist, despite denials, that they will sail for the Mexican coast on the yacht Galatea, owned by Cyril Tobin, San Francisco attorney.

The couple will live in San Francisco.

Telegrams and cablegrams of congratulation and best wishes poured into the Wills home today from all parts of the world.

VESSELS IN PARADE AS FOG LIFTS

New York Port Record Set by Entry of Fifty-eight Ships After Tie-up

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—A new record for incoming vessels was set in New York Harbor today as fifty-eight ships, most of them having been fog-bound outside the channel for from twelve to forty-eight hours, proceeded to their piers as a stiff west wind lifted the heavy fog which has paralyzed shipping for days.

The previous record of fifty-seven ships docking in a day was set on January 19, 1926, when a heavy fog which enveloped the harbor brought about a similar delay in arrivals.

Ten trans-Atlantic liners and seven other passenger ships were among the incoming vessels today, several of them two days late in docking because of the fog.

Together with forty-one freighters and tankers, they had lain outside the harbor waiting for the fog to lift, unable to penetrate the thick blanket in view of the added menace to navigation presented by the wreckage of the liner Fort Victoria, rammed and sunk by the Algonquin Wednesday. The wreck lies in sixty feet of water in the channel, with a part of her hull awash.

The outbound movement down the harbor was nearly as brisk. Thirty-six liners, steamers and freighters, fog-bound at their piers, at last cast off their ropes and slid into the channel. More than 2500 passengers were marooned on fog-bound ships.

Commons Votes Continuation of Thomas's Salary

LONDON, Dec. 20. (AP) — The House of Commons tonight approved continuation of the salary of J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal and Minister of Employment and is generally thought thereby to have given approval to the government's efforts to reduce unemployment. The vote was 222 to 146.

After the narrow escape of last night when a conservative amendment was defeated by a margin of eight votes, the Labor ministers entered the House today to find the opposition lot after them on the unemployment situation. It came from three sides; Conservatives pointed to the growing lists of unemployed and the rising cost of living. Left-wing Laborites demanded a broader attack on industrial depression. Liberals urged a fresh survey and an altogether new approach by the government.

WARRANT WITHDRAWN AFTER RESTITUTION

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (AP)—A warrant charging Paul A. Ludolph, former cashier of Lilienthal, Bremer & Co., with embezzling $25,000, was withdrawn by the Police Court today at request of the complainants, who said restitution had been made.

TIPLESS BASKETBALL BELIEVED SUCCESS

WICHITA (Kan.) Dec. 20. (AP)—A "tipless" basketball game between the Wichita University and Emporia Teachers here last night drew commendation from coaches and provided spectators with a thrilling 27-to-26 victory for the Teachers.

LIVERMORES FEAR RAID BY FUGITIVE

Long Island Financier Sets Guard Against Escaped Prisoner Barry

KINGS POINT (L. I.) Dec. 20. (Exclusive) — Fear that Arthur Barry, desperate escaped Auburn prison convict, will attempt revenge upon Jesse L. Livermore, financier, and his wife, by kidnaping the Livermores' two small sons, has led to the hiring of an armed guard, it was learned today, to remain near the boys day and night.

Refusing to discuss what information, if any, had reached the multimillionaire or his wife to inspire their fears, Nassau county officials admitted today that County Detective Frank Gorman, crack pistol shot, had resigned to enter Livermore's employ.

The detective lives with the boys, Jesse, Jr., 11, and Paul, 8, follows them during their games, and sleeps in a room adjoining theirs at night. Between times he keeps an eye out also for the safety of Livermore, against whom threats are said to have been made because of his bear operations during the recent stock market decline.

Gorman was hired away from his police job at a salary said to be $500 a month. The principal testimony which convicted Barry and his pal, Boston Billy Williams, of a $100,000 jewel robbery of the Livermore mansion came from the stock manipulator and his wife.

Electric Street Sweeper Picks Up Tons of Iron

MIAMI (Ariz.) Dec. 20. (AP)—Larger and heavier manhole covers are needed on Miami's streets because of the lifting strength of the Arizona road department's electric magnet, which was put to work collecting nails and steel fragments from the thoroughfares.

The big magnet, which has power enough to lift manhole covers, has been "sweeping" the streets of Miami.

On a recent trip from Yuma to Phoenix the magnet collected 12,357 pounds of iron and steel.

Third Plane Hunts Eielson

NOME (Alaska) Dec. 20. (AP)—Pilot Ed Young took off from Teller, Alaska, today for Siberia, following the lead of Pilots Joe Crosson and Harold Gillam, who departed yesterday for North Cape in search of Pilots Carl Ben Eielson and Mechanic Earl Borland, missing since November 9, last.

Flying conditions were reported excellent and Young's plane could be seen for a great distance from the Alaskan mainland as he winged his way out over Bering Strait.

REVOLUTION PLOT CHIEFS ROUNDED UP

Unborn Mexican Revolt's Leaders Described as Vasconcelos Followers

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 20. (AP)—Dispatches to El Universal tonight from Tampico said that Gen. Arturo Benignos, who has been investigating an asserted plot against the government by followers of Jose Vasconcelos, defeated candidate for the Presidency, is en route to the capital with leaders of the plot. The names of these last were not divulged.

In addition to fifty persons detained at Tampico on Wednesday a number of arrests have been made at Villa Cecilia near there and many others appeared voluntarily before the authorities to attest their innocence.

The Instituto Comercial de Ingles y Espanol was closed at Tampico and the principal, Miss Eliza Rivera, was arrested and a quantity of Vanconcelista propaganda was confiscated, a private home in Mexico City was raided last night and ten persons were arrested on charges of plotting against the government. Their names were not divulged.

Hoovers Guests of Stimsons at Cabinet Dinner

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—President and Mrs. Hoover were entertained tonight by Secretary and Mrs. Stimson at the first of the dinners which members of the Cabinet will give in their honor.

Ordinarily the President entertains the Cabinet members first at the White House, but due to the period of mourning for the late Secretary Good the winter social season has been disarranged.

The Secretary of State also held his dinner earlier in the season than usual because he will leave next month for the London naval limitations conference. The first dinner of the season for the President under the original program was that of Vice-President Curtis, but he was forced to leave town and it will be given on January 7.

Theft Involves Folsom Term

SAN JOSE, Dec. 20. (AP)—Found guilty of stealing an ordinary carpenter's saw, John Norman was sentenced to Folsom penitentiary today by Superior Judge Welch.

Agreeing with Norman's attorney that the sentence was severe, Judge Welch pointed out he had no discretion under the law since a conviction of burglary in Mendocino county in 1908 brought Norman under the provisions of the Habitual Criminal Act.

Veteran Bay City Official Expires

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (AP)—John Edmond McDougald, for twenty-six years treasurer of the city and county of San Francisco and a leading figure in California fraternal circles, died at his home here today after a brief illness. He was 76 years of age.

Death was attributed to heart disease.

Chrysler Cars' Price Increased

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—List prices of Chrysler automobiles will be increased from $20 to $100, depending on the type of car, effective January 1, it was announced here today by the Chrysler Sales Corporation.

The announcement said the increase is made to "maintain the high quality of the product."

HERO'S CITATION ARRIVES LATE

Phoenix Veteran Receives Star Thirty Years After Act

PHOENIX, Dec. 20. (AP)—Exactly thirty years after taking part with a small detail of American infantrymen in the rescue of twenty-two captive American soldiers in Northern Luzon, P. I., George Trowbridge, member of the Phoenix Fire Department, Thursday received from the War Department a silver star and citation for gallantry in action.

PONTIFF ENDS HIS SECLUSION

Trip to Lateran Hill Made to Celebrate Mass

Venture First of Its Kind in Fifty-nine Years

silica and the Pope's vicar-general in the diocese of Rome, preparations had been made without arousing suspicion. At the last moment it was announced to those who were attending that the Pontiff himself had been substituted for Cardinal Pompili.

The Pope, surrounded by young aspirants to the priesthood from the Lombard and Roman seminaries, recited the ritual of the day, the fourth Friday in Advent.

He presented the beautiful golden chalice that he used to the chapter of St. John as a souvenir of the historic event. After a frugal breakfast in the Lateran Palace adjoining the cathedral, the Pope was shown through the long halls of the missionary museum, which contains gifts from all over the world.

CROWD BLESSED

He concluded his visit by inspecting the hall in which the Lateran treaties were signed last February. On leaving he blessed a crowd that had assembled outside.

The Pope wore the dark purple vestments suitable to the mourning season of Advent.

Last July Pope Pius left the original confines of the Vatican to participate in the Eucharistic procession in St. Peter's Square, but he still was within his own territory. The trip across Rome today, therefore, was his first real passage across Italian territory.

The voluntary self-exile of the popes in the Vatican began in 1870 when the troops of the first Victor Emanuel took Rome in the name of the Kingdom of United Italy. Pope Pius IX, his temporal power ended, withdrew to the Vatican, never thereafter to leave it.

END OF SECLUSION

His successors emulated his example, the relations with the house of Savoy continuing strained until recently when the present Pontiff, Pius XI, and the Italian Premier, Benito Mussolini, sought a solution.

This solution was reached with signing in the Lateran Palace February 11, last, of the so-called Lateran treaties, establishing the Vatican and certain surrounding territory as the Vatican state or Vatican City, in which the Pope would have practically all the privileges and sovereignty of the usual temporal ruler. He was recognized as spiritual father of Roman Catholics the world over and in Italy in particular, and in addition a large monetary indemnity was paid by the Italian government.

On the 5th inst. the Pope received the King and Queen of Italy at the Vatican, the first of the house of Savoy to set foot therein, and the next day received the princes and princesses of the blood.

STILL HALE AND HEARTY

Pope Pius XI at 72 years of age still is hale and hearty, blessed with the robust constitution he inherited from hardy progenitors and perfected by arduous mountain climbing when a younger man. His act today followed a secret consistory earlier this week, at which six new cardinals were created, and issuance of an encyclical yesterday urging a devoted laity.

The mass said by the Pope was the same as said by thousands of humble parish priests scattered over the whole world today. Only one acolyte attended the Pontiff. The only circumstance distinguishing the event was the singing choir of the Pontifical Roman Seminary and the chant of the Te Deum by the small body of clergy attending.

THRONE MOUNTED

At the conclusion the Pope mounted his throne, which had been waiting fifty-nine years for occupancy by the Bishop of Rome, and received there the homage of the cathedral chapter. Then returning to the altar, he imparted the apostolic benediction to all present.

He halted to venerate the sacred relics kept at the church, which include what is purported to be a table of the Last Supper, and paused to admire a memorial tablet which St. John's chapter prepared in commemoration of the jubilee year.

As he left the palace he was bade farewell by Cardinal Pompili, who is archpriest of the Lateran basilica; Mgr. Marchetti Selvagiani and Mgr. Ercole, director of the Lateran museums.

COLD IN DIXIE TAKES THREE LIVES

ATLANTA, Dec. 20. (AP)—Freezing temperatures prevailed in the South today from the Ohio River to the Gulf of Mexico and as far east as the Atlantic coast, but high winds on which the cold wave swept in had abated and suffering was less intense.

Three deaths were attributed to the cold weather. Will Perry, a 50-year-old farmer, fell into the icy waters of Fourche River at Perryville, Ark., and died shortly after being rescued. A 65-year-old negro froze to death at Little Rock, Ark., while walking in his sleep, and an unidentified Mexican at Shreveport, La., succumbed to cold.

The freeze included Northern Florida and extended into the central part of the State with a minimum reading at Gainesville of 24, and Eustis, 30.

Snow still blanketed Tennessee and a large part of Arkansas and North Mississippi.

IMPORTERS INDICTED

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Philip D. Gowman and William Bartels, head of the Go-Bart Importing Company, an alleged international liquor ring, and five others were indicted for conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws in bills handed down by a Federal grand jury.

WILBUR MOVES FOR RIVER PACT

Lower Basin States Asked to Resume Negotiations

Power Contracts to be Held Up Pending Meetings

Entire Boulder Project Said to be Imperiled

at the last meeting between her river commissioners and those of California held in Los Angeles and Las Vegas last spring. Arizona spokesmen here complain with some bitterness that the Arizona proposals were ignored completely by California, being denied any sort of reply whatever.

EDITORIAL NOTED

An editorial carried today in the Washington Daily News, a Scripps-Howard paper, under the caption of "The Boulder Dam Mess" indicates that even the staunchest friends of the project realize the precarious situation it is in at the moment. The editorial expresses "grave doubt" that Los Angeles will be able to issue the bonds required of her and attempts to place the blame upon Secretary Wilbur because he has insisted that the purchasers of power shall equip and operate the power plant at the dam estimated at $20,000,000, a mere drop in the bucket in proportion to the city's total expense, and that even this expense would be borne partially by the Southern California Edison Company and the Metropolitan Water District is not mentioned.

The editorial is a frank complaint against the fact the government has refused thus far to be driven into the private power field, and contends that because of this policy the whole Boulder Dam scheme may fail. Those in Congress who opposed the project all along read the editorial today with the comment that here, at last, they have an open admission from a newspaper string that was a major influence in getting the Swing-Johnson bill through Congress, that the entire project is, after all, essentially a public-ownership power proposition.

YOUNG SAYS IT ALL DEPENDS ON ARIZONA

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Gov. Young announced today he had received a telegram from Secretary of the Interior Wilbur asking what action has been taken for possible resumption of Boulder Dam negotiations between California, Nevada and Arizona.

The Governor replied that if Arizona, who broke off negotiations, will agree to continue them California will be agreeable. The Governor further stated that W. B. Mathews, member of the Colorado River Commission, will discuss the matter with Wilbur in Washington within the next few days.

ARIZONA TO ACT ON MATTER NEXT WEEK

PHOENIX, Dec. 20. (AP)—Gov. Phillips of Arizona tonight announced receipt of a telegram from Secretary of the Interior Wilbur in connection with the three Lower Basin States of Nevada, California and Arizona holding a conference to settle disputes over Boulder Dam.

The Governor declined to make any statement other than to say that the matter will be placed before the Arizona-Colorado River Commission for action some time next week.

NEVADA STANDS BY ITS BID FOR POWER

RENO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Commenting upon the statement of W. B. Mathews of the California - Colorado River Commission to the effect that the rate of 1.63 mills a kilowatt hour for Boulder Canyon power, tentatively fixed by the Interior Department, is sufficiently high, George W. Malone of the Nevada-Colorado River Commission said today that Nevada's bid of 1.75 mills for one - third of all of the power is Nevada's answer to Mathews's statement.

"A corporation formed by the State of Nevada," Malone says, stands ready to contract with the Secretary of the Interior for all of the firm power to be generated at the bid price of 1.75 mills a kilowatt hour. Immediately upon a definite allocation being made to such company, letters of credit from responsible banks will be furnished to the Secretary which will convince him beyond all question of the ability of said company to undertake this or any other contract of a like size.

"The Nevada organization has further offered, in a wire to Secretary Wilbur on December 18, to provide for the needs of the Metropolitan Water District of California under proper conditions to be written into the contract with the government."

Renewing Nevada's protest against the Interior Department's proposal to allow Los Angeles to purchase a domestic water supply from the reservoir at the rate of 25 cents an acre foot, Malone said a higher rate should be fixed because the acre foot cost of storage, after making proper allowances for power development, will far exceed 25 cents.

"The cost of water storage all over the West, both public and private, is far greater than 25 cents an acre foot," Malone declared. "Furthermore," he said, "if Los Angeles should pay $2 an acre foot for the stored water it would add less than 2½ cents per capita per month to the water bill of the average domestic consumer in the Los Angeles region."

FEDERAL WORKERS' HOURS MAY BE CUT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—A bill authorizing a forty-four-hour week for government employees, exclusive of those in the postal service, was reported to the Senate today by the Civil Service Committee. Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, is author of the measure to allow government workers half holidays on Saturdays.

Crown Princess Juliana

BERLIN, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—The Berlin press has announced the engagement of Crown Princess Juliana of Holland to her second cousin, Prince Wilhelm Von Erbach-Schoenberg, 25 years of age, nephew of the Queen Mother, Emma of Holland.

The Prince began his courtship last November when he attended several hunting parties.

DAIRY HERD OF U.C. SETS TWINS RECORD

DAVIS, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Thirteen sets of twins have been born to cows in the herd of the dairy production department of the animal husbandry division, University of California, within the last twelve months. This establishes a mark that, as far as is known here, has not been approached by any other college or privately owned dairy herd elsewhere. Of the four important breeds in the herd, only two, Jerseys and Holsteins, have contributed to the double births.

WIFE KILLER EXECUTED IN SAN QUENTIN

Mario Croce Breaks Down at Last Moment While on Way to be Hanged

SAN QUENTIN, Dec. 20. (AP)—Mario Croce, 40 years of age, of Ukiah, Mendocino county, was hanged here today. He had been convicted of slaying his wife.

Croce broke down at the last moment. While spectators waited, they could hear him mumbling:

"What are you going to do to me? I'm not going to go!"

As he came through the door he paled, but as he walked up the thirteen steps he tried to smile. He was accompanied by Father William Walsh of San Rafael parish, who administered the last rites.

This was the ninth hanging here this year.

Croce shot and killed his wife last Christmas Day because she would not invite him to dinner. He pleaded guilty, and is one of the few men ever sentenced to death after such a plea.

Ex-Police Chiefs Found Guilty in Rum-Ring Case

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 20. (AP)—Two former police chiefs, a justice of the peace and six other persons were convicted today in Federal court of charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws. The government charged they were involved in the operations of a liquor ring in McKeesport.

Former Chief of Police John F. Brennan of McKeesport, former Chief of Police Charles L. Bergstedt of Versailles, and Justice of the Peace Charles E. Reinhard of Versailles township, are among those convicted. Four of the twenty-one defendants were acquitted and the jury was unable to agree in the other cases.

POINDEXTER'S WIFE EXPIRES

Death Takes Her at Orange Following Operation

She Had Been Paying Visit to Sisters in Santa Ana

Articles on Capital Society Brought Her Notice

ORANGE, Dec. 20. (AP)—Mrs. Miles Poindexter wife of the ex-Senator from Washington and former Ambassador to Peru, died here at 2:48 a.m. today following a major operation caused by an unexpected illness during a visit to relatives at Santa Ana, Cal., near here. She was 63 years of age.

Mrs. Poindexter was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital here several days ago suffering from an abdominal disorder. Her condition rapidly grew critical, and yesterday an operation was deemed advisable. Several hours after it was performed she lapsed into unconsciousness and died.

At her bedside was her son, Lieutenant-Commander Gale Poindexter, United States Navy, Coronado. Her husband was summoned by telegraph when it became apparent that her state of health was serious and he was en route here when she died. He is expected to reach here Sunday.

Mrs. Poindexter, who was born in Walla Walla, Wash., was prominent in society circles at Washington, D. C., during the fourteen years her husband spent there as Representative and Senator from the State of Washington. Her literary letters, "A Senator's Wife," provoked wide discussion.

Mrs. Poindexter came here two weeks ago from the capital to visit two of her sisters at Santa Ana, Mrs. May Jorgensen and Mrs. Charles Morton. She planned to return to Washington next week, where she was living with her husband.

She leaves besides her husband, son and two sisters at Santa Ana, two sisters, Mrs. Isabelle Rutter of Spokane, Wash., and Mrs. Donald McCelland of Seattle, Wash., and a brother, Thomas D. Page, Seattle attorney.

ARTICLES STIRRED WASHINGTON SOCIETY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Mrs. Miles Poindexter, who died today at Orange, created a furore in Washington social circles some years ago by her frank writtings on social affairs in the capital.

She published a series of articles before she went to South America with her husband, who was named Ambassador to Peru. They gave intimate pictures of Mrs. Poindexter's views on such questions as social precedence and the social life of the city generally.

Last summer Mrs. Poindexter figured in a diplomatic incident when a dispute over the services of a servant arose between herself and the Peruvian Embassy. The Poindexters had brought two servants from Peru and Alfredo Gonzales Prada, first counselor of the Embassy, hired them. The diplomat said Mrs. Poindexter had protested to the President of Peru and the upshot of the dispute was that the counselor resigned his post after a rebuke from Lima.

The diplomat in a formal statement asserted he was paying the servants higher wages than had been paid by the Poindexters.

Mrs. Poindexter had written few articles in the past few years.

Further Letters of Lakin Smirch His Aides

Crowder's Betrayal of War Secrets Revealed

Coadjutor's Truth on Stand Shaken by Marplot

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—With the War Department taking a hand in the reported action of former Ambassador Crowder in divulging war plan secrets to Cuban sugar interests, the Senate lobby committee today followed up another phase of its inquiry concerning sugar-tariff activities and received a letter saying Edwin P. Shattuck had conferred with President Hoover during consideration of the Hawley-Smoot bill.

A personal friend of the President, Shattuck testified yesterday that he never had talked on the sugar tariff with Hoover. The letter was one to Shattuck from H. C. Lakin, president of the Cuba Company, which retains him, dated last August 24. It was placed in the record as follows:

PLAYWRIGHT STYLE

"Just before we last went to Cuba you had an interview with President Hoover. You understood him to approve of Cuban newspaper criticism. I inclose translations of the two editorials from El Comague-Zano. I think that they ought to be given some publicity but to be called specially to the attention of the White House."

Chairman Caraway of the committee said Shattuck would be given an opportunity to reappear for testimony in relation to the letter.

CROWDER SMIRCHED

Meanwhile the War Department decided to consider reports that Maj.-Gen. Crowder, who was Ambassador to Cuba after his retirement from the Army, had disclosed some plans involving maneuvers in connection with the Philippines in event of war. Caraway had said at the Capitol he would ask no investigation.

"All we want to do," said the Arkansas Senator, "is to develop the facts. Anyone else can take any action deemed advisable."

He had announced previously that Crowder would be called for questioning concerning his activities for a low sugar duty.

LAKIN SPILLS INK

The testimony to be scrutinized by the War Department was contained in a letter Lakin wrote to M. C. Rionda of New York, which said Crowder had learned "that the plans of the General Staff provide that in case of war any attempt to keep a traffic lane open between the Philippines and the United States would be promptly abandoned."

Questioned about the letter, which was introduced Wednesday, Lakin said he thought Crowder had given him the information.

Developments today shared interest with a report submitted to the Senate by the lobby committee concerning the manifold activities in regard to legislation by J. A. Arnold, manager of the Southern Tariff Association. The report called his operations "reprehensible in the highest degree" and said the public should be protected from such lobbying.

AND ANOTHER ONE

Another letter placed in the committee's voluminous record today was from Lakin to President Machado of Cuba, dated August 21. It said:

"You, of course, know about the hearings which took place before the Senate Finance Committee. In addition to the hearings Shattuck and I have seen many Senators and have corresponded with many others. He also has been in constant touch with the White House and Senator Smoot.

"As you know, Col. Tarafa (of Havana) when he was first in Washington saw Senator Smoot and President Hoover. Although the arrangement to see the President was ostensibly made by Senator Smoot Mr. Shattuck actually had arranged it some weeks before Tarafa came to Washington."

SUGAR MAN QUIZZED

The committee questioned two witnesses today—W. L. Petriken of Denver, president of the Great Western Sugar Company, and Junior Owens of Washington, secretary of American Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages.

Petriken said he had discussed the sliding scale proposal for sugar duties with President Hoover and Chairman Smoot and had told the President he thought it "was surrounded with a good deal of hazard."

"I called on Mr. Hoover in an informal way," he said, "and he asked me what I thought of the sliding scale."

The witness said he had called on Congressmen in connection with tariff matters and had been in Washington a good part of the time since April 1. His expenses, he said, were paid by his company.

ONLY 20 PER CENT

Questioned about the dividends his company has been paying, Petriken said they had averaged 15 to 20 per cent during the twenty-three years it had been in existence and that its original capitalization of $30,000,0000 had been increased to $65,000,000.

Plans to enlist the aid of Representative Ruth Pratt, Republican, New York, in the fight against a rise in Cuban sugar rates by appeals to housewives were outlined in a letter from Owens to H. H. Pike of the New York firm of that name.

PRESS-AGENT STUFF

"I think it would be a master stroke if we could get Mrs. Pratt to openly lead the fight on the floor of the House against pilfering of America's sugar bowl through an increased tariff," the letter said. "In my opinion," the communication added, "such a move would be of untold value to Mrs. Pratt, provided she is ambitious to be one of the outstanding women of America."

Owens was not questioned about the letter, the committee adjourning for the Christmas recess.

PROBATION OFFICER DIES

TUCSON (Ariz.) Dec. 20. (AP)—A. L. Higgins, chief probation officer of Pima county, died here today.

DEATH ENDS CAREER OF VETERAN WRITER

Kennett Harris

END COMES SUDDENLY TO AUTHOR

Kennett Harris Succumbs to Heart Attack While Visiting in Florida

MIAMI (Fla.) Dec. 20. (AP)—Kennett Harris, 65 years of age, magazine writer and newspaper man since the latter part of the nineteenth century, died early today less than a week after he had come to Miami to recuperate from a lengthy illness and to continue his fiction writing.

Funeral arrangements are to be made tomorrow. Mrs. Harris and their son, T. Harris, arrived here tonight.

The author early today suffered a heart attack from which he did not recover.

Harris came to Miami Monday to spend the winter with G. A. Douglas, a friend, and died at the Douglas home.

He had been a contributor to magazines for twenty-five years, and prior to taking up this type of work was a feature writer for the Chicago Record, at that time the morning edition of the Chicago Daily News.

Board Accuses Swift Officials

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Formal complaint charging two officials of Swift & Co., packers, and the Mechanical Manufacturing Company of Chicago with practicing unfair methods of competition was made today by the Federal Trade Commission.

Naming R. O'Hara and W. A. Mayfield, manager and assistant manager, respectively, of the traffic department of Swift & Co., the commission's complaint said they induced and compelled railway companies to purchase gears and other equipment manufactured by the Mechanical Manufacturing Company by unfair methods. The majority of common stock of the Mechanical Manufacturing Company, the commission said, is owned and controlled by "members of the Swift family."

Woman Accused of Killing Baby

LONACONING (Md.) Dec. 20. (AP)—Mrs. Marian Izzett, 34 years of age, was charged today with causing the death of her 5-weeks-old daughter by throwing the child into an abandoned iron ore furnace near here yesterday. Police, who found the baby on a pile of junk at the bottom of a forty-foot drop, believed poverty and ill health had deranged the mother's mind.

Large Liquor Supply Stolen

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Bandits overpowered a watchman in Brooklyn, bored through a twelve-inch brick wall and stole government liquor valued at $250,000 from the Cosmopolitan Warehouse last night.

Police estimate the gang used six trucks in hauling away the liquor.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR MOUNTAIN ROAD

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 20. (AP)—The Lewis Construction Company of Los Angeles today was awarded a $189,687 contract for the grading, twenty-eight feet wide, of 6.7 miles of the Crest Drive between a point four and one-half miles west of Running Springs Park and Squirrel Inn, San Bernardino county. The road leads into mountain resorts and will afford travelers a wide roadbed with high standard alignment.

BROTHERS HANGED AT CANADIAN JAIL

MONTREAL, Dec. 20. (AP)—Norman and Lawrence Menard, brothers, both under 20 years of age, were hanged at Bordeaux Jail here today for the murder of John Earl Durham last February during an attempted hold-up.

DRY PAIR HITS HOOVER GROUP

Enforcement Commission Scored in Senate

Democrats Demand Report on Investigation

Want Hearings Conducted Openly for Public

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Curious concerning what President Hoover's Law Enforcement Commission is doing, two Democratic dry leaders served notice in the Senate today that efforts will be made to open its proceedings to the public and to get an early report of some sort.

Senator Harris of Georgia, who sponsored the increased dry fund appropriation, was blocked in an attempt to have the Senate adopt a resolution requesting Mr. Hoover to obtain preliminary report from the commission for use in appropriating next year's enforcement fund.

CONSIDERATION HALTED

A Republican dry leader—Senator Jones of Washington—halted consideration of this resolution. He explained that he did so because he thinks it an extraordinary proceeding for the Senate to be asking the President for such a report.

Senator Glass of Virginia, another Democratic dry, who was the author of the $250,000 provision authorizing the law-enforcement inquiry, said the commission is "shunting aside" the real purpose of Congress for the expenditure of this money—an inquiry into prohibition.

Both Harris and Glass notified the Senate that they will seek to withhold funds for the continuance of the commission unless some manner of report is made and Harris also demanded that the commission hold its hearings in public.

WICKERSHAM SCORED

In the first debate on the commission in the Senate, Harris struck out at Chairman Wickersham, declaring he did not "believe the prohibitionists are going to get any report from this commission to the Congress if the chairman of the commission and some others can prevent it."

"It is the only star chamber commission of which I know and under our form of government I do not think there should be a commission coming within that category," he continued.

"Every enemy of the prohibition law is in favor of this commission staying there just as they are, acting behind closed doors and conducting their deliberations for years. They expect to stay there for four more years and never make a report and it will not do us any good."

A Democratic wet leader, Senator Hawes of Missouri, some time ago demanded that the commission open its hearings to the public and urged that it be required to submit an early report.

REPUBLICANS SILENT

Republicans so far have not disclosed their attitude on the issue but the Harris resolution still is before the Senate and promises to become an issue after the holiday recess.

The Georgia dry predicted today that the commission does not intend to make a report before four years and said he knows of a member of the commission who has been looking for a home in Washington and is prepared to enter a four-year lease.

"Every enemy of the prohibition law, is in favor of this commission staying there just as they are," said Harris, "acting behind closed doors, and conducting their deliberations for years. They expect to stay there for four more years and never make a report and it will not do us any good."

Senator Glass contended the commission has failed to give attention to the main purpose of the Congressional authorization for its existence, investigation of prohibition enforcement, and declared:

INDIFFERENCE CHARGED

"It is the most extraordinary exhibition of indifference to the expressed will of Congress that I ever have known."

"This commission was appointed principally, if not solely," said the Virginian, "for the purpose of inquiring into prohibition but until last week not a member of the commission had read the provision in the appropriation bill authorizing its constitution.

"I am going to insist that before we appropriate another dollar that the commission or the President make some report to Congress on what it proposes to do."

The $250,000 fund for the commission's work was appropriated for the fiscal year ending next June 30 and there was some speculation whether this money may be expended during the next fiscal year without express authority from Congress.

DIRIGIBLE BASE DATA ORDERED

House Asks Full Report of Sites' Investigation

Evans Wants Information on Board's Decision

Regards San Diego's Claim Fully Established

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Considering the report of the General Board of the Navy favoring Camp Kearny as the conclusive and clinching argument in the California dirigible base controversy, Representative Evans of Glendale today asked that the full transcript of the hearings on which the board based its report be transmitted to the House Naval Affairs Committee.

Representative Britten, chairman of the committee, acquiesced in Mr. Evans's request and immediately sent a letter to the Secretary of the Navy asking that the complete record be furnished.

TO QUIZ MEMBERS

In case the minutes of the General Board's hearings are not available Mr. Evans plans to cross-examine each member of the special board which investigated the sites when they appear before the House committee, to bring out the data suggested but not revealed in yesterday's report of the navy's major board.

It was on this report that the Secretary of the Navy overruled the investigating board's report recommending Sunnyvale and recommended Camp Kearny at San Diego as the proper site for the lighter-than-air craft base.

STRONG CASE

Mr. Evans, the only California member on the Naval Affairs Committee, said today "the report of the General Board is far stronger than I had anticipated it would be. To my mind it is the final statement of the case. Parts of section seven of the report leave absolutely no doubt of the Navy's position on this matter and why it has taken this stand.

"I refer particularly to 'strategically, the General Board considers the site at Camp Kearny decidedly superior to the site at Sunnyvale.' The General Board is further of the opinion that close contact and co-operation with the fleet are essential to the efficient development of airships and that these vital requirements can best be met by establishment of the airship base in the Los Angeles-San Diego area."

GIRL SHOT BY BANDIT SUCCUMBS

Death Comes as Officers Take Suspect to Bedside After Killing of Betrothed

OAKLAND, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Death today prevented Miss Mary Munoz, 20 years of age, San Leandro girl, who was about to be married, from identifying a suspect arrested for the fatal shooting of herself and her fiance, Stanley Montero, 22, a carpenter. She died at Highland Hospital, despite blood transfusions, shortly before the suspect, Ernest Dias Ramos, 24, was taken to the hospital after his arrest at the ranch home of his brother.

Montero and Miss Munoz, who were engaged to marry, were stopped on the highway last night by an armed youth who demanded money. When he learned the couple had none, he cursed and shot at Miss Munoz. The bullet lodged in a lung.

Montero, leaping from behind the steering wheel to the aid of his sweetheart, was felled with three bullets, one of which pierced his heart, causing death.

The girl dragged herself six blocks to a highway. There, only half-conscious, she flagged a truck driver.

Chinese Naval Men Head Here

YOKOHAMA, Dec. 20. (AP)—The Chinese naval mission, which is visiting other countries in search of information to help build up the navy of the far eastern republic, sailed for the United States today aboard the liner Asama Maru after having spent six weeks of investigation in Japan.

The mission is headed by Admiral Tu Hai-kuei, former Premier under the Peking regime, who now holds his commission under the Nationalist government. The party expects to visit the principal naval stations in the United States, after which it will proceed to Europe.

JAIL BREAK BALKED IN SOUTH CAROLINA

CHARLESTON (S. C.) Dec. 20. (AP)—A group of prisoners in the Charleston County Jail today made an unsuccessful attempt to overcome their jailer and escape. William J. Bennett, jailer, and his assistant, John A. Gleason, were injured in a clash with the prisoners. Cooks and kitchen helpers, who armed themselves with axes, meat cleavers and other weapons, frustrated the break.

BAY CITY'S HIGHEST PEAK BECOMES PARK

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Mt. Davidson, loftiest of San Francisco's many hills, became a part of the city's park system today when deeds to thirty-two acres were placed in the Mayor's hands and the new park was dedicated with ceremonies honoring "Uncle John" McLaren, venerable park superintendent, whose eighty-fourth birthday was commemorated.

ANCIENT INDIAN POTTERY FOUND BY PASADENAN

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—A large-necked black-and-white prehistoric storage jar, recently uncovered in the Navajo National Monument, Arizona, was pronounced an exceptional find by archeologists here today, due to its large size and fine condition.

The discovery was made by Harold Gladwin and Mrs. Winifred MacCurdy of the Medallion Museum of Pasadena, Cal., who for several years have been establishing "wayside museums" in the Southwest. While working under an archeological permit from the Department of the Interior and under the guidance of John Wetherill, government representative in charge of the Navajo National Monument, they uncovered an unworked sandstone slab, approximately square in shape, and upon further investigation found it to be the cover of the unusually fine jar. Accurately measured as to capacity, it was found to hold eight and one-half gallons, dry measure. When discovered it contained but five kernals of corn.

As there is as yet no museum in the Navajo National Monument, the jar was placed in the museum at Mesa Verde National Park. When museum facilities are available at the monument to insure proper preservation of this extraordinary prehistoric relic and at the same time availability to the public, it will be returned there.

PRESS CURB LAW AGAIN SUSTAINED

Minnesota Court Rules for Suppression Statute in Second Appeal

ST. PAUL, Dec. 20. (AP)—Minnesota's newspaper suppression law was upheld today for the second time, when the State Supreme Court ruled the statute constitutional. The court reaffirmed its first decision on the appeal of the Saturday Press, a Minneapolis publication, from a permanent writ of injunction.

The law, the court decided, does not violate the State's constitutional freedom of the press and does not violate the due process of law guaranty contained in the State and Federal constitutions.

Suppresion of the Saturday Press resulted in the action to test the law, under which one judge sitting as court of equity can suppress a publication.

Action against the publication was taken on grounds that the Saturday Press was a "scandal sheet" in violation of the law.

Appeal first was taken by its publishers from a temporary injunction and the Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of the law.

The present appeal, the second, on which the second decision was handed down today, was taken when the injunction was made permanent.

Chicago attorneys, representing the Civil Liberties League, which became interested in the case, argued on behalf of the Saturday Press, attacking the constitutionality of the act.

APPROVAL FOR PRISON MEASURES

House Committee Acts on Legislation in Program of Justice Department

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—The House Judiciary Committee today approved proposed legislation to carry out the Justice Department's program for expansion and reorganization of the Federal penal system.

The program will call for an outlay of approximately $7,000,000 to be spread over a period of five years.

Construction of a penitentiary in the Northeastern States for long-term prisoners and an industrial reformatory for west of the Mississippi River, as provided in the Snell bill, was approved.

The committee ordered reported the Graham bill to provide for the reorganization of the administration of the Federal prisons, to authorize the Attorney-General to contract for care of prisoners and to establish Federal jails.

FIVE-DAY WEEK TO BE TRIED OUT IN BAY CITY

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—The Builders' Exchange voted today to put the five-day week in effect January 1 for building workers because of temporary slackness and contributory causes. It was said the action is in the nature of a test and does not apply to shops, factories and business houses, because "it is not practical or right" to include them in the program on account of "their heavy carrying charges and overhead." The same wage scale will apply as is paid now, the week now consisting of five and one-half working days.

TURKEYS CHEAP AS FRANKFURTER

VAN NUYS, Dec. 20.—The Christmas turkey in the Van Nuys district is going to be as cheap as was the turkey served last Thanksgiving. They are still selling on foot between 30 and 35 cents a pound, and there are apparently plenty of them left on the ranches in various parts of San Fernando Valley.

Local butchers say that most everybody will serve Christmas turkey, for the reason that good beef is selling at 40 and 45 cents; frankfurters at 35 cents, stew meat at 35 cents and frying-size chicken at 40 and 45 cents. In other words, turkeys now are about the cheapest meat being sold here.

TYRONE POWER QUITS SHAKESPEARE GROUP

CHICAGO, Dec. 19. (AP)—Tyrone Power's name no longer will head the dramatis personal of the Chicago Shakespearean Company. The veteran actor, who has been appearing in the leading roles of Fritz Leiber's company since the new Civic Shakespearean Theater opened in the new operahouse six weeks ago, said today he has resigned from the cast because of a "dearth of opportunities."

STUDENTS OPPOSE TRAINING

DENVER, Dec. 20. (AP)—Leaders of an antimilitarist movement at the University of Denver today announced they will oppose any attempt to introduce military training into the institution's curriculum and will place the question before the student body for a vote.

FRUIT AND TRUCK MEN MAY MERGE

Farm Board Issues Call for Conference to Study National Co-operation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—The Federal Farm Board today called upon the nation's fruit and vegetable industries to meet with it in Washington on January 14, next, to discuss "the creating of national co-operative sales organizations."

The board's letter of invitation said the conference would decide "how to proceed in making effective to the fruit and vegetable industries of the United States the benefit of the Agricultural Marketing Act," and added that the creation of co-operative sales organizations for at least three groups—apples, potatoes and deciduous fruits other than apples—seemed the best method.

The letter said an attempt will be made to get the combined judgment of these groups on the following:

Whether or not it is advisable to attempt an organization of two or more of these groups into a national sales organization.

Whether it is advisable to organize these groups separately by commodities into national co-operative sales organizations.

Whether some plan of production loans may be worked out that will enable co-operatives to obtain a larger percentage of commodities which now are controlled through production financing.

To discuss the problem of making more effective by-product avenues for removing surpluses from the fresh fruit or vegetable market.

ROSS OUT BUT RECORD UNEXPUNGED

State Civil Service Accepts Resignation of Director Without Strings

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 20. (AP)—In accepting today the unconditional resignation of L. E. Ross, suspended chief of the State Bureau of Vital Statistics, the Civil Service Commission terminated the action brought against him when Dr. Walter M. Dickie, director of the Department of Public Health, filed charges accusing him of incompetency, inefficiency and dishonesty.

A hearing was conducted at the Capitol this afternoon before W. A. Johnstone, executive member of the Civil Service Commission, with Dep. Atty.-Gen. Hession, who drew the complaint for Dr. Dickie, handling the prosecution, and Attorney Prior of Sacramento representing the defendant.

After hearing arguments on Prior's motion that the case be dismissed Johnstone and Hession agreed to this action with the understanding that the charges against Ross should stand on the commission's books.

Ross previously stated that he had resigned with the understanding that the charges would be dismissed. But the resignation accepted today had no strings tied to it. Trial action was avoided but the charges were not dismissed.

Included in the charges against Ross were accusations that he headed a fictitious company through which medium he sold State birth and death records, keeping the monetary gains for himself.

Park Hospital to Open Soon

YOSEMITE, Dec. 20. (Exclusive) Dr. Hartley G. Dewey, with his wife and three children, of Warwick, N. Y., arrived here today to take the position of director of the new $50,000 Yosemite government hospital built under the supervision of Supt. C. G. Thomson.

The hospital will be opened shortly, giving Yosemite one of the finest hospitals in the State.

WEBB ASKED TO RULE ON PAROLING FORGER

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Atty.-Gen. Webb was asked today for a ruling on the right of Mrs. Evelyn Rosencrantz, convicted forger, to a parole from San Quentin penitentiary. Mrs. Rosencrantz is serving one to fourteen years now, but, according to the prison board, she has previously been convicted of felonies three times. Under the State law "four-time losers" are given life terms without parole, but Mrs. Rosencrants contends that no judge ever has condemned her to a life sentence and that the prison board is without authority to do so.

RESERVE OFFICERS ELECT

ONTARIO, Dec. 20.—At a meeting of the San Bernardino chapter, Reserve Officers' Association, at Hotel Ontario last night, Col. Elias Allen of San Bernardino was elected president, succeeding Maj. Gordon Fernald, also of San Bernardino. The officers voted to hold the January meeting at Fontana.

TEAGUE TALKS TO CITRUS MEN

Growers Told to Co-operate by Californian

State Organizations Refuse to Work Together

Labors of Farm Board Made Futile by Jealousy

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—The marketing of California citrus fruits and all other products of the orchard and farm would be greatly facilitated to the financial gain of the producers if co-operative organizations presented a united front, C. C. Teague of Santa Paula, member of the Federal Farm Board, declared in an address today before the fruit growers' and farmers' convention.

Teague said the Farm Board has advanced $3,000,000 to the citrus growers of Florida, who are willing to co-operate on terms prescribed by the board. However, he declared that an attempt to bring together the two principal distributors of California oranges and lemons had met with failure.

"In California," said Teague, "there are two large co-operative units in citrus fruits; one the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, controlling about 75 per cent of the product, and the other the Mutual Orange Distributors, controlling from 8 to 10 per cent. Both of these organizations are composed of growers with the same object in view, namely, the marketing of their products at satisfactory prices.

"It is the opinion of many students of the marketing situation of California citrus fruits that a much better distribution could be had and a more satisfactory market, particularly in Valencia oranges, could be expected if the two co-operatives could be united in one strong industry program.

MUTUAL BALKS

"With this in view the Farm Board issued an invitation to these co-operatives to appoint committees to meet with a representative of the Farm Board to discuss the possibility of a consolidation. The California Fruit Growers' Exchange wired that it would accept the invitation and appoint the committee. The Mutual Orange Distributors declined to do so."

Discussing the problems of farmer-owned and farmer-controlled co-operatives, Teague said:

"Inasmuch as the primary purpose of the Agricultural Marketing Act is the stabilization of markets and the preventing and controlling of surpluses through development of national co-operative organization, we might consider some of the problems of developing a farmer-owned and controlled co-operative.

"First, there is the problem of getting a percentage of control of the product that can effectively supervise its flow to market and the distribution of the product in the market. This is the first and most important object to be attained.

"Without this control little can be accomplished toward the stabilization of markets. True, it is possible, sometimes, through even a small percentage of control, to perform many important services to producers and reduce the cost of selling, but unless a large percentage of control is secured the main benefits of co-operative marketing will not be had.

PICK SOUND LEADERS

"One of the difficulties in the past has been sound leadership. It is to be hoped that the board may be of some assistance in helping co-operatives, as they are created, find the right type of men who can properly manage them. The board expects, at least as long as it is advancing money to co-operatives, to examine the operation of these co-operatives and be of such assistance as it can in seeing that sound policies are adopted.

"The past experience of co-operatives has demonstrated that a vast amount of educational work is necessary to convince agricultural producers of the necessity of collective action in the sale of their products. Many co-operatives have failed through the lack of obtaining a percentage of control large enough to place the co-operative in position to do effective merchandising and to permit the spreading of the cost of operation over a large volume and thus secure a low cost.

UPHILL WORK

"In the past nearly all of this educational work has had to be performed by the co-operatives themselves, which has been uphill work against the continual misinformation that is broadcast among the producers by agencies that are opposed to co-operation.

"With the passage of the Agricultural Marketing Act it is believed that there is to be a new era in this regard. We now have behind the movement the active support of the Federal Farm Board, with a large appropriation which can be used to help bring these producers together in co-operative marketing organizations."

In referring to the economic condition of agriculture, Teague said:

"Let us look for a moment at the economic and social importance of this movement to the people of the United States. It is generally conceded that agriculture has not been getting its fair share of the nation's prosperity. Much distress has resulted which has been building up a great unrest and dissatisfaction among an important part of the American public.

TIME FOR ACTION

"When this situation prevails with any considerable portion of the American people it is time the American people as a whole should give earnest thought to the conditions creating this feeling. The present legislation is reasonable and I believe sound and when the people generally come to understand its aims and purposes they will feel that they should get behind it and give it a fair trial. Should this not be done and this unrest grow and develop we might be confronted with radical legislation that would be much less satisfactory to many of our people than the present bill."

Indicating that despite criticism of the United States Chamber of Commerce or other interests opposing in full or in part the board's policy of attempting equalization of farming on a basis of approximate equality with industry, Teague said:

"Undoubtedly the Federal Farm Board has a period ahead of it of most severe criticism. It is impossible to set up any agency for assistance to the farmer that will not interfere with some established business, particularly at the point of production. Wherever this is done there is going to be loud complaint; the board is going to be attacked as socialistic and paternalistic and without doubt many efforts will be made to discredit the activities of the board.

"Personally I have great confidence in the soundness of judgment of the American people and I believe that as time goes on the public and the farmers will more and more be behind what the board is trying to do to place the agriculture of the country more nearly on a basis of equality with industry."

HOUSE GIVES SUPPLY BILL QUICK VOTE

Agriculture Department's $153,284,000 Measure to Get Senate Action Later

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—The annual supply bill of the Agriculture Department, carrying three amendments, which increased its total to $153,284,000, was passed by the House today without a record vote.

The measure was sent to the Senate, where it will be acted on after the Christmas holidays.

The three amendments provided $15,000 for three game wardens to protect fur-bearing animals in Alaska, $10,000 for study of cranberry diseases and $4210 to control the peach moth in Tennessee.

With the amendments, the measure was about $9,000,000 in excess of the appropriations for last year and was below the budget estimates by nearly $200,000.

The measure carried $3,708,800 for plant quarantine and control, an increase of more than $1,000,000 for this work to combat fruit and vegetable insects.

The Weather Bureau will receive $4,058,600, an increase over last year of $535,200, to permit the establishment of forecast service for air lines in the middle and far-western and southwestern States.

PERENNIAL MAYOR'S EYE ON CAPITOL

J. J. Rolph of Bay City Expected to Throw Hat Into Gubernatorial Ring

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—James J. Rolph, San Francisco's perennial Mayor, is itching to get into the 1930 gubernatorial race and is likely to announce his intention within the next several days.

In 1918 when Rolph was a candidate against Gov. Stephens the San Francisco Mayor polled 146,990 votes to 168,942 for Stephens. Rolph carried Alameda, Amador, Contra Costa, Humboldt, Marin, Napa, Nevada, Placer, Sacramento, San Benito, San Francisco, Solano, Sonoma, San Joaquin, San Luis Obispo, San Mateo and Yuba counties. In Monterey county Rolph and Stephens tied.

Rolph won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, but under the ruling of the courts in interpreting the California direct primary law was disqualified because of his failure to win the nomination of his own party.

Mexico to Have 399 Generals in Army Next Year

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 20. (AP)—There will be 399 generals and 580 orderlies in the Mexican army next year, War Department figures given out today indicated. Reduction of 3000 men, leaving the standing army including officers and air force at 57,658 was announced.

The infantry will contain 3000 officers and 23,200 enlisted men; the cavalry 4409 officers and 23,800 enlisted; the artillery 83 officers, 55 engineers, and 1362 enlisted men, and the Air Corps 91 pilots, 165 mechanics and 164 enlisted men.

The Mexican navy will be composed of 300 officers and 838 enlisted men, and the total War Department budget for both army and navy will be only 79,000,000 pesos, or approximately half that many United States dollars.

SHIPPING-BOARD RULE ON RATES SUSPENDED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—The Shipping Board today suspended its recent order declaring that it is illegal for intercoastal lines to give full carload rates on shipments which are to be divided among two or more consignees, in order to permit filing of briefs by interested parties.

The split-delivery shipping cases were decided against intercoastal shipping carriers on the 4th inst. Complaint was filed against them by the Associated Jobbers and manufacturers of Los Angeles, with supporting petitions by the chambers of commerce of San Francisco, Seattle, Tacoma and other cities. Two of the shipping companies involved have asked for a rehearing.

YOUNG APPOINTS EDUCATION BODY

Mrs. Dorsey Named Head of State Commission

Los Angeles County Only One Getting Two

Group Will Study Problems in California

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 20.—Gov. Young today announced the appointment of nine members of the lay commission that will study the problems of public education in California. The commission was authorized by the 1929 Legislature.

The personnel of the commission follows:

Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, Los Angeles, chairman; Arthur J. Brown, San Bernardino, publisher of the San Bernardino Telegram; Marshall De Motte, of Corning; Samuel Leask, Santa Cruz business man; James W. Mullen of San Francisco, publisher of the Labor Clarion; Mrs. Maynard F. Thayer of Pasadena; Mrs. Frederic C. Turner of Berkeley; Mrs. Julius Wangenhein of San Diego, and Mrs. J. C. Whitman of San Mateo.

ALL STATE REPRESENTED

"As will be noted," said the Governor in a statement, "this commission is so chosen as to be fully representative of all sections of the State, its nine members having been selected from no less than eight counties, Los Angeles county being the only county to procure two members.

"It is a commission which will enter upon its study of California's school system with no preconceived ideas but only with a strong desire to insure that the schools of California shall render to our citizens and taxpayers a service that will be recognized as a chief asset of the State."

DELAY EXPLAINED

Gov. Young said he had delayed the appointment of the commission to consider the tentative offer of one of the large educational foundations in the East to match the State appropriation for the survey, provided that it be given nationwide significance.

"I have delayed announcing the commission," said the Governor, "until I could be satisfied that there was no chance of procuring this desired participation from the East. This now is practically certain, particularly in view of a Federal education survey."

Welfare Board Members Named

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Mrs. Parker Maddux of San Francisco, George Durand of Oakland, and W. R. Kilgore of Los Angeles were appointed members of the State Industrial Welfare Commission by Gov. Young today. Mrs. Katherine Phillips Edson, Los Angeles, who has been executive commissioner of the body for several years, was reappointed. A. B. C. Dohrmann, San Francisco, is the holdover member.

GOOD-WILL CRUISE ENDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (AP)—The steamer Malolo returned today with a party of 325 from a 22,500-mile good-will cruise of the Pacific sponsored by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. The ship left here September 21 and visited fourteen countries.

JAPANESE SAIL FOR PARLEY

Mission Head at New York Luncheon Says London Naval Conference Cannot Fail

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—The Japanese delegates to the forthcoming naval disarmament conference at London sailed tonight aboard the liner Olympic. The delegation, headed by Reijiro Wakatsuki, former Premier, and Admiral Takeshi Takarabe, arrived here last night from Washington.

No formal statement was issued on behalf of the delegation before sailing. The party, which numbers thirty-eight in all, spent a busy day. At noon they were guests of S. Swada, Japanese Consul-General stationed in New York, they spent the afternoon sight-seeing and this evening they attended a dinner given in their honor by Japanese residents of the city.

At the luncheon they were welcomed by Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co., who spoke on behalf of the American guests present.

Mr. Wakatsuki, also a speaker at the luncheon, said that the disarmament conference has little chance to fail, and that Japan is ready to "exert her best efforts" for its success.

ITALY HOLDS OUT FOR PARITY WITH FRANCE

ROME, Dec. 20. (AP)—The latest Italian reply to France in their interchange of conversations preliminary to the London naval disarmament conference, is understood to repeat the Italian contention for parity with France.

It suggests that an agreement on disarmament may be aided by a political agreement such as a Franco-Italian pact on nonaggression or treaty of friendship and arbitration, which has been under discussion for several months. The Italian Foreign Ministry declared itself willing and ready to discuss any agreement of such a nature.

FRENCH FIX POLICIES FOR LONDON CONFERENCE

PARIS, Dec. 20. (AP)—The motto of France at the London five-power naval conference will be "arbitration, security, and then disarmament," Georges Leygues, Minister of Marine, told Parliament today.

He said the French delegation will go to London in January resolved to insure for France defensive means adequate to its security. This statement brought strong applause from all parties.

One of his most significant statements was that "we will defend total tonnage against tonnages by categories" in determining the relative strength of the fleets of the powers. At another point he repeated the French viewpoint that "London can only be a preparatory conference destined to facilitate the task of the Geneva general disarmament conference."

CONSUL TRIP OPPOSITION TOLD TOKIO

Russia Lets Japanese Know It Disapproves Hunt in War-Torn Area

TOKIO, Dec. 21. (AP)—Disapproval by the Russian government of the visit of an international train to war-torn Northwestern Manchuria was intimated officially to the Japanese Embassy at Moscow, official dispatches here stated today.

Meanwhile, the train, bearing consuls of several nations who are desirous of learning the condition of their nationals in the war area, remains at Buchatu. Consuls at Harbin and Mukden are attempting to overcome Chinese objections to investigators proceeding to the scene of the recent Russian invasion west of the Khingan Mountains.

In reply to recent notes from the Japanese Ambassador at Moscow, the soviet government today indicated its willingness to investigate and indemnify Japan if it is proved that Russians were responsible for deaths of Japanese at Manchuli early this week.

MEXICAN IN NOVEL GAME TAGGED "IT"

Leaving Trail of Small Articles from Pool Hall Behind Him Disastrous

WASCO, Dec. 20.—Probably Jesus Arriola when he was a little boy never played "run, sheep, run," or "hare and hounds" over the cacti-studded dunes of his native Mexico, but he knows all about the game. A local constable taught him. Jesus, resident of Kern county and the United States only two months, is said to have thrown a rock through a window of Pete's pool hall in South Wasco, crawled through the hole and plundered the stock of cigars, cigarettes and other tobaccos, chewing gum and candy.

Outside the hole in the window the constable found a package of cigarettes, a little farther on was a cigar, then some candy and gum, marking a trail from the tell-tale hole in the window to another hole in a field near here. In the latter hole the officer found cached not only most of the missing goods, but a lot of other things, including a pair of socks that Arriola is said to have displayed in the pool hall earlier in the evening.

Arriola, when arrested, identified the goods and the other things as his. He insisted he bought them and denied the burglary. He is in the care of Sheriff Walser.

Jury Finds Aged Man Married to Girl Competent

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Because he married a pretty young woman and proceeds to spend his money for luxuries in an effort to make her happy, a 76-year-old man is not mentally incompetent, a jury ruled today. The verdict precipitated a fist fight between the young wife and the man's four children who asked for appointment of a conservator for his estate.

The man is Patrick Foley, retired furniture dealer. His wife is Mrs. Leontine Gerard Gilbert Foley, 26 years of age. They were married three days after she was granted an annulment of her marriage to Joseph Gilbert.

LUNCH-ROOM MEN TO BUILD

HANFORD, Dec. 20. — Today's building permits issued by Fire Marshal S. D. Logan included one issued to Allen Bros., lunch-room owners, who will erect a substantial building for their business across from the County Courthouse Park on Douty street. Approximately $3000 will be involved.

BLACK RAPS HEFLIN FOES IN OUSTING

Alabama Democrat Says Party's Actions Violate State Election Code

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—The legality of the decision of the Alabama State Democratic Committee to bar from the next party primary candidates who failed to support the national ticket last year was challenged today by Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama.

The decision would exclude Senator Heflin of Alabama from running for renomination on the Democratic ticket when he comes up for re-election next year, but Senator Black, in a formal statement, made no reference to his colleague.

While questioning the legality of the committee action, Black said the "courts should not be called upon to settle a question upon which there can be no reasonable grounds for disagreement."

Sonora, Mexico, Governor Guest at Phoenix Fete

PHOENIX, Dec. 20. (AP)—Gov. Elias of Sonora, Mex., who has been guest of Gov. Phillips of Arizona for several days, left here by train tonight for Yuma, where he will cross the border into Mexico.

The southern republic executive was honor guest at impressive ceremonies at the State Capitol upon his arrival here when a guard of honor from the Arizona militia was inspected.

A reception followed in Gov. Phillips's office during which several hundred citizens as well as a large number of natives of Sonora paid their respects to the noted visitor.

At noon today Gov. Elias and his party were guests at a luncheon, where he spoke briefly after being introduced by Gov. Phillips.

Scotland Yard Holds Suspect for Bakersfield

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 20.—Scotland Yard, world-famed nemesis of criminals in England, has ended a two-year search for a local forgery suspect, E. J. Jocken, alias E. J. Jochen. Word that the English authorities are holding him for local officers was received by Sheriff Cas Walser, but it is unlikely that anyone will be sent from here to return him, the Sheriff said.

It is understood Jocken was arrested for embezzlement in England and local authorities will allow the courts of that country to take their course. A forgery warrant against the prisoner also is on file in Los Angeles county, it is reported, but that county also has waived its right to return the fugitive to California.

DANCING PAVILION BOUGHT BY BENDSEN

PORTERVILLE, Dec. 20.—For approximately $30,000, L. Bendsen of Santa Monica has purchased the Green Mill dancing pavilion here from Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Holden of this city. The new owner will take possession January 1. Bendsen is said to own a part interest in the El Patio Ballroom in Los Angeles. He is expected to bring his family here to reside.

NOT TO KISS WIFE VIEWED AS "NEGATIVE CRUELTY"

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Judge Sabath, who has heard 45,000 divorce cases in his more than twenty years on the bench, today expressed the opinion that a man who won't kiss his wife is guilty of "negative cruelty," more deadly than occasional physical pain inflicted in anger, and deserves to lose his helpmate.

He voiced this viewpoint following the issuance of a decree of divorce to Mrs. Mary Kenyon from Fred Kenyon on the ground he kissed her only once in seven years.

"Most women would rather take an occasional beating than to bear the exquisite cruelty of being constantly and continually ignored," said Judge Sabath.

"You'll often find that men who don't praise or kiss their wives are praising or kissing some other woman.

"That means they're getting their companionship somewhere else and that the marriage has started to go on the rocks."

FRENCH SENATE BACKS TARDIEU

His Government Gets Heavy Majority After Debate

Division Was on Locarno Policy and Young Plan

Abolition of Submarines Not Mentioned

PARIS, Dec. 20. (AP)—The Senate tonight voted confidence in the government of Premier Andre Tardieu after Foreign Minister Aristide Briand and former President Alexander Millerand had enlivened the proceedings of that generally staid body with an exchange of courteous oratory. The vote was 253, against 2, with fifty Senators abstaining.

BRIAND DEFENDS POLICIES

When M. Millerand expressed doubts of the efficaciousness of the Locarno policy of Briand and challenged the Young plan for reparations, he was met with the retort by the Foreign Minister that "France will go to The Hague with the firm hope to have the Young plan adopted, thanks to the complete accord between the Allies and Germany. At neither The Hague nor at London will questions of the security of peace and reparations be opposed one to the other."

Millerand had charged "your Locarno policy will transform Great Britain and Italy from contracting parties to the treaty into judges."

SARCASM IN REPLY

Briand retorted: "Other men who have negotiated direct with Germany did not return with hands full." He referred to the negotiations conducted by Millerand at Spa.

The Minister was completely silent on the question of abolition of submarines and so it was assumed he is in tacit agreement with the statement yesterday in the chamber of Jacques Louis Dumesnil, budget reporter for the navy, who said that Parliament would not accept even in principle the abolition of submarines as a weapon of national defense. He also said that "France must retain the complete right at the naval conference to fix the limits of its cruisers and submarines."

NOT-GUILTY PLEA MADE BY ACCUSED

Postal Employee Charged With Manslaughter Breaks Long Silence in Court

FRESNO, Dec. 20.—James A. Reid, postal employee accused of manslaughter and failure to stop and render aid in connection with the death of Clarence T. Linstrum here, today broke a silence of a month's duration to voice the words "not guilty" when he was arraigned before Superior Judge Beaumont.

Although he has appeared in court on five occasions since his arrest on the day following the fatal accident, Reid has never uttered a word, allowing his attorney to do all the talking. His appearance in court today was brief and his utterances more so, his reply to the court's query concerning his guilt being his only words.

No date for his trial was set by Judge Beaumont owing to the pendency of a writ of habeas corpus in the District Court of Appeal, through which Reid is seeking his liberty. Application for the writ is based upon the contention that during his preliminary hearing no probable cause was shown to justify the Justice Court in holding him to answer in Superior Court. The application to the appeal tribunal was filed after a similar application was denied in the Superior Court.

Building Funds Loans Curbed by Webb Ruling

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Atty.-Gen. Webb in an opinion returned here today held that funds of building and loan associations may not be loaned directly or indirectly to any of the directors or officers regardless of the security.

The opinion was given to Charles A. Whitmore, commissioner of the division of building and loan supervision, Los Angeles, who said some of the building and loan associations make a practice of loaning on their shares of stock and investment securities up to 90 per cent of their withdrawal value, regardless of whether or not the holder may be a director or officer of the association. Whitmore stated the associations contend it will work hardship upon them if not permitted to make loans upon shares and certificates when owned by officers and directors.

Cotton Blooms at Christmas

PORTERVILLE, Dec. 20.—Ripe cotton at Christmas is exceptional but the genuine article is in blossom, with green leaves on stalks five feet tall, large green bolls and new sprouts sticking through the snowy fluff, on a number of ranches between this city and Delano.

No water has been given this cotton since late in September. The new growth is the result of the late warm fall season without sufficient frost to damage.

IRRIGATION GOES ON PORTERVILLE AREA

SPRINGVILLE, Dec. 20.—Irrigation is being continued in this district throughout the fall months in orchards and pasture lands. Considerable water is being kept in the main irrigation channel at all times. Irrigable pasture lands have not suffered, as continued warm days have induced a steady growth of green feed. Horses from other sections are being pastured in this vicinity, where pasture lands are available.

EMILE LOUBET OF FRANCE DIES

Former President Expires at 91 Years of Age

Statesman Who Negotiated Entente Passes On

Pardon of Dreyfus Another Milestone of Regime

MONTELIMAR (France) Dec. 20. (AP)—Emile Loubet, former President of France, died at 9:35 p.m., today. He was 91 years of age.

M. Loubet was President of France during a period when the Entente Cordiale between France and Great Britain was negotiated. What appeared in 1904 to be merely a settlement of long-standing disputes of minor importance between France and England blossomed into that powerful aggregation of nations which the world afterward designated as the Entente. It aligned France, Russia and England in a friendly understanding that held them together at the beginning of the great world conflict, ten years later, as no "scrap of paper" could hold Germany.

LITTLE ENTENTE, TOO

The foundation of the friendly understanding between France and Italy, too, was laid during the regime of President Loubet. When this Latin agreement was reached Theophile Delcasse, the French Foreign Minister, told the French Parliament that Italy would never be used as an instrument of aggression against France; and when the great war began his prophecy was fulfilled. Italy broke away from the Triple Alliance and threw her fortunes with the Entente.

Other events of great importance to France transpired during Loubet's term as President from 1899 to 1906. Coming into office suddenly he faced the turmoil over the trial and conviction of Capt. Dreyfus and left the office when France was in the throes of the political upheaval over the separation of the church and state. As official head of the French government Loubet had little actual power but his influence was exerted at least in the case of Capt. Dreyfus, whom he pardoned after the trial court had convicted the officer.

DARK-HORSE WIN

Born December 31, 1838, he studied law, was admitted to practice and in 1870 began his political career. When President Faure died unexpectedly in 1899 Georges Clemenceau picked Loubet as his candidate for the Presidency at the eleventh hour, and Loubet's election was assured. He made no brilliant record as President but when he left office, France was on friendly terms with all the world except Germany. His ministers brought this about and Loubet sustained them.

ILLNESS CAUSE OF YULE PARTY DELAY

PORTERVILLE, Dec. 20.—Owing to sickness among children of the community, the annual Christmas party given by local Elks has been canceled. However, not wishing to disappoint the childish hearts too much, the bags of candy and fruits ordered by the Elks for their small guests were distributed at the close of school today. Later in the season the Elks will entertain their little friends with a matinee party as usual, according to George C. Murphy, secretary of the lodge.

STONE THREATENS EYESIGHT

THREE RIVERS, Dec. 20.—Willard Tarbell, 12-year-old son of Mrs. Maude Tarbell, principal of the Three Rivers Union School, received a serious injury to his eye while playing with other boys. The lads were throwing stones and one struck young Tarbell in the eye. At first it was believed the boy's eyeball was punctured but it is now thought the child will recover his sight.

LION AND BEAR FRIENDLY AGAIN

Britain and Soviets Resume Full Relations

New Red Envoy Has Rank of Ambassador

Prince of Wales Represents King at Ceremony

LONDON, Dec. 20. (AP) — Soviet Russia and Great Britain today formally resumed full diplomatic relations in London. The Prince of Wales, acting for King George, received K. Sokolnikov, the first Ambassador of the Communist regime to come to England, and accepted his letters of credence.

The Prince, wearing the full-dress uniform of a colonel of the Welsh Guards, received M. Sokolnikov and his staff in the audience chamber of St. James Palace, which will be used by the five-power naval conference in January. The Russians were in diplomatic uniform.

ESCORT CLAD IN SCARLET

M. Sokolnikov, who is the successor of Leonid Krassin and Christian Rakovsky, but has the rank of Ambassador instead of Charge d'Affaires, drove to the palace with the Embassy staff, who occupied two British state carriages, from the Royal Mews. The carriages were driven by scarlet-cloaked coachmen and accompanied by outriders, also in scarlet.

A detachment of horse guards, magnificent in scarlet uniforms, plumed helmets and shining breast plates, rode behind the Russians.

Ten minutes after the ceremony the Russians returned to their carriages and drove to the hotel where they are staying temporarily. The Prince of Wales shook hands with the diplomats before their departure.

NOTES EXCHANGED

After changing into civilian dress, Ambassador Sokolnikov went to the Foreign Office to see Foreign Secretary Henderson. They exchanged notes giving assurance regarding propaganda, as provided in the agreement signed at Lewis several months ago.

It was understood the chief notes provided undertakings between the United Kingdom and the Soviet Union, and supplementary notes dealt with the dominions.

"I AM SPEAKING FOR 165,000 OPERATORS"

"I AM one of 165,000 telephone operators in the Bell System.

"May we ask a favor? Won't you please telephone your Christmas greetings early—early in the day and early in the holiday season?

"Last year so many people sent their greetings over the wires at the last moment—to some distant places 30 times the usual number—that we could not get all of them through with the quickness that gives them a true Christmas flavor.

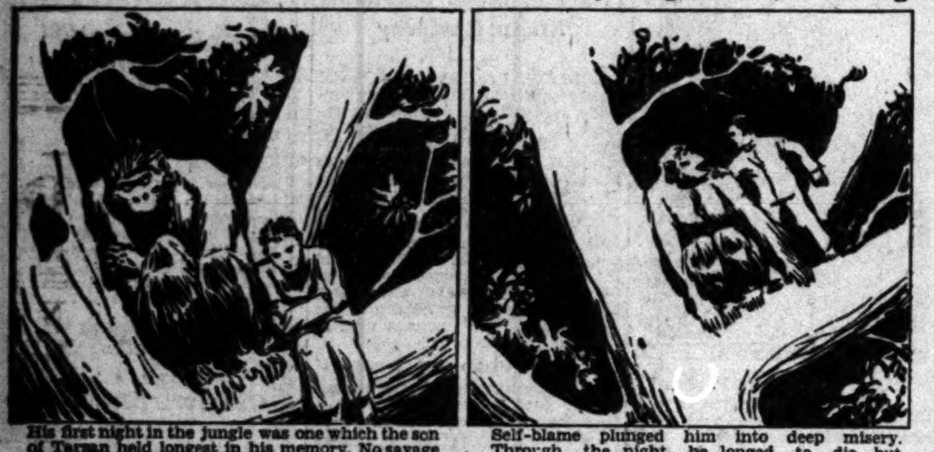
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

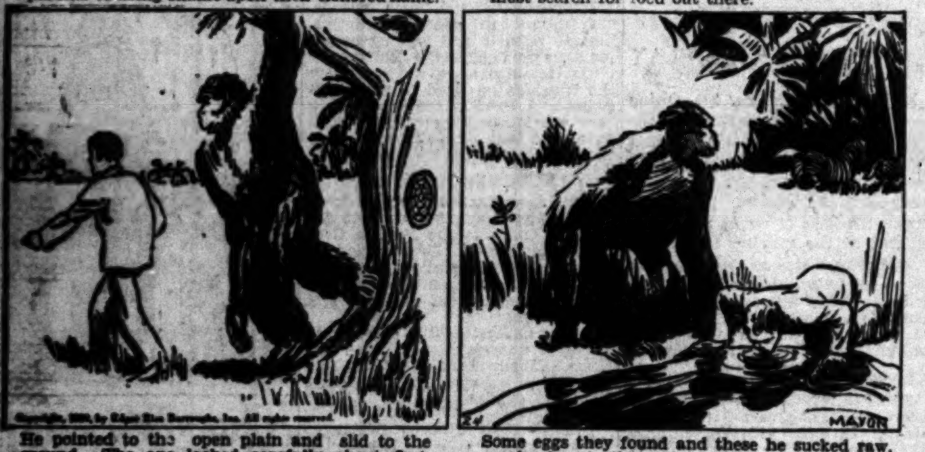
THE SON OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



His first night in the jungle was one which the son of Tarzan held longest in his memory. No savage beasts menaced him; there was no sign of hideous barbarians. But crouched close to the great ape in the crotch of the tree, the boy shivered through a sleepless night. Fear had thrust him into the jungle, a fugitive, and because of the murder by the ape he thought he could never return to his parents to bring shame upon their honored name.

Self-blame plunged him into deep misery. Through the night he longed to die, but with the rising sun his spirits rose. He would return to civilization by another way, avoiding the little trading place where even now the body of the stranger so mysteriously slain was being discovered. He shook Akut into wakefulness. "Come," he said, "I am cold and hungry. We must search for food out there."



Copyright, 1929, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

He pointed to the open plain and slid to the ground. The ape looked carefully about first, sniffing the morning air. Then, satisfied that no danger lurked near, he descended slowly to the boy's side. "Numa and Sabor, his mate, feast upon those who descend first and look afterward," said the old ape, giving the son of Tarzan his first lesson in jungle lore. Side by side they set off across the rough plain running until the boy was warm.

Some eggs they found and these he sucked raw, as also he ate the roots and tubers which Akut unearthed. The ape contented himself with some rodents and worms he dug up. Beyond the plain across a low bluff they found a shallow water hole. A herd of zebra galloped away as they approached to drink. Akut now took the lead, the boy following close upon his heels, his every sense alert, his nerves keyed to a high pitch of excitement. This was life!

Trojans Frisky in First Pitt Drill

VAN COURT TAUGHT JEFFRIES---JEFF TEACHES NEW FIND

Maybe you're looking at a future heavyweight champion of the world. His name is Al Morro and he's standing between James J. Jeffries, former champion (left) and De Witt Van Court, famous boxing instructor who started Jeff on the fistic trail many, many years ago. Jeff has had Morro in secret training on his Burbank farm for several months. Yesterday Van Court, who for years has been connected with the Los Angeles Athletic Club, traveled to Burbank to take a look at the youngster. "He's a good-looking prospect" was Van's only comment. Morro will make his first official appearance at Hollywood next Friday night. He makes his debut in a main event. [P. & A. photo]

Trojan Mentor Absent Due to Heavy Cold

Plans to Rejoin His Squad This Morning

Jess Hill Ready for Action Against Pitt

TUCSON (Ariz.) Dec. 20. (AP)—University of Arizona will be unable to play Southern California on the gridiron November 1, 1930, A. L. Slonaker, Arizona graduate manager, announced tonight. A previous date with an opponent which Slonaker refused to disclose made acceptance of the S.C. game on that date impossible. Another day has been asked for, Slonaker said.

BY BRAVEN DYER

Displaying more pepper than a flock of young colts at play the Trojans of Southern California resumed practice yesterday morning for their New Year's Day struggle with Pittsburgh. Troy's athletes have been inactive since their 45-to-13 victory over Carnegie Tech a week ago.

CLARK GALLOWAY

Howard Jones was unable to attend the work out, being laid up with a heavy cold, but declared yesterday he intends to be back on the job this morning. In his absence Bill Hunter took charge, assisted by Clif Herd and Aubrey Devine. The Trojans were bubbling over with enthusiasm following their short layoff and appeared fit and ready to lick their weight in Panthers, Wildcats or what have you.

ONLY LIGHT WORK

Nothing but light work was in order, signal practice, dummy drill against the second team and a short passing and kicking program rounding out the morning's schedule.

Frank Anthony, tackle, was the only regular missing. He is ill at his home, but expects to be ready by next week. George (Dinkus) Templeton attended practice in his civilian clothes, being temporarily incapacitated by an infected hoof.

Bad Bill Seitz, the 210-pound behemoth, took Anthony's place at tackle. Otherwise, the team was the same as that started against Carnegie Tech, Tappaan, Arbelbide, Hoff, Barragar, Galloway and Dye being on the line, with Saun-

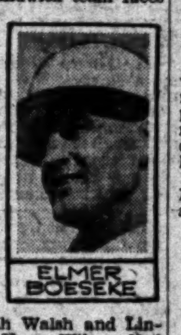
SAN MATEO TAKES ON MIDWICK

Rival Polo Squads to Clash at Alhambra Field Tomorrow

Southern California's winter polo season gets under way tomorrow when a picked Midwick team faces San Mateo in a game at the Alhambra club's field. Both squads will rate about 15 or 16 goals, indicating that the contest will be up to Midwick's usual good exhibitions.



ELMER BOESEKE

Elmer Boeseke and Howland Paddock, both well known locally, will play with the San Mateo team, aided by Kenneth Walsh and Linsey Howard. Dr. Harry Wilson, Neil McCarthy, Gordon Cronkhite and Eric Pedley will make up the local quartet.

A shipment of fifty ponies from the Argentine was unloaded yesterday at Los Angeles Harbor, Carleton Burke, veteran polo player, announced yesterday. The new mounts will be used in the Pacific Coast high-goal championships.

Title Fight Looks Suspicious to Chairman Farley

Contest Displays Amazing Reversal of Form

Coast Boy Has Things His Own Way; Suddenly Flops

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Chairman James A. Farley of the New York State Athletic Commission tonight ordered the purses of both fighters withheld after Benny Bass of Philadelphia, knocked out Tod Morgan of Seattle, in two rounds to become the junior lightweight champion of the world.

DENNY BASS.

Farley said that a rigid investigation of the match would be conducted by the commission and in the meantime the purses of both fighters would be retained by the fight club. He indicated his belief that the match had not been fought on its merits. He summoned both Morgan and Bass to appear before the commission Tuesday with their managers.

As a general rule unless there is suspicion of a "fake" fight the commission withholds purses of fighters only when a foul occurs. Before the match Bass ruled a favorite as high as 6 to 1 to win the crown.

Before the match, Commissioner Farley warned Referee Jim Crowley to be on the lookout for "anything suspicious." Crowley did not hesitate in counting Morgan out and declaring Bass the winner on a knockout in the second round.

The match itself displayed an amazing reversal of form, in the after it had been announced by the Angels that they had Pitcher Wyn Ballou from Brooklyn, your correspondent was by several more or less enthusiastic baseball addicts who wanted just who and what is this Mr. Ballou.

telling the inquisitive that Mr. Ballou was a right-hander and a pitcher, and that he had seen service with the St. Louis Browns, Milwaukee Brewers and Brooklyn Dodgers, your correspondent was at a loss to give out anything of vital importance concerning the worth of the aforesaid Seraph purchase.

ACK LIVELT

However, your correspondent cornered Jack the Angel manager, between pitch games at Wrigley Field yesterday and asked him just what he thought of Mr. Ballou as a hurler.

Now either Lelivelt is a very convincing liar or he really thinks that Ballou will win a lot of ball games for the Cherubs next season. In fact, Lelivelt, who was managing the Milwaukee club when Ballou was sojourning in the city where the natives aren't referring to soap when they say suds, is enthusiastic over the latest Cherub acquisition. When your correspondent informed Lelivelt that several of the local hot-stove critics had turned up their noses when Ballou's name was mentioned, Jack burst out in a

EWAN CLAIMS PREXY WANTED TO RUN TEAM

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—The of an ouster apparently effected under extraordinary circumstances, Capt. John J. McEwan, one-time All-American center and head football coach at the University of Oregon for the past four years, today found his name involved in the growing list of gridiron

Enoch Bagshaw of the University of Washington the general upheaval among the principal colleges of the Conference but under different circumstances. Bagshaw yielded to pressure and resigned in the midst of an unsuccessful season, to be succeeded by Jimmy Phelan of Purdue. McEwan, with a contract to carry him through 1930 has been relieved in spite of his willingness to continue and after one of Oregon's best seasons, ending with a tie for the Pacific Coast Conference title.

"My only trouble was that the president of the university and I could not agree on whom to substitute at critical moments," Capt. McEwan told the Associated Press

JEFF UNVEILS HEAVYWEIGHT HOPE

Former Champion Takes Blanket Off Boy He Hopes Will Be Next Champion of World at His Burbank Ranch; De Witt Van Court Watches Fighter Work

BY FRANK ROCHE

James J. Jeffries took the blanket off the boy he hopes will be the next heavyweight champion of the world, yesterday at his Burbank ranch. The heavyweight is a young Italian-American named Al Morro. Morro made his first public appearance under Jeffries' management in a sparring exhibition which was witnessed by no less a boxing personage than De Witt Van Court, the man who taught Jeff the first fundamentals of boxing. Van Court made a special visit to the Burbank ranch of the former champion to look over the boy that Jeff has picked as the next king of the fistic ring. After it was all over Van Court had only one remark to make and that was this: "He is a good-looking prospect, I have nothing else to say."

GENE TUNNEY.

The appearance of Van Court at the Jeffries ranch caused no little flurry among the gathering who came to see the new heavyweight in action. There were a number of old-timers among those in the audience who remembered both Van Court and Jeff in their early days. They watched Jeff and Van as they stood together and they watched Morro as he worked under the eye of the two old masters but if they learned anything that passed between the two old-timers they have something on the writer.

Morro is a big strong boy of 21.

STANFORD TEAM RESUMES PRACTICE FOR ARMY TILT

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Prof. Warner's class in football, more or less paralyzed and temporarily suspended since the California game, reconvened entire today to open the intensive seven-day campaign of drill for the approaching Army encounter. Thoughts of the gridders turned to football in earnest this afternoon, as the final examination period ended and the rest of the undergraduate body packed off for home and mother. The Cardinals now face a week of stern conditioning, both physically and psychologically, with no time out either on Sunday or on Christmas Day. Time, tide and football wait for no man.

While the forty-nine footballers were going through their plays in the first serious practice of the month, Dr. Frederick Roth, medical adviser to the team, sauntered up to Walt Heinecke, heard him cough heavily and ordered him to the hospital for the week-end. He has a bad cold in the chest and there is no question but that he will be doing well to come around into the best shape before the 28th.

A feature of the signal drill today was the stress Warner laid on

ARMY GRIDDERS PRACTICE

Bad Breaks in Weather Cause Biff Jones to Send Team Through Workout at Hutchinson, Kan.

HUTCHINSON (Kan.) Dec. 20. (AP)—Bad breaks in the weather, which have disorganized the transcontinental schedule of the Army football team en route to California to play Stanford, December 28, continued today and cut short an emergency practice session arranged by Coach "Biff" Jones here.

Frigid temperatures and a frozen field caused cancellation of plans for an hour's stiff workout and only twenty minutes of limbering-up exercises was given.

"BIFF" JONES

Dressed in sweat clothes, the squad boarded busses when the special train stopped here and was transported to the local gridiron a mile from the station. Frank Wandle used most of the time for a series of calisthenics, then the players did a little passing and kicking, closing the session with a run.

Maj. P. B. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics at the military academy, said that the twelve-hour delay in the schedule of the Army special due to the Midwest blizzard, in addition to spoiling plans for practice, also had ruined arrangements for receptions at various stops along the route.

The workout planned for yesterday at Galesburg, Ill., had to be called off, but the cadets were routed from their berths when the train reached there at 3:30 o'clock this morning in order not to disappoint the parents of two of the players who had waited hours at the station to greet the team.

The stop at Hutchinson was

COMMISSION APPROVES FIELDS-CORBETT BOUT

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 20. (AP)—The Jackie Fields-Young Corbett fight for San Francisco February 22, is on, even to the extent of commission sanction. In session here this afternoon Commissioners Charles Traung, Jim Woods and William Hanlon announced that Promoter Ancil Hoffman could have the Washington birthday date and since Hoffman has articles signed by managers of both fighters every barrier has been leaped for the big outdoor show in San Francisco's baseball park.

The only opposition to Hoffman's bid for the date came from Traung of San Francisco, who said he thought the other clubs in the Bay City should be given a chance to bid for that date. "If there are any obstacles to come which may block the fight, it will be up to me to decide on them," Traung told newspaper men.

The commission will hold its last 1929 meeting in San Francisco next Monday, at which time boxing licenses will be acted upon.

INDIANA MEETS PENN

Fast-Traveling U.C.L.A. Quintet Tackles Brigham Young Five at Olympic Tonight

BRUIN CAGERS ARE UNBEATEN

Coach Caddy Works's Outfit Made Favorites

Romney and Cooper Stars of Invading Mormons

Teams Clash in Second Tilt of Series Monday

The first intersectional basketball contest of the season will be presented to local fans tonight when the fast-traveling cage squad of the University of California at Los Angeles takes on the highly touted Brigham Young University five. The game will be played at the Olympic Auditorium, starting at 8 p.m.

"CADDY" WORKS

Coach Caddy Works's Bruin basketeers have been undefeated to date in three practice contests and are slight favorites to add a victory over the Brigham Young Cougars to their string. Last year the Bruins registered a close win in a hotly contested game played in Provo, home of the Cougars, when the local squad was on a barnstorming tour through Utah. However, tonight's contest is slated to be fiercely fought, for the Mormons are claiming an even better squad than last year's.

The two teams will meet again Monday night in the Manual Arts gymnasium in the second and final game of the series. Monday's game will decide the question of basketball supremacy between the two schools.

The attack of the Cougars is built around the figure of Elwood Romney, otherwise known as the "Eel." Romney is a six-foot sophomore, who has displayed an aptitude for caging his shots. Capt. George Cooper, running guard for Brigham Young, is another star on the team. Practically the entire team is six feet tall, or more. Ott Romney, formerly of Montana State, coaches the Mormons.

Opposing the attack of the Mormons, the Bruins will present one of the finest defenses in Southern California. With a team of big 'uns out for basketball this year, Caddy Works changed his defense to the zone-type of play. Frank Lubin, giant of some six feet four inches in height, is the backbone of the Bruin defense, receiving assistance from Carl Knowles, center, and Carl Shy, running guard. The offense of the Westwood club centers around the basket-tossing abilities of Capt. Larry Wilds, flashy forward, and Knowles. Wilds was high-point man in two of the Bruin practice games, with fourteen points a game, and Knowles in the other with twelve points.

The record of the U.C.L.A. cagers so far this season includes a 37-to-22 decision over the La Verne College Leopards, a 48-to-19 victory over the Pomona College Sagehens and a win last Wednesday night over the Hollywood Athletic Club team by a 44-to-32 score.

ARMY ELEVEN IN WORKOUT

hastily arranged today by Coach Jones when it was found that the train would not reach Syracuse, Kan., in time to hold the scheduled workout there.

News that John M. Lazar, brilliant center, who was left behind at West Point because of scholastic difficulties, had been restored to eligibility and was leaving for the Coast by air tonight, heartened his team-mates.

STETSON LOSES TO ANDERSON ON FOUL

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Frankie Stetson, 140 pounds, sensational San Francisco junior welterweight, lost on a foul tonight in the third round of a scheduled ten-round bout to "Cowboy" Eddie Anderson of Caspar, Wyo., at Dreamland Auditorium.

Stetson was far out in front at the time. In a fast rally, he floored Anderson, and delivered a low blow unintentionally, before the latter arose.

In the first two rounds, the San Francisco boy drove Anderson around the ring with a hard body attack.

NEBRASKANS MAY MIX WITH NEVADA

LINCOLN (Neb.) Dec. 20. (AP)—Herbert Gish, athletic director at the University of Nebraska, said tonight that the University of Nevada football team was one of a number of others with whom Nebraska was negotiating for games in 1930.

Gish, when informed that Nevada was considering the Cornhuskers as a football opponent for next season, said he had wired Nevada officials, inquiring if they were interested in a game with the Big Six champions next year, but that no date had been definitely offered them. The Huskers have an open date on October 25.

WHITES WIN OVER REDS IN POLO TILT

DEL MONTE, Dec. 20. (AP)—The Whites defeated the Reds, 11 to 5, in today's polo game here, showing excellent teamwork.

Harry Hunt and George Pope, Jr., played fine polo for the winners.

The summary:

Goals	Whites		Reds	Goals
5	Harry Hunt	1	W. Crocker	2

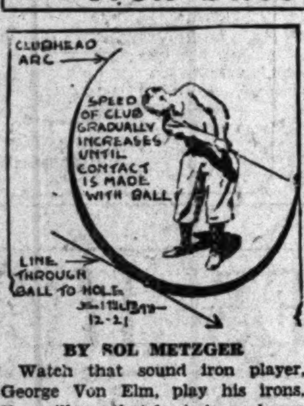
No Hurry for Von Elm on Iron Shot



CLUBHEAD ARC
SPEED OF CLUB GRADUALLY INCREASES UNTIL CONTACT IS MADE WITH BALL
LINE THROUGH BALL TO HOLE
12-21

BY SOL METZGER

Watch that sound iron player, George Von Elm, play his irons. You will see that he is in no hurry in starting the club down. Most pros caution you to stop the swing at the top before starting down. In short, don't be in too great a rush to get it over with.

Visualize each shot in advance. The iron, like the full shot, is played in exactly the same way. A slow start down of the club and a gradual increase in the speed of the clubhead until it reaches its maximum velocity at contact.

There is no great amount of body in the iron shot. The blow is an arm blow against a braced left leg and hip. But in delivering it sense the idea of gradually increasing the speed of the clubhead until contact is made.

Unless you understand the pivot you cannot hope to shoot good golf. Sol Metzger has a new illustrated leaflet which he will send to anyone wishing it. Address Sol Metzger, in care of The Times, and inclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

JEFF PRESENTS HIS TITLE HOPE

He stands over six feet in his stocking feet and weighs about 190 pounds. He seems to be fast on his feet and he also appeared as though he had quite a little boxing schooling. Morro worked four rounds with Carmen Tuzalino, a former Los Angeles Athletic Club amateur. Although Morro handled Tuzalino with ease he ended the workout with a bloody nose and a bruised ear which troubled him quite a bit.

Jeffries's heavyweight hope will make his ring debut locally next Friday night at the Hollywood Legion Stadium, where he is scheduled to tackle Ed Herting, a Texas slugger. Although it is the first appearance of Morro before a local fight audience it will not be the initial showing of the fighter in public. Morro has boxed for some time out in the "sticks" before circus audiences. The young heavyweight has had quite some seasoning meeting all comers while traveling with a "big tent" outfit. He should not suffer from stage fright when he tackles Herting.

Jeffries has almost raised Morro. He came to the Burbank ranch when he was a mere kid and worked for Jeff for some time before he got the idea he would like to follow in the footsteps of the former heavyweight champion. When Jeff discovered the boy had aspirations to be a fighter he took him in hand and worked with him behind the woodsheds on the Burbank estate. At first old Jeff was disgusted with the lad but one day he came back from the woodshed and announced that he had a boy that would succeed as a champion. Then the fistic searchlight was turned on Morro. But Jeff hid him away and not until yesterday did he invite the public to see his protege and among those who came as related above was De Witt Van Court, Jeff's ol dteacher.

Jeff believes the boy cannot only give a punch but take one. "I wouldn't have anything to do with a fighter that could not take it," Jeff declared yesterday. "I believe this kid has the goods that is the reason I am putting him before the public," the old champion said.

Numbered among those who watched the boy work yesterday besides Van Court and Jeff were Lieutenant Commander Duke Kenworthy of the Navy and Clayton Frye, boxing instructor of the L.A.A.C.

Jeff announced as the party broke up at the camp that he would in all probability second Morro Friday night at Hollywood.

Mandell and McLarnin to Tangle Again

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Sammy Mandell, 135-pound king, and Jimmy McLarnin, outstanding welterweight contender, were matched today for a ten-round fight at the Chicago Stadium on February 4, next, at 143 pounds. Thus Nate Lewis, stadium matchmaker, again steals a march on his eastern competitors.

Mandell, who never before had dropped a ten-round verdict to any man in his brilliant career previous to taking on Jimmy last month, has been eager for a return bout, as he believes he can win over Baby Face next time out.

The champion, who defended his title against McLarnin last year in New York in a fifteen-frame bout, easily retained his crown with his masterful boxing, but in their last meeting, which did not involve the championship, Sammy did not seem to be the same "Rockford Flash."

CARDS PACE Y.M.I. FIVE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Bearing fond hopes of a victorious season, the Stanford basketball varsity tomorrow night takes the floor in the first game of its schedule. It meets the San Francisco Young Men's Institute in Kezar Stadium in its only slated San Francisco appearance of the year.

HAGEN, VON ELM TIE

Lawrence, Mass., 37-33—70; and Lew Waldron of Boston, who finished in the dark to complete the select group.

Little Larry Montes, champion of the Philippine Islands, flashed across the finish line with 36-35—71, par golf, to tie with Hutt Martin of Reno, Nev., who carded the same score.

The 72's, fifteen in all, are too numerous to mention, but included such noted players as Al Espinosa of Chicago, Harry Cooper of Los Angeles, Bill Mehlhorn of New York City, Johnny Farrell of New York, Leo Diegel of Agua Caliente, and Olin Dutra of Brentwood.

Jack Gaines of Girard also scored a 72, and was second low amateur to Von Elm, along with Fay Coleman of the California Country Club.

Billy Burke, the young Port Chester (N. Y.) professional, and Clarence E. Clark of Tulsa, Okla., winner of the San Gabriel amateur-professional tournament, furnished the finest comebacks of the day, both going out in 40 and back in 33 to finish with 73's. Others in the 73 division are Johnny Golden of Patterson, N. J., Tony Manero of New York, Catalina open champion; Ed Dudley of Concordville, Pa., Johnny Rogers of Denver, and two well-known local amateurs, Johnny Mescall of California, and Harry Eichelberger, Jr., of Los Angeles.

79's TO QUALIFY

Allen Moser of Wilshire wound up with a 74, as did Al Watrous of Detroit, and Willie Hunter of Montebello Park.

The 76 bracket caught a number of prominent stars, including Joe Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y.; Tommy Armour of Detroit; Henry Ciuci of Bridgeport, Ct., and Fred Morrison of Midwick.

Morrison, Southern California open champion, was ill yesterday, and did not play up to his usual game, although he is still in position to catch the leaders. He was on every green but two, but poor putting cost him a better score.

While it was originally planned to cut the field of 225 to low 100 and ties at the eighteen-hole mark, the committee, headed by A. K. Bourne of Annandale and Jack Malley, professional of the Pasadena club, decided to let in the 79's, although 101 golfers scored 78 or under.

That action was the only fair way out, as more than half the field was forced to play before 11 o'clock, when a stiff breeze raged up and down the Arroyo Seco and added several strokes to the scores of early starters.

The fact, however, that so many did score well, indicates the class of the field.

It begins to look like "The Haig" has decided to cut out the monkey business and settle down to winning a bit of Christmas money. Walter looked more like Hagen, the British open champion, than he has at any time this year, including the P.G.A. event, and it is our impression that he is out to show the fans some real golf—and no one will gainsay that Hagen can play golf when he wants to.

Unless his strength fails him, Von Elm is going to be a constant threat. "Jix" is playing bang-up golf, and his iron play has the old snap that was lacking when George, then a very sick man, was eliminated in the first round of the national amateur championship at Pebble Beach.

Yesterday's results mean but little, and the lead will very likely switch back and forth several times before the championship is decided tomorrow, when the field will be cut to the low sixty and ties for the final thirty-six-hole grind.

Both Smith and Wood are right up there where they will be dangerous, and it is time that these two youngsters were getting back in the money. Smith is due for a couple of those 66 rounds he is famous for, and the Pasadena course is built for his game.

Scoring was spectacular as well as brilliant yesterday, as the following cards would indicate:

Par (out)	444 445 434—36
Von Elm	443 344 344—33
Hagen	544 335 534—36
Smith	345 644 334—36
Wood	445 534 534—37
Montes	435 445 434—36
Martin	544 534 434—36
Diegel	444 444 634—37	—72
Par (in)	444 345 434—35	—71
Von Elm	444 345 444—36	—69
Hagen	434 344 434—33	—69
Smith	454 344 334—34	—70
Wood	444 443 334—33	—70
Martin	344 345 444—35	—71
Montes	444 345 434—35	—71
Diegel	44 444 634—37	—72

Diegel, national professional champion, it will be noted, needed three pars for a 70, but took a 6 on the 368-yard par 4 sixteenth hole, and ruined his otherwise perfectly good score.

Following are the complete pairings and starting times for today:

JELLIFFE ENTERS INDUSTRIAL EVENT

Headed by "Wild" Bill Jelliffe and other well-known local players, the first industrial golf tournament of Los Angeles will be put on by the City Playground and Recreation Department this afternoon and tomorrow at the Montebello Park Golf Club, according to the anouncement of D. W. Lott, municipal sports supervisor, and Lester Silvera, chairman of the Industrial Golf Committee.

This tournament, open only to regular employees of local concerns, has drawn an entry list of more than 200 names, including players well known in Los Angeles amateur golf, who will represent the firms where they are employed. In addition to Jelliffe, who will represent the Girard Corporation, Jimmie Johns will play in the name of General Petroleum, and Jack Riley for the Richfield Oil Company.

In order to even the competition, four classes, suited to all types of ability, will be included. Beautiful trophies will be awarded in every class for low gross, low net, the most pars and the most birdies. There will also be a blind bogie prize.

SHEIKS' WINNING STREAK CHECKED BY HOLLYWOOD

Maybe the break in the Oakland Sheik winning streak has come at last. Anyway, the ball was started rolling by Arthur Guy Empey's Hollywood Millionaires Thursday night, 2 to 1, and the Los Angeles Richfields are convinced that they can hand the Sheiks a second set-back at the Winter Garden Ice Palace Monday night.

The break came Thursday just about the time some of the fans were beginning to think the Sheiks unbeatable. Now the hue and cry is "Beat Oakland" and both local teams will be in there to do just that thing.

Hockey in Southern California is at its highest point of interest at the present time and the current season is proving the most successful in the history of the sport here, according to Floyd Carleton, one of the owners of the Winter Garden Ice Palace.

Amateur hockey, in particular, has made rapid strides in the public fancy and is enjoying its greatest season—a season which should shatter all records, Carleton reports.

In the ten amateur games already played at the Garden, 33,000 fans have passed through the turnstiles—an average of 3300 per game. This is far more than even the professionals used to draw and better than the "pros" are drawing now.

Professional interest, too, is at a high point and in nine games the California Hockey League teams have played to 27,000 fans—an average of 3000 per game.

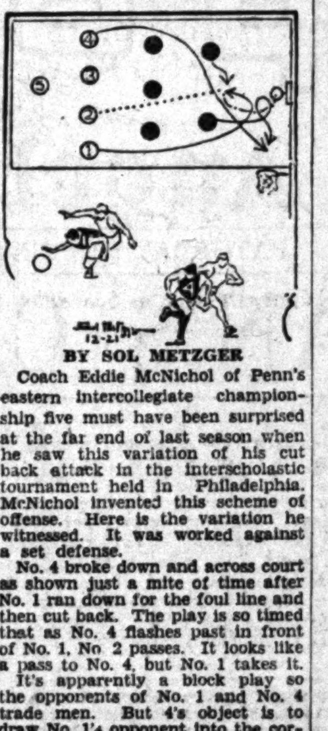
Radio broadcast of the professional games is established now and it is the belief of Carleton that after the first of the year such records will be set that it will take some tall shooting in future seasons to overcome them.

GILMORE LIONS PLAY UNION OILERS TONIGHT

Ted Le Roy's league-leading Gilmore Lions are expected to take their first defeat in many weeks tonight at the Winter Garden Ice Palace, when they clash with their foremost rivals, the Union Oil Pirates, in the fifteenth game of the Southern California ice hockey circuit.

The Pirates seem to be the only club in the loop able to give the Lions a setback and last week they came near turning the trick, but last week these two big husky outfits battled to a 4-4 tie, before one of the largest crowds of the season. Neither team was able to count in the extra stanza ordered by Referee Abbey Newell and this evening they start in where they left off, last Saturday.

Penn Scores on Cut-back



BY SOL METZGER

Coach Eddie McNichol of Penn's eastern intercollegiate championship five must have been surprised at the far end of last season when he saw this variation of his cut back attack in the interscholastic tournament held in Philadelphia. McNichol invented this scheme of offense. Here is the variation he witnessed. It was worked against a set defense.

No. 4 broke down and across court as shown just a mite of time after No. 1 ran down for the foul line and then cut back. The play is so timed that as No. 4 flashes past in front of No. 1, No. 2 passes. It looks like a pass to No. 4, but No. 1 takes it.

It's apparently a block play so the opponents of No. 1 and No. 4 trade men. But 4's object is to draw No. 1's opponent into the corner of the court in order that No. 1, on receiving the ball, can pivot away from and around No. 4's opponent, now guarding him, and dribble to the basket for a short shot.

Shires Seeks Ring License in New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—An application for a New York State boxing license in behalf of Art Shires was filed today by Charles Murray, Buffalo promoter, who wants to pit the battling Chicago White Sox first baseman against an opponent not yet chosen in a bout in Buffalo the 26th inst.

Deciding that Otto Von Porat, Norwegian heavyweight, who was suspended for fouling Phil Scott in the recent Madison Square Garden affair, had been punished enough, the commission sanctioned his return to the ring in a bout with the Spaniard, Paulino Uzcudun, at the Garden, January 10, next.

BALLOU LAUDED BY ANGEL PILOT

heated defense of his new pitcher.

"Say, Ballou is a good pitcher, and you can tell all those hot-stove critics of yours that I think he'll win about twenty ball games for the Angels next year. That's how good I think he'll go in this league.

"He's no green hand at this pitching racket, and if he doesn't come through with twenty victories I'll be surprised. Ballou has a wonderful curve, a good fast one that he makes more effective with a judicious use of a change of pace. If the pitching I saw last year is a sample of Coast League hurling, I think that Ballou will prove a star in this league."

All of which was somewhat of a blast from the usually pretty quiet Lelivelt, and quite a boost for Ballou.

Ballou, in a recent letter to Lelivelt, said that he was more than glad to be pitching for him again, and that he was confident of having a good season.

Ballou, who is wintering in Indianapolis, likes plenty of work, and he knows Lelivelt will see to it that he gets it. Lelivelt worked Ballou in forty-two games at Milwaukee in 1928, and Wyn thrived on the big ration of duty.

CASANOVA OUT AFTER FOURTH KNOCKOUT

Sandy Garrison Casanova, 19-year-old Scotch-Mexican middleweight, hopes to score his fourth straight knockout tonight at the Main-street Athletic Club when he tackles Danny Long, rugged newcomer from Oklahoma. Long, following a clean sweep in Middle West rings, has come to California seeking new laurels.

Art Molina and Hurley Breen, 126-pounders, battle in the semi-wind-up, while Rudy Mendez tackles Zenado Chavez in the special event at 145 pounds. Chavez recently kayoed Johnny Adams. Three preliminary bouts are on the same card.

WALLACE WINNER IN FLOWERS BOUT

DETROIT, Dec. 20. (AP)—Billy Wallace, Cleveland lightweight, won a referee's decision over Bruce Flowers, New Rochelle, negro, in a ten-round main bout at the Olympic arena tonight.

Wallace used a two-fisted attack which puzzled Flowers. He had the negro down for the count of eight in the second round.

BAER TO MATCH FUENTE

OAKLAND (Cal.) Dec. 20. (AP)—Max Baer, young heavyweight prospect from Livermore, who has been bowling over more seasoned opponents with regularity recently, was matched today by Promoter Louis Parente for a ten-round bout with Tony Fuente, Phoenix, Ariz., at Arcadia Pavilion, December 30. Baer is regarded as one of the best heavyweight "finds" of this section in the last year.

PESEK WINS MAT GO

CINCINNATI (O.) Dec. 20. (AP)—John Pesek, "Nebraska Tigerman," defeated John Evko, Chicago, in a heavyweight wrestling match here tonight. Evko hurt his shoulder in the first fall and could not come back.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

NEW YEAR'S PROPHECIES

AS PROPHETS the Messrs. Johnny Mack Brown and Hobo Kincaid are offered up for public sacrifice this morning. Mr. Brown was the gentleman who scintillated at Pasadena in 1926, when Alabama pulled up from the small end of a 12-to-0 score at half time and defeated Washington, 20 to 19 in the Rose Bowl thriller of all time. Mr. Kincaid was the gent who ran such superb interference when Southern California beat Penn State back in 1923.

Both gentlemen are employed locally. Mr. Brown is a rising young movie star at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio. He's as good looking as ever, and just as unaffected as when he was making touchdowns for the Crimson Tide. Mr. Kincaid is guiding the destinies of state at the Automobile Club of Southern California, and can turn the deafest ear that was ever turned when the owner of a damaged car tries to talk him out of a new fender for a dented one on an insurance policy.

Mr. Brown says the Trojans will beat Pitt New Year's Day.

Mr. Kincaid says Pitt will beat the Trojans.

It doesn't take a telescope for one to observe that there is a wide disparity of opinion between these two predictions.

Mr. Mack Brown bases his belief on the following premise: "The Trojans have a corking good football team with lots of power and plenty of high-class reserves, and they have the advantage of playing in their own territory, plus acclimation and no long trip to work out of their systems."

Mr. Kincaid on the other hands says the Trojans have been such infernally slow starters this year that a recurrence is likely New Year's Day—and this in turn spells defeat at the hands of a classy and powerful eleven like Pitt.

MR. BROWN MOVES UP

MR. KINCAID'S forecast has been held in abeyance a few days—until an offset could be found for it. And Mr. Brown provided that.

Mr. Brown was encountered at the M.-G.-M. studio yesterday in the company of Mr. Joseph Sherman, the publicity accelerator who was trying to secure a quiet tip on the forthcoming battle.

Mr. Brown has played in football pictures, but he was not attired for such occasions yesterday. On the contrary he was decked out in a black-and-white checkered Wild West flannel shirt with a red bandana around his neck. And he had a gun and something that looked like bullets in the old holster.

The gentleman from Alabamy has been with the movies for nearly three years, and the smart ones say he stands on the threshold of becoming a big star.

He has advanced rapidly, but the best thing they say about him is that he retains all the natural, unaffected qualities which made him so popular as a football player.

That's unusual, and anyone on a movie lot will tell you so. The boys and girls generally get the big head the minute they begin to move up.

But not Mr. Johnny Mack Brown. In his current picture, "Montana," as the leading man for Joan Crawford, he shoots jackrabbits from the seat of a buckboard with all the enthusiasm and carefree abandon of a kid.

And he's getting better looking every day.

That won't do the girls any good because Mr. Johnny Mack Brown is married and has a 5-months-old baby girl in the family.

His fondest hope is the next one will be a potential all-American star.

THE ALL-AMERICAN LAUGH

MR. JOHNNY MACK BROWN was just one of the wonderful halfback that the all-American pickers overlooked while he was in college.

But all those who saw that Alabama-Washington game will remember his fairy-footed running, his elusive hip motion, his pass snagging and the matter in which he eluded George Guttormsen for the winning touchdown in the last period.

The oversight the all-American pickers committed in the case of Johnny Mack Brown again is brought to light with the publication of the latest all-American team.

This one is called the all-America—not all-American.

The distinction is slight, but it is there nevertheless.

The papa of the all-America, if you please, is Grantland Rice, a splendid writer who essayed to fill the shoes of the late Walter Camp.

The all-America is just another laugh in an orgy of all-American teams.

This one has two boys from Purdue on it, two from Notre Dame, two from Pittsburgh, one each from Harvard, Iowa, Minnesota, Army and Arkansas.

The Army nominee is Cagle, undoubtedly a great halfback, but he couldn't make the all-American at the southern college he attended. Why place him in competition with boys who are three years behind in experience?

For my part, give me Jack Elder, who was mentioned on no all-American team this year; Carideo, the Irish quarter, and I'll pick a team from the Pacific Coast capable of licking Mr. Grantland Rice's ALL-AMERICA.

BEST SINCE BEZDEK

COACH John McEwan and Oregon U. seem definitely to have come to the parting of the ways.

McEwan didn't relish the manner in which he was treated by some of the authorities at Oregon, so the story goes, and announced his resignation to the newspapers before he turned it in to headquarters.

Hadquarters didn't relish his way of resigning, and in turn decided to abrogate his contract a year ahead of fulfillment.

Whatever the cause of the rumpus McEwan did more for football at Oregon in his four years in the saddle than anybody since Hugo Bezdek.

Oregon will have trouble replacing him, particularly since the authorities want a man on an indefinite contract—one they can hire or fire at the end of a year.

RACE PILOTS READY FOR LEGION EVENT TOMORROW

With the last and biggest racing program of the year scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at the American Legion Speedway, the folks who earn their livelihood at the sport of speed are expected to be kept busy today preparing their cars, motorcycles and auto polo machines for the final day of competition.

Among the racing drivers the principal idea is to hop their machines up at a speed that will qualify them for the 100-lap Yuletide Sweepstakes. This race, which headlines the list of events, will carry the lion's share of the money and therefore holds the spotlight without argument.

Out of forty or more drivers who will seek admittance A. C. Pillsbury of the A.A.A. will allow only the fourteen fastest to face Fred Wagner's flag. In this group the favorites are Fred Frame, "Shorty" Cantlon, Francis Quinn, "Stubby" Stubblefield, Mel Kenealy, Babe Stapp, Johnny Krieger, "Swede" Smith and Guy Deulin.

Deulin, who has not driven here in several months, was a last-minute entrant yesterday. The Portland daredevil is rated as formidable in any class of competition and his comeback to the wheel of the No. 91 created quite a stir in the ranks of the speed demons. Deulin's car was formerly handled by "Swede" Smith, who has now taken over the driving of No. 92, another Portland-made racing mount.

Speedway officials are making plans to handle a bumper crowd. The local motorcycle colony is expected to turn out en masse, and this will mean several thousand extra fans. Motorbike followers have not seen a titular race here in several years, which means that they will be anxious to view the three-mile national championship event, which will attract such handlebar experts as Jim Davis, "Tuffy" Jacobs, "Dusty" Rhoades and Miny Waln.

Dr. Fred Loring and other Legion moguls evidently planned a long afternoon when they arranged the program, it appears. The starting time is scheduled for 2:15 p.m., which is a few minutes earlier than formerly, but the races will have to be run off in double-quick fashion to cram everything into one afternoon. The complete schedule includes the 100-lap race, ten-lap special event, twenty-four-lap consolation race, Italian Helmet Dash, two motorcycle contests and an auto polo game.

Hess Favored Over Sal in Next Feature

Les Kennedy was yesterday signed to box Jack DeMave, Hollander, at the Olympic on New Year's Eve. DeMave and his manager, Lew Diamond, leave New York today for the West.

DeMave has a fair record among the heavyweights back East. Like K. O. Christner he has fought the best of them, including Jack Sharkey, Young Stribling, Jack Renault and others.

It was DeMave they picked back east for Sailor Eddie Huffman to make his New York bow against in Madison Square Garden. Huffman was at his peak then. DeMave lost a close decision in which knockdowns both ways were featured.

COMPLETE CARD

This books the Olympic up solid until mid-January now. The club is running through the holidays instead of taking the customary lay-off. At this season of the year most promoters shut down, using the excuse of renovating the arena to cover up a dull period.

However, the Olympic finds business good and does not see why it should go dark when good cards are available and the fans want their usual weekly diet of bouts.

The line-up is Goldie Hess vs. Baby Sal Sorio next Monday night; Kennedy vs. DeMave on New Year's Eve; Cecil Payne vs. the winner of the Hess-Sal bout; Fidel LaBarba vs. Ignacio Fernandez on January 14, and either Ace Hudkins vs. Bert Colima or Frankie Campbell vs. Kennedy on January 21.

Sal and Hess finish up their boxing today in the gymnasium. Sal has done his training at San Bernardino. He claims half the people from the little mountain town are going to trail him down to Los Angeles.

HESS FAVORED

Hess was quoted as a 10-8 choice over the Mexican yesterday. There are some bets at even money on a knockout and "take your pick" basis. Sal is a deadly puncher if he can hit an opponent and it is believed Hess is made to order for him.

George Blake left yesterday for Wrightwood, which is high up in the San Fernardino mountains, to see LaBarba. The ex-flyweight king is training for a big year. Trojan Five Meets Poets in Cage Tilt

Victorious in two out of three practice games to date, the Trojan basketball varsity, which is rapidly getting the "hang" of Coach Sam Barry's system, journeys to Whittier tonight to take on the Poet varsity.

The Trojans opened the season by dropping a game to the Pacific Coast club by a terrible score, but came back to trim Hollywood A. C. handily, and then nosed out the strong L.A.A.C. five in a 35-31 game. Frank Smith, who chalked up 17 points in the Mercury tilt, is the main cog in the Trojan offense, and probably will be a marked man tonight.

Gardner and Pierce occupy the forward positions, with Capt. Johnny Lehners and Caldwell at guards. Smith plays center.

JUNIOR STARS PLAY FINALS

Santa Monica Tournament Enters Last Round

Four final matches in the junior tennis tournament at Santa Monica are scheduled for today in addition to a number of quarter and semifinal events, according to F. Lee Smith, director of the tournament.

Howard Clark and Ned Russell will meet in the boys' singles finals in the 13 and under division, at 10 o'clock. At 11 o'clock, Helen Marlowe, runner-up to Sarah Palfrey in the national junior tournament, will meet Dorothy Workman for the junior title.

Jay Cohn, national boys' champion, is scheduled to face Boyd Gorgi at 12 o'clock for the championship in his division, while at 2 o'clock Cohn and Leonard Patterson will face Haight and Woodside in a doubles final. The other champion ship matches will be played tomorrow.

Yesterday's matches were featured by a spectacular semifinal match between Dorothy Workman and Margaret Sturgeon. The latter won the first set, 3-6, and an umpire called a point match in her favor in the second set. Miss Sturgeon refused to accept the point, which seemed to be bad, and insisted on continuing the match. Miss Workman took the second set, and had her opponent at point-match eight times in the third set before she could finally win. Yesterday's results, and the schedules:

Haight and Woodside defeated Georgi and Ware, 7-5, 6-4; Cohn and Patterson defeated De Mauve and La Salle, 5-7, 6-1, 7-5; Dorothy Workman defeated Margaret Sturgeon, 3-6, 7-5, 7-5; Patterson and McDavid defeated Del Amo and Kingston, 6-1, 6-2; Cohn defeated Steward, 6-3, 6-1; Margaret Sturgeon and Patterson defeated Dorothy Workman and Haight, 6-3, 1-6, 6-2.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

9 o'clock—Margaret Sturgeon and Kate Northcote vs. Dorothy Workman and Gracyn Wheeler.

10 o'clock—Howard Clark vs. Ned Russell (finals, boys' singles, 13 and under.)

11 o'clock—Helen Marlowe vs. Dorothy Workman (finals, girls' singles, 18 and under.)

12 o'clock—Boyd Georgi vs. Jay Cohn (finals, boys' singles, 15 and under.)

2 o'clock—Cohn and Patterson vs. Haight and Woodside (finals, boys' doubles, 15 and under.)

TOMORROW'S SCHEDULE

10 o'clock—Mercedes Marlowe vs. Gracyn Wheeler (finals, girls' singles, 15 and under.) Ellsworth Vines vs. Leonard Patterson.

11 o'clock—Vines and Cohn vs. Patterson and McDavid (finals, boys' doubles, 18 and under.)

12 o'clock—Helen Marlowe and Vines vs. Mercedes Marlowe and Jay Cohn (semifinals, mixed doubles.)

1 o'clock—Ellsworth Vines vs. Jay Cohn (finals, junior singles.)

AMBASSADOR MEET NEXT FOR NETTERS

Entries in the second semiannual Ambassador Tennis Club junior tournament came to a close last night with a brilliant list of the Southland's leading young players signed up for the event. The tournament, which is sponsored by the Ambassador Hotel under the direction of Vernon A. "Bud" Campbell, tennis professional, is scheduled to begin Monday morning on the two courts of the hotel, and end the following Sunday afternoon. Six events are to be run off during the week's play, including the junior boys and girls 18 years and under singles and doubles, and the junior boys and girls 15 years and under singles.

PREXY WANTED TO RUN TEAM

today in making it clear that he would not put up a fight as Bagshaw did, to fulfill the remainder of his contract.

Another curious sidelight of McEwan's case was an apparent attempt to show that as a former Army player and coach, he attempted under cover to supply West Point with motion pictures of the Stanford-Oregon game, designed to aid the Cadets in their forthcoming engagement at Palo Alto.

No one at West Point saw the pictures in connection with McEwan's visit but this incident resulted in an exchange of telegrams between Army and Stanford coaches.

McEwan will remain in the East. He announced today plans to conduct a fine coaching school hereabouts, with spring and summer courses, but also may seek a new job as head coach.

The former Army star has been mentioned as a possible successor to Maj. Frank Cavanaugh at Fordham, Maj. Cavanaugh, in spite of a successful year, has not yet signed for 1930 and Fordham's graduate manager, Jack Coffey, said today nothing could be done about the coaching situation until after the first of the year.

Georgetown and Pennsylvania are without head coaches at present and so is Purdue.

HOLTZER IN RING WIN AT HOLLYWOOD

Sparks Loses Listless Go to Foe Via Decision Route in Legion Stadium

Maurice Holtzer, French boxer, had a comparatively easy time defeating Ward Sparks of Detroit in the ten-round main event at the Hollywood American Legion last night. Sparks, who was a mechanic in the Ford factory in the automobile town, made a mistake by ever leaving home in so far as Hollywood fans are concerned. He failed to win a round, seven going to Holtzer, while the other three were even.

The fight itself was a listless affair. Sparks went down in the second round and took a nine count on one knee, looking all over the arena before getting up. In the third round Sparks again went down, but claimed a foul. While he was still on the floor, the bell rang and he went to his corner to be more or less revived by his handlers.

Holtzer's best bets were his hard body punches.

Charley Sullivan, Bakersfield bantamweight, rallied in the sixth round to take the decision over Sid Torres, string-bean Filipino, in the semi-wind-up. Torres won the first two rounds, with Sullivan being on the floor for a no-count in the opening session. However, the third and fourth went to the Bakersfield boy. The fifth was even and in the sixth Charley staged his big rally.

Frankie Dolan, referee, presented the special event to Bobby Near as a Christmas present. Near won only one round, while Jack Chavez, local Mexican, won three. Dolan must like the Navy, because Near claims to be the welterweight champion of the sailors.

Cecil Ceysil, whose name ought to be "One Punch" or "Tiger" made short work of Jess Mongary, winning on a technical knockout in the first round. Sid Ecklund caught up to Boom Cannon in the third round of the opener and won on a technical kayoe.

TOD KAYOED IN SECOND ROUND

first round Morgan several times staggered Bass with right-hand punches to the chin only to go down himself under a sweeping right smash to the head at the start of the second. He rose at the count of nine, protected himself for a few seconds, and then was floored again for the knockout.

FIRST ROUND

Bass blocked Morgan's straight lefts to the face and closed in with a right to the body. Morgan drove a hard right to the ribs at close quarters. Bass countered with a short left hook to the head. Morgan staggered Benny with a right to the jaw. Bass appeared badly frightened and shaken up and hid his chin behind his elbows as Morgan went after him. Morgan staggered Bass with two hard rights to the jaw and Bass was in full retreat. Morgan's round.

SECOND ROUND

Bass tried to get inside but the champion drove him back. Bass caught Morgan with a right to the jaw and the champion took a count of eight. When Morgan got up Bass sent three straight rights flush to the chin and Morgan went down for the full count, after fifty-one seconds of fighting.

EMANUEL WINS FROM GAGNON

BOSTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Armand Emanuel, San Francisco heavyweight barrister, gained a ten-round decision over Jack Gagnon, Boston battler, here tonight in the Boston Garden's feature contest. The victor was off to a poor start, taking terrific body punishment in the second, but his boxing skill accounted for most of the other rounds. The Californian yielded seven pounds to Gagnon who scaled 190 1-2.

Gagnon appeared bent on an early knockout for he rushed at the opening bell and pounded Emanuel's body with both hands. Armand, surprised at this display of aggressiveness, sought cover. Gagnon's bull-like rushes were again effective in the second round and he delivered enough punishment to make his opponent sag at the knees.

The Californian's left jab found the range in the third and he started piling up points from then on. A series of these blows closed Gagnon's left eye in the eighth, when the half-blinded Bostonian gamely tried to end matters with his heavy body blows.

He tried to rush Emanuel to the ropes, where he could whale him about the body, but the latter was always able to step out of danger. Gagnon made a furious effort in the final rounds, but the westerner had enough speed to escape most of the hooks aimed at his body.

Neil Clisby of Los Angeles gained a seven-round technical knockout over Tony Galento of Orange, N. J., in another ten-rounder.

Oxy Cagers Trip Panthers

In a rather slow game of basketball, the Occidental Tigers won a 66-to-46 victory over the California Christian College quintet in the Glendale Junior College gym last night. The Tiger defense appeared to be very weak, while the offense rang up points from practically every angle on the court. Dimpter and Glover of the winners rang up enough points between them to win an ordinary game, the former tallying eighteen and the latter sixteen. The main cog in the Christian's scoring machine was Thompson, whose total amounted to seventeen digits.

LA VERNE CAGERS WIN

Coach Van Cleve's La Verne cagers won their third victory of the year last night by severely trouncing Southwestern University, 43-13. The game was played in the Leopards' gym. Weybright led the scoring, chalking up 21 points. La Verne's victories include triumphs over Chaffey Junior College and the Violet Ray cagers.

PANAMA MAIL IN SAN DIEGO DEAL

Port Put on Calling List of New Liner Quartet

First of Group to Enter on Run Late in 1930

Twenty-Day Sailing Schedule Already Prepared

BY WALDO DRAKE

Plans were completed yesterday, following a two-day conference between William A Young and Clay Hutchison, passenger traffic manager and Southern California manager, respectively, of the Panama Mail Steamship Company, and San Diego steamship interests, whereby new Panama Mail intercoastal liners will include San Diego in their Pacific Coast ports of call.

The new service will be inaugurated in the fall of 1930, with completion of the first of four $3,500,000 express liners all of which are expected to be built at the local yards of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation. An operating schedule for the new service has already been completed, providing for twenty-day service with the new eighteen-knot liners between New York and California, including stops at Havana, the Canal Zone and three Central American ports.

Shipping interests view the announcement as proof of Panama Mail's intention to compete directly with the present intercoastal express service of the Panama Pacific Line, in which three 33,000-ton electric liners are already operating, with three more sister ships projected.

Panama Mail Line at present operates five twelve-knot steamers in coast-to-coast passenger and freight service on a twenty-eight-day schedule. The new ships, for which construction plans have been completed and approved, would carry 260 cabin passengers and 8000 tons of freight and yet would be of sufficiently shoal draft to permit their entering Central American roadsteads. Panama-Pacific liners, of great displacement and thirty-foot draft, call only at Havana, the Canal, San Diego, Los Angeles Harbor and San Francisco.

NEW FOREIGN SHIP REGULATION ADOPTED

Foreign vessels calling here for bunkers, having already passed quarantine at any other American port, may change crews without the formality of entering and clearing customs, according to a new ruling issued by Commissioner of Navigation A. J. Tyrer, at Washington.

The decision was received at the port yesterday by E. S. Zerwekh, customs broker, in answer to his appeal against local customs house interpretation of the law. W. F. Mahar, Deputy Collector of Customs at the port, announced his willingness to recognize the ruling. Mr. Zerwekh's victory will eliminate much time lost, inconvenience and expense heretofore imposed on vessels calling for bunkers only which required minor crew changes.

The seventy-five passengers and crew of the Hawaii-bound Lassco liner Calawaii sailing from here today, will be farther away from land on Christmas day than anyone else in the world, according to Capt. A. A. Sawyer, master.

"We will be just about halfway across, perhaps 1100 miles," declared the skipper, explaining that he often has heard mariners say there is no other such body of water unbroken by islands or some form of land. "I took out my charts and measured such watery stretches on all the world's travel lanes, and halfway from here to Hawaii is farthest from land."

The passengers include Harry W. Atkinson, internal revenue service, Los Angeles; W. E. Morrison, chainstore operator, Hollywood, and John A. Morgan, merchant of Yonkers, N. Y. Fruits, autos, building materials, tires and a Fokker airplane consigned to Hawaiian Airways Company at Honolulu will comprise the freight.

A separate conference is being worked out to remove Straits Settlements traffic from jurisdiction of the Pacific Westbound Conference, now breaking up, and to regulate such trade to and from Pacific ports and Singapore and other Straits ports.

The proposed conference is expected to comprise present members of the Pacific Westbound Conference, such as Dollar, Java-Pacific, Kerr and Klaveness. It is expected automatically to cancel joint agreements between the North Atlantic Far East Conference and the Pacific Westbound regarding Straits tariffs.

All peace moves in the embroglio of the Pacific Coast Dutch East Indies Conference have failed, and the pact will be abandoned January 26 when slashes in many rates go into effect, both outbound and inbound. Old papers, for instance, to Java ports will drop from $7 to $5 per ton.

New tariff duties become effective for Mexico January 1, next, and American shippers are urged to expedite consignments to reach their Mexican destination before that date. If goods arrive there within the first fifteen days of January, the American shipper will be refunded the 10 per cent fee collected by the visiting Mexican consul in this country. If arriving after January 15, the new duty will apply and there will be no refund.

INITIAL PAID BY PRODUCE HOUSE

Dividend Declared on Issue of Preferred Stock

Details of Recent Vegetable Merger Given

Bailie Elected President of New Enterprise

Directors of the Consolidated Produce Company, Ltd., recently formed through the consolidation of Rivers Bros. Company, Inc., Klein-Simpson Fruit Company and Myers-Darling & Hinton Company, the three largest and oldest wholesale commission houses in Southern California, yesterday declared out of October earnings alone the first regular quarterly dividend of 17½ cents a share on the company's cumulative preferred stock, according to an announcement by Thomas S. Bailie, president.

Details of the capitalization and the personnel of officials and directors were also made public by Mr. Bailie. Capitalization of the company, which is reputed to be the largest produce distributing organization west of Chicago, with total annual sales of approximately $6,000,000, consists of an authorized 75,000 shares of cumulative preferred stock, 51,773 shares of which are outstanding, and an authorized 100,000 shares of common stock, all of which are outstanding.

The consolidated balance sheet of the company shows total assets of approximately $1,000,000. Good will, trademarks, etc., are carried at $1.

DIRECTORS LISTED

Officers and directors include Mr. Bailie, who arranged the consolidation, associated with Graves, Banning & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, and representing new interests in the company; Joseph D. Simpson, vice-president and treasurer, formerly vice-president and treasurer of Klein-Simpson Fruit Company; J. D. Machomich, secretary, for fifteen years secretary of Rivers Bros. Company, Inc., and in charge of their general office; Norman K. Evans, vice-president, formerly president of Rivers Bros. Company, Inc.; A. M. Klein, formerly of Klein-Simpson Fruit Company; Harry S. Myers, president of Myers-Darling & Hinton Company; G. W. Mead, senior vice-president of the Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation and director of Chrysler Corporation; Richard Bard, general manager of Berylwood Investment Company (estate of Senator Thomas H. Bard) and director of California Fruit Growers' Exchange and California Walnut Growers' Association and Security-First National Bank, and Richard J. O. Culver, attorney.

FOUR TO MANAGE

Active management of the new company will be in the hands of Messrs. Evans, Klein, Simpson and Myers.

Mr. Bailie in commenting on the formation of the new company said that it should hold a leading position in the produce industry of Southern California.

Cottonseed Unit Reports Status

Stating that the Pacific Cottonseed Products Corporation properties have now been built to the point where they are adequate to take care of its business, C. H. Bencini, president, in a letter just mailed to stockholders, said that the common stockholders should in the future participate in a greater proportion of the profits. A recent audit, he said, showed that during the past five and one-half years, after deducting $532,031 for depreciation and Federal taxes, the earnings were $1,445,017.

Dividends paid out of this amount totaled $828,031, while the balance, together with money borrowed from the banks, due to the rapid expansion and growth of business, has been put back into additional properties, he stated. Regular quarterly dividends of 2 per cent on the preferred stock and 1 1-2 per cent on the common stock have just been declared by the directors.

Rail Trust Share Values Shade Off

Liquidating value of each of the 800,000 shares of International Carriers, Ltd. reputed to be the largest railroad investment trust in the United States, was $20.01 as of the 9th inst., or $1.99 below the amount paid in at the time of issuance, Calvin Bullock, president, announced yesterday. The liquidating value on November 30, last, was $19.28 a share.

Total assets as of the 9th inst. exceeded $18,000,000, of which about 89 per cent was invested in securities and about 10 per cent in cash or call loans. Book value of the total securities held was $16,031,978, a market depreciation of $1,894,978. The market depreciation at the low point for railroad stocks in November was $2,830,142.

OIL COMPANY WILL BE REORGANIZED

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (Exclusive) Galena Signal Oil Company has announced that deposits under the reorganization plan amount to over 93 per cent of the preferred stock and about 88 per cent of the common, sufficient to warrant the plan being declared operative. A stockholders' meeting has been called for the 30th inst., to authorize the transfer of remaining properties and business to Galena Oil Corporation.

October net income after fixed charges of the Midland Counties Public Service Corporation more than doubled that for October, 1928, and totaled $21,379. The net income for the ten months closed October 31, amounted to $151,951, against $77,774 for the 1928 period, an increase of $74,177.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—A steady opening was followed by declines in cotton today under further preholiday liquidation, combined with some local and southern selling, which seemed to be promoted by the unsettled ruling of the grain and stock markets.

Prices made new low ground for the current movement and the midafternoon market showed net declines of about 13 to 16 points.

NEW REALTY MART STARTS

New York Venture Will be Watched Closely by Real Estate Interests Throughout United States

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Progress of trading in real-estate securities on the New York Real Estate Securities Exchange, Inc., which opened for business the first of this week, will be followed closely throughout the country by real estate brokers, stock brokers, bond dealers and others interested directly or indirectly in American real estate.

This is the first venture of its kind in the world. Others will probably follow in the large real estate centers if the New York experiment demonstrates that trading in real-estate securities on an organized exchange is a feasible and profitable business. In Los Angeles there are various plans under discussion for setting up a similar project here.

POPULARITY SOUGHT

Ever since trading in stocks took the country by storm, the real-estate interests have been anxious to similarly popularize real-estate stocks and bonds. Real-estate securities have never had an established market in which investors and speculators could buy or sell readily. This lack of liquidity has been a deterrent to the wide distribution of this type of security, especially since the public has become educated to the advantages of a free and open market.

The New York Real Estate Securities Exchange aims, according to the organizers, to remedy this deficiency. Its charter accredits the exchange with the purpose of facilitating the buying and selling of real-estate securities, providing a regular place for trading under proper rules of business conduct, investigating proposed listings and maintaining high standards of membership.

So long as the public appetite for equity stocks continues, the success of real-estate exchanges will likely depend on the degree to which real estate accepts the corporate form of business. By far the bulk of real-estate financing is in the form of mortgages, bonds and notes, and only a small proportion in stocks as the obligations of corporations.

Of late, however, a number of real-estate holding companies have arisen and have distributed capital stock to private investors. If satisfactory earnings can be shown on these stocks there should be no reason to prevent them from winning the favor of stock buyers.

NO STOCKS LISTED

Initial listings of the New York exchange fail to disclose, however, any stock issues. The sixty-nine issues listed on the opening day consisted of mortgage bonds, certificates and notes. The issues are the obligations of office buildings, hotels and apartment-houses in New York City.

Among the listings, for illustration, are 60 Broad Street Building first mortgage serial bond certificates, 6s, 1929-1939; 42 Broadway Building first mortgage sinking fund gold loan 6s, 1939; Westinghouse Building, 150 Broadway, first mortgage serial coupon bonds, 6s, 1939; 1070 Park avenue, Inc., first mortgage guaranteed Prudence certificates, 5½s, 1933; and J. C. Penny Building and Realty Corporation, 330 West Thirty-fourth street, first mortgage serial gold bonds, 5½s, 1926-1950.

The roster of members of the New York exchange includes representatives from nearly every branch of real estate; bankers, brokers, architects builders, building management companies, title, mortgage and investment bond companies.

Eason at Head of Loan League

George M. Eason, secretary, Insurance Plan Building and Loan Association, was named president for the ensuing year of the Building-Loan Secretaries Association of Southern California at the December meeting held yesterday at the Windsor Tea Room. Frank M. Wise, secretary, United States Building and Loan Association, was elected vice-president and Neill Davis, California Building-Loan League, was re-elected secretary.

"The present trend toward combinations and mergers of combinations is bringing with it and will bring for sometime to come a powerful demand for more interference by government in business, more and more detailed legislation, more and more minute regulations, and perhaps a more and more widespread demand for government operations to replace the difficult task of oversight and regulation," C. A. Dykstra, professor of political science, U.C.L.A., told the gathering. Charles A. Whitmore, recently named building and loan commissioner, was the guest of honor.

TIDEWATER OIL UNIT TO RESUME DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (Exclusive) Tidewater Associated Oil Company has resumed payment of dividends on its common stock by the declaration of two semiannual dividends of 30 cents each, the first payable February 15, next, to stock of record January 31, and the second payable August 15, next, to stock of record July 31. The last previous dividend on the common was a quarterly of 15 cents, paid November 1, 1927.

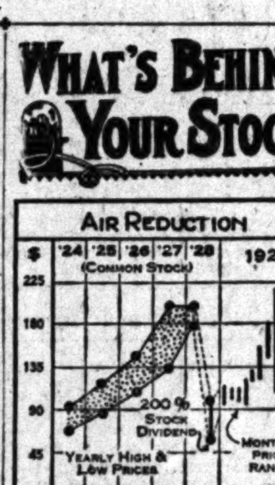
United Fruit in Expansion Step

BOSTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—The directors of the United Fruit Company at a special meeting held today approved the purchase of the Cuyamel Fruit Company. The purchase price was 300,000 shares of United Fruit Company stock.

The value of the United Fruit Company stock is estimated at approximately $300,000,000.

PRICE INCREASED

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (Exclusive) Remington Arms Co., Inc., today announced an increase of 12½ per cent in the manufacturer's price of ammunition.



AIR REDUCTION

The most important activity of the Air Reduction Company lies in reducing the atmosphere to its constituent parts, oxygen, nitrogen and the rarer gases. Of these, oxygen is the most widely used and is sold for cutting and welding purposes, in conjunction with acetylene and apparatus manufactured by the company, to steel manufacturers, railroads, shipyards and to metal-working trades throughout this country. The company now operates about eighty-three plants and 307 warehouses. A large interest is held in the United States Industrial Company, the management of the two companies being practically the same.

Net income for the nine months ended September 30, 1929, was $4,292,950 or $5.63 per share on the common stock, as compared with $2,178,100 or $3.18 per share for the same period in 1928. The financial position, as indicated by the June 30 balance sheet, was strong, with current assets of $14,000,000, as compared with current liabilities of $2,144,000, leaving a net working capital of $11,856,000. The book value of the common stock was $37.02 at this time, as compared with $32.68 on December 31, 1928. On July 15, the stock was placed on a $3 annual dividend basis. The former rate was $2, after the split-up.

Gain Shown in Winter Wheat Planting Data

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—The area sown to winter wheat this fall for the 1930 crop was announced today by the Department of Agriculture as 43,690,000 acres. The condition of the crop on the 1st inst. was 86 per cent of a normal.

The area sown a year ago was 42,820,000 acres and the condition of the crop, December 1 a year ago, was 84.4 per cent of a normal.

Rye sown this fall for grain was 3,466,000 acres and the condition of the crop, the 1st inst. was 87.2 per cent of a normal, compared with 3,456,000 acres and a condition of 84.4 a year ago.

The abandonment in 1929 of winter wheat was 6.2 per cent of the acreage sown; in 1928 it was 23.5 per cent, and the average for the ten years, 1918-1927, was 10.8 per cent.

COLLINS & AIKMAN EARNINGS ADVANCE

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (Exclusive) Collins & Aikman Corporation, manufacturers of pile fabrics, reported today a net income of $1,686,984 for the nine months closed November 30, last, after depreciation and tax reserve, against $1,311,927 in the 1928 period, an increase of $375,057, or nearly 30 per cent. The net for the quarter closed November 30, applicable to the common stock after preferred dividends, was $355,076, against $178,534 in the same quarter last year.

DIRECTORS OF LOAN LEAGUE MEET TODAY

The executive committee of the California Building-Loan League will meet today in the offices of the State Building and Loan Association of Los Angeles. J. M. Abbott, president of the league, in making the announcement yesterday, stated that many important matters have arisen since the last meeting three months ago, which was held in the north.

PRODUCTION OF TIRES SHOWS SLIGHT GAIN

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (Exclusive) Tire manufacturers in the United States produced 4,918,912 pneumatic casings during October, according to the Rubber Manufacturers' Association today, against 4,757,600 in September. Total production in inner tubes is 5,309,711.

STOCK LOAN RATIO SAGS IN TRADING

Relation of Big Board List to Market Value Sharply Lower

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (Exclusive) The ratio of security loans to the market value of all stocks listed on the 2nd inst. on the New York Stock Exchange was 3.32 per cent, the exchange announced today. This compares with a ratio of 8.51 per cent on November 1; 9.82 per cent on October 1, and 9.15 per cent on July 1.

Total market value of all listed stocks on the exchange as of the 2nd inst. was $63,589,338,823, the report showed. This is a decrease of more than $8,000,000,000 since November 1, when the total market value of listed stocks was $71,752,650,908.

As of the 2nd inst. borrowings by members on securities amounted to $4,016,598,769. This represented a decrease of $2,000,000,000 from the $6,108,824,868 reported on November 1.

The exchange also reported that the number of issues listed as of the 2nd inst. amounted to 1292, aggregating 1,117,126,726. On November 1 the comparative figures were 1287 issues totaling 1,110,419,105 shares.

Richfield Head Denies Truth of Market Rumors

Reports in circulation yesterday that New York banks had refused to renew loans on stock of the Richfield Oil Company or to accept the stock as collateral were emphatically denied by James A. Talbot, chairman of the board. Mr. Talbot ascribed the rumors to market manipulators interested in depressing the price of the stock.

Selling of Richfield shares started in New York during the morning, and reached its height in Los Angeles and San Francisco in the afternoon after the close of the New York market. From an opening of 26 here, the stock was hammered to a low of 2[illegible], after which a short rally brought the price back to a close of 22 3-4.

"Richfield," said Mr. Talbot in denying the rumors, "was never on a sounder basis than it is today, and its prospects for largely increased earnings in the future were never brighter. The year 1929 will close as the best year in the history of the company with net earnings of from $4.50 to $5 a share after excessive write-off for depletion depreciation, intangible drilling expense, etc.

"The current position of the company is the most satisfactory it has ever known. Ample reserves have been set up in the event of adverse decision in the Pan American Elk Hills litigation. In addition to such reserves Richfield holds a contract with E. L. Doheny through whom these properties were acquired, carrying a substantial indemnity from Mr. Doheny in the event the suits are lost.

"However, we confidently expect a favorable decision which would, of course, materially add to the present net worth of the company."

Exchange Puts New Issues on Trading List

Governors of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday approved the listing of additional common stocks of the Western Pipe and Steel Company of California and the Paraffine Companies, Inc., and also the removal of the preferred stock of the Globe Grain and Milling Company, F. E. Sanford, secretary and manager of the exchange, announced.

The Globe stock will be removed inasmuch as the issue matures in two years and the company did not wish to go to the expense of complying with the exchange ruling that certificates be all-steel engraved.

The Western Pipe listed 13,141 additional shares, bringing the total stock outstanding to 170,751 shares. The new issue is in connection with the purchase of Western Pipe and Steel Company of Illinois. By reason of a recent stock dividend, Paraffine lists 9326 additional shares, bringing the total common stock outstanding to 475,616 shares.

New Financing Total for Week Records Gain

NEW YORK, Dec. 20, (Exclusive) New financing during the week ended the 20th inst. aggregated $170,224,000, of which $157,774,000 was bonds and $12,450,000 stocks. The total which does not include $69,395,000 in United States Treasury bills compares with $100,233,161 entirely of bonds in the preceding week.

In the comparative 1928 week new financing totaled $150,455,008, of which $94,503,000 was in bonds and $55,952,000 in stocks.

Since the beginning of the year new bond financing thus far amounts to $3,350,136,069, as against $4,819,833,840 in the 1928 period. Stock financing from January 1 to date totals $3,038,406,782.

RAIL COMBINE PLAN READY

Tentative Consolidation Program of Interstate Body Provides for Nineteen Systems

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—At last the Interstate Commerce Commission is ready with its railroad consolidation plan. The tentative suggestion is for the country as a whole to be divided into nineteen major systems, with nine great systems in the West, three in the South, two in New England and five in the East. This is exclusive of the S Line, which is owned by the Canadian Pacific Railroad, and the Grand Trunk Western and Vermont Central in the New England States.

It is expected that the commission plan will show that the five trunk lines in the East will center around the Pennsylvania, New York Central, Chesapeake and Ohio, Wabash and Baltimore and Ohio.

In the New England States it will center around the New Haven and Boston and Maine.

In the South the Atlantic Coast Line, the Southern and Illinois Central will be the roads around which the mergers are expected to be built.

In the West the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, the Santa Fe, Burlington, Missouri Pacific, Rock Island, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Chicago and Northwestern and the Great Northern Pacific, (the merger name for the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific.)

This commission plan, held up primarily because of the difficulties involved in merging the unproductive small roads into the various systems, should be announced in a few days.

Whether this will be the final plan adopted or not remains to be seen. The railroads have not yet had their say and they will study it carefully before saying anything.

Progress in the railroad field is evident as the year closes.

When the United States Steel Corporation retired a large bond issue some months ago by the issuance of new common stock, it followed, rather than led, in the big move to cut capital overheads to the "bone."

An interesting by-product of the great bull market has been the great amount of fixed charges disappearing from the balance sheet of many large corporations. With the market in full swing and the public interested in stock issues rather than bonds, it was an easy matter to redeem bonds by issuing stocks. Many issues of cumulative preferred stock have also disappeared from the capital structure of many companies.

"It is a very convenient position for a large company to be in. In times of depression it can simply pass a dividend or if it feels it would rather do something else than pay dividends, it can do so. But not with bonds where a definite payment is guaranteed, whether times are good or bad.

The investor doesn't mind so long as things move smoothly but when his dividend is passed and income he has been depending on is not forthcoming, then the picture changes.

But most big business corporations now are in excellent technical position to meet whatever the future may have in store.

Year-End List of Extras and Initials Grows

Dividend declarations reported yesterday included extras of $1 by United States Industrial Alcohol and by Superheater Company, while Detroit and Cleveland Navigation Company voted an extra of 20 cents. W. F. Hall Printing Company declared a stock dividend of 6 2-3 per cent on its capital stock and Brazilian Traction, Light and Power Company authorized a stock dividend bonus of 1 per cent on its common shares.

In addition to the $1 extra, Superheater Company declared a quarterly of 62½ cents. On November 9, last, a 400 per cent stock dividend was paid and previous to that the company paid $1.50 quarterly.

United Gas Improvement Company authorized a quarterly of 30 cents on its common stock, against 25 cents paid previously. Stahl-Meyer, Inc., voted an initial quarterly of 30 cents on its common stock. United National Corporation declared a special dividend of 25 cents on its participating preference stock.

Trustee Share Offers Rights

Directors of the American Trustee Share Corporation have voted to issue rights on the 31st inst. entitling holders of its diversified trustee shares Series C to purchase additional shares at a discount of 50 cents a share from the market price, according to an announcement yesterday by Guy M. Rush, vice-president and Pacific Coast representative of Throckmorton & Co., distributors for the investment trust.

The announcement states that shareholders will be offered the privilege to subscribe to additional shares at the discount, to the extent of dividend coupons surrendered. Extra dividends were declared on the diversified trustee shares, original series, and Series C in addition to regular dividends.

Housewarming on Mart Slate

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Trading on the San Francisco Stock Exchange will be suspended on January 4, in order that the formal opening of the new Stock Exchange Building may be held that morning, governors of the exchange announced today. Members and guests will inspect the building during the afternoon.

The stock exchange records will be moved from the temporary quarters now occupied to the new building after the close of business January 3. The large new trading floor will be thrown open for business on the following Monday.

Net earnings after interest and taxes but before charges for the period were $6,567,315 as compared to $5,584,422 in the 1928 period.

Consolidated net income for the full year of 1929 is estimated at $4,750,000 after all charges equal after preferred dividends to $5.20 a share on the average common shares outstanding during the year as compared to $4,097,200, or $6.82 a share on the outstanding common stock in 1928.

Dr. Baer Gives View on Trade

Dr. John Willis Baer, who has just returned from a trip in the Central West and East, at the monthly meeting of the executive board of the Pasadena branch of the Security-First National Bank Thursday, said that eastern bankers he met were confident the country was basically in better condition than it had been for some time. Dr. Baer added that he believed general business will speadily and properly reach normal proportions before many months pass.

The executive committee of the branch reported loans totaling $17,831,896 and deposits totaling $21,312,049. New accounts opened at the Pasadena branch were 469, at the Broadway branch, 153; at the Oak Knoll branch, 91, and at the Altadena branch, 47, making a total of 760 new accounts.

Municipal Bond Issues Offered

Two Southern California municipal bond issues will be offered to investors today, according to announcements yesterday. A block of $66,357.90 City of Culver acquisition and improvement district No. 7, 7 per cent serial bonds will be tendered by the District Bond Company. The estimated valuation of the land and improvements within the district is reported to be in excess of $3,000,000 as against the bonded indebtedness represented by this issue.

An issue of $58,237.01 City of Riverside 1915 Act, 7 per cent improvement bonds will be offered by Municipal Bond Company. The appraised value of the real estate and improvements within the district totals $890,350, as against the $58,237.01 bonded indebtedness of this issue, it was stated.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Stock Prices Fall as Bear Raiders Get Control; Richfield Hit Hardest

Bear pressure knocked down prices on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday as a widespread liquidation swept through the list and carried a number of issues below the bottom established in the October break and others from 1 to 2 points. An erratic New York market caused flurries of buying and selling during the morning part of the session but towards noon resistence broke down under a renewed bear attack. The volume of sales reached the highest point in several weeks.

Richfield Oil held the center of attention as a steady pounding by bear interests forced the stock down more than 5½ points shortly before the close to a new low level for the year at 20 3-8. More than 12,000 shares of the issue were sold up to 11 o'clock and a steady price level of around 25 was maintained up to noon when the stock fell off under the steady pressure. Belated support brought the stock back to 22 3-4 for a net loss of 2 1-4 points. Nearly 27,000 shares crossed the board.

The condition, to a less severe extent, was witnessed in several others of the more popular issues. Transamerica, after opening at 41, dropped to 39 3-8 and recovered to close at 40 1-4, down 1¼ after a transfer of 17,600 shares. The new common stock of Pacific Finance registered a record low at 37½ where it closed, off 2 points. Security-First National Bank touched a new bottom, down 2 1-4 to 110 7-8 but recovered slightly to close at 111.

Other new low marks for the year were recorded for Los Angeles Investment (new stock) off 1 to 16; Byron Jackson, down 1½ to 15½; Douglas Aircraft off 1 to 14, and Hydraulic Brake, off 6 to 39. The last, however, went ex-dividend yesterday.

Oil shares were no exception to the general trend. Both Union issues showed strong resistance by selling down only fractionally. Standard of California lost 1 1-4 to 59 3-4 and Rio Grande, 1 point to 18 5-8.

Sales totaled 80,561 shares valued at $2,719,357; previous day, 43,367 shares valued at $993,962.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Prices eased in a dull bond market today. Heavy demands for currency and the shipment of $12,500,000 in gold to France brought firmer money rates, although the effect of the gold withdrawal was reported offset by Federal Reserve Bank purchases of government securities, which were firm.

The sharp break in stocks during the final hour sent the convertibles skidding and net losses ran from 1 to 4 points. American Telephone 4½s dropped to 132 and then rallied a point for a net decline of 4. Other debentures in this group affected by the general softness were American I. G. Chemical 5½s, Atchison 4½s, Allegheny 5s, International Telephone 4½s and New Haven 6s.

For the first time in a week the first grade rails failed to get support and sold off in minor fractions. United States governments were firm. Secondary rails, industrials and utilities sagged. Trading in all the domestic groups, however, was thin, and the market manifested the usual preholiday apathy which was increased by 5 per cent rates for both time and call loans.

The foreign list was active and offerings of leading European government loans found ready absorption at slightly higher levels. Argentine 6s added to their Thursday gains and at the close had virtually recovered their recent losses, but Brazilian, Colombian and several municipal and provincial Latin-American loans were heavy.

Softening of the utilities brought losses of about a point in Louisville Gas and Electric 5s, New Orleans Public Service 5s and New York Telephone 6s. Among the industrials, U. S. Rubber 5s, Lorillard 5½s, B. F. Goodrich 6½s, Goodyear 5s and a few others sagged fractionally. Foreign sugars weakened.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

LOS ANGELES CURB

While the volume of selling was not as extensive as on the senior board, prices on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday were depressed generally. A few new low marks were chalked up but these were mostly inactive issues in the group quoted under $5 a share.

Fokker Aircraft fell off 2½ to a new low mark at 14½ and Pacific Associates hit a new bottom at 19 3-4, down 1½. Gladding McBean was particularly active and under pressure was depressed 1 3-8 points to 58. The Neon Company of Delaware dropped 2 1-4 points to 22 7-8 and Cities Service, 2 3-8 to 22 7-8. Consolidated Steel lost a point to 13½ and Pacific Indemnity, an inactive trader, slumped 24 points to 200. Transcontinental Air Transport hit a new low at 7 5-8, down 6 7-8 from its last sale here some time ago.

Kemper Radio, Occidental Petroleum, Universal Oil and Lockheed Aircraft were the hardest hit among the lower priced shares, each dropping from 20 to 30 cents. New stock of Universal transferred at 14 1-4.

Sales totaled 82,437 shares, valued at $304,013; previous day, 51,768 shares valued at $136,351.

Heavy Selling Brings Drop in Wheat Futures

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Wheat went hand-in-hand with the stock market today in descending to price levels not reached heretofore since November. Dearth of overseas demand for North American wheat, except on pronounced setbacks in values, was largely responsible, together with correct forecasts that official figures this afternoon regarding domestic winter wheat acreage would show a material increase. Much interest was shown in the fact that on today's breaks the price of December delivery of wheat here and elsewhere tumbled down to below the Federal Farm Board's basis for loans on wheat.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were fixed at nearly the bottom point reached, 2⅞@3⅛c a bushel below yesterday's finish. Corn closed ⅛ to ⅝@1c down, oats varying from ⅜c decline to a shade advance, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 20c.

Notwithstanding that the wheat market today acted in more or less disregard of the Federal Farm Board's standard of wheat values, bids were posted here after the close of business offering to pay the farm board's full price of 1.18 a bushel for No. 1 hard winter wheat, twenty-day shipment. The bids were made by the Rural Grain Company, a subsidiary of the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, and were generally taken to indicate that the farm board in upholding wheat prices was ready to go further than merely making loans and that notwithstanding adverse market fluctuations, would back up actual purchases of wheat at the scale of values which the board has heretofore steadfastly maintained as a loan basis.

General selling of wheat future deliveries forced the market downward today to about 17c a bushel under recent top figures and was largely associated with the circumstances that no wheat exports of consequence, either from the Gulf of Mexico or Atlantic seaboard, had been announced during the last three days. Export purchases of 1,000,000 bushels of North American wheat today came after the market had undergone decided setbacks in price, but had only a transient effect as a rallying influence.

Washington messages quoting President Legge of the Federal Farm Board as saying that representatives of the organization are abroad preparing market outlets were likewise of only temporary effect, and so too, were continued unfavorable harvest advices from Argentina. The government report after the close showed 870,000 acres increase of domestic winter water area for the 1930 crop and that the condition of this wheat is 1.4 per cent above a ten-year average.

Corn and oats sagged, owing to sympathy with wheat weakness.

Provisions reflected downturns, not only in grain, but in hog values as well.

METAL MARKET

CLEVELAND, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says prices on low carbon stainless steel products have been reduced from 1 to 6 cents a pound and quanity differentials for large lots have been instituted. Not much first quarter sheet business has been placed as yet, but going business is sufficient to afford some idea of prices available.

Operations at eastern plate mills appear to be around 80 per cent of capacity, with demand continuing to show considerable vitality for this season.

REINS OF MART IN BEAR HANDS

ing about 5 to 11 points lower included American Tobacco B, American Water Works, J. I. Case, Chesapeak and Ohio, Delaware and Hudson, Johns Manville, Macy Sears, Roebuck, Simmons, Western Union, and Woolworth. Columbian Carbon dropped 24 points and rallied 3.

Commodities were also heavy. Wheat futures dropped about 3 cents in anticipation of a bearish winter crop report, and corn lost about a cent. Cotton lost 65 to 80 cents a bale.

Foreign exchanges held steady, with strength of the French franc a notable feature.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Bear raiders appeared suddenly in Montgomery street today. They centered their attack upon Richfield Oil of California, at the same time directing a hot fire at Transamerica and Caterpillar Tractor.

Throwing 33,800 shares of Richfield onto the market, operators for the decline broke the stock's resistance after the first half hour, and gradually depressed it during the morning. In the afternoon selling was redoubled, quickly tumbling the price to 20⅛, a record low for the year. A subsequent rally carried it back 3 points, but the final trading was nervous and rapid, losing a part of the gain. The last sale was at 22¾, down 3¼ for the day. So hot was the trading pace that board markers did not have the final sales recorded for several minutes after the close.

Transamerica came in for the second hardest bombardment on the stock exchange list. Buyers absorbed 32,300 shares, some as low as 39⅛. At the close the stock was down 3 points at 40½. Pressure on Caterpillar, although next in line, was a poor third, only 10,300 shares crossing the tape. No news was developed to undermine the standing of these stocks, and the selling, like that in Richfield, was laid to professionals who sought to weaken the entire market by battering down the resistance of the leaders. Caterpillar lost 3¾, but recovered a fraction.

Five new lows recorded included besides Richfield, both the radios, Kolster and Magnavox, and Golden State Milk in the industrial list and North American Oil.

The oil group continued to lose ground approaching the lows of the year. Sutro & Co. oil averages stood at 35.45 compared to the year's low of 35.40. The loss on the averages was 1.1. North American at its new low was down 1⅛ at 15¼. The entire list showed lesser losses.

Utilities presented the following picture: Pacific Telephone, down 14 on a few sales; Pacific Lighting, down 3½; Pacific Public Service, down 1; Pacific Gas, down ⅛, and the preferred utility stocks down a point or less.

Paraffine headed the industrial drop, with a 9-point loss. Falls of 1 to 3 points listed Food Machinery, General Paint A and B, Hawaiian Pineapple, and Oliver Filters B, besides Golden State, which set its new low at 27⅝.

Trading volume nearly tripled yesterday's figures.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—The selling movement on the New York Curb Exchange, which has been under way for a fortnight, gathered increased momentum today, carrying most of the active issues down 1 to 8 points and a sprinkling of specialties 10 to 75 points, with at least a score of stocks pushed to a new low ground for the year. While "bear" attacks accounted for much of the day's selling, it also was apparent that steady liquidation of investment and speculative holdings was taking place as a result of the disappointing action of the market and business in general.

Public utilities melted rather rapidly under the pressure of a large volume of offerings. Electric Bond and Share fell nearly 6 points to 73⅞ and rebounded to 75¾. Cities Service sank 2¼ points to 23 and made only a feeble recovery. The stock sold as low as 20 in the November break and as high as 68½ a few weeks before. American and Foreign Power warrants fell 7¾, and a flock of others sagged 1 to 3 points.

Fox Theaters finally broke through its previous resistance price of 26 a share when another wide open break developed in Fox Film on the Big Board.

Some of the active oils broke rather sharply, although the late recovery cut down some of the losses. Gulf Oil of Pennsylvania closed 5 points lower, Solar Refining dropped 5½ and Standard Oil of Indiana, Vacuum and several others declined a point or more. The Galena Signal (old) preferred moved to new high level for the year on the announcement that more than 93 per cent of that issue and more than 88 per cent of the common have been deposited under the reorganization plan.

Investment Trust, Trading and Holding Company shares also presented several points of weakness. Interstate Equities sinking to a new low, while several others dropped 1 to 3 points, some of them to within a few points of last month's bottom prices.

Among the inactive specialties, Safeway Stores second warrants dropped 75 points, Deere & Co. 45, Continental Securities 36, Aluminum Limited 25 and Neisner Brothers preferred 17. New low records for the year were established by American Book, American Cigar Manufacturing, Butler Brothers, De Forrest Radio, Guardian Fire Insurance, Metropolitan Chain Stores, Miller & Sons, Otis Elevator (new) and Utilities Power.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—With receipts of desirable slaughter grade cattle scarce, values on steers were up 25@35c, while she stock maintained a firm position. The run carried a few loads from Northern California and Utah points, the balance being cutter and common cows from Arizona and local territory.

Two loads 815 to 970-pound steers carrying a small good grade and with the balance in medium flesh out of Northern California feed lots scaled at 11.35@11.60, other odd lots common going at 9.50@10.00.

Some sales medium grade heifers were made at 8.50@8.75, and small lots weighty cows at 8.00. The bulk cows in suitable killing flesh ranged at 7.00@7.75, and included one load mixed grade Utahs at 7.25. Dairy cows were in better demand than on previous days and commanded slightly better prices. Two loads Arizona cutter cows went to packers at 5.10@6.00, low cutters selling downward to 3.00. Bulls moved largely at 7.00@8.00.

CALVES—Carlots were absent and the undertone on odd lots trucked-in firm. Some light veals topped at 13.50@15.00 and common down to 11.00; culls and weighty calves down to 8.50.

HOGS—Yesterday's supply included four loads 195 to 205-pound Nebraskas at 10.60, or 20c higher than Thursday. A load 162-pound Utahs made 10.40 and a load and truck lot Californias, 10.15@10.25. Some stocker pigs made 8.50 and packing sows 8.00@8.50.

SHEEP—None. Medium to choice lambs were quoted 11.50@12.25 and medium to choice ewes, 5.00@6.50.

JURY FINDS PAIR GUILTY IN ROBBERY

Kavanaugh and His Wife Convicted for Theft from United Artists Theater

Edward Kavanaugh, 33 years of age, and his wife Mary, 23, yesterday were convicted in Superior Judge Wilson's court of second-degree burglary and grand theft in connection with the disappearance the night of August 19, last, of $12,800 from the safe of the United Artists' Theater. The jury of six men and six women deliberated four hours in reaching its verdict.

According to the State's charges, Kavanaugh plundered the safe in the theater office while his wife stood watch outside the building. The defense sought to establish an alibi for the defendants.

Judge Wilson fixed Monday as the date for passing sentence. It is expected Defense Attorney S. S. Hahn will move for a new trial at that time. Dep. Dist.-Attys. Curran and Crail prosecuted the case.

Postoffice Has Christmas Tree

INGLEWOOD, Dec. 20.—Due to the activities of the service relations council, made up of the heads and employees of the Inglewood postoffice, the lobby of the building has been beautifully decorated in appropriate holiday garb, something new, it is believed, in such establishments, always at their busiest at this time of year.

"The employees of this office wish you all a merry Christmas and a Happy New Year" is the inscription on a large placard that greets the eye of all who enter the lobby. This message rests under a large Christmas tree, glittering with ornaments and tinsel. Strung from the corners of the lobby are ropes of red from which hang silver streamers, while between the windows are Christmas wreaths.

Five Charged With Murder

ELY (Nev.) Dec. 20. (AP)—Warrants charging first-degree murder were served today against John Siri, Frank Campanero, Louis Piambro, T. R. Click and John Blasney, following the death of E. M. Jensen, 24 years of age, Thanksgiving night.

Jensen, formerly of Salt Lake City, and his wife, together with Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Williamson, became involved in a cutting affray with five men in Lane City Thanksgiving night. Williamson still is in the hospital.

Railway to Test Federal Order

PORTLAND (Or.) Dec. 20. (AP)—Announcement that the Oregon-Washington Railroad and Navigation Company will test in court the Interstate Commerce Commission's order to build the cross-State railroad was made today by Arthur C. Spenser, general counsel for the line.

The O. W. R. and N., subsidiary of the Union Pacific system, was ordered to construct the line from Crane, Or., to Crescent Lake, Or.

Police Free Girl Chained in Hole

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 20. (AP)—After being chained since yesterday to a bed in a hole under a garage without water or heat, Dorothy Van Camp, 14-year-old schoolgirl, was released by patrolmen today.

Russell Arnold, 53, is under arrest, charged by the girl with having dragged her into his home, beaten her with a strap and attempting to attack her.

BUILDING-LOAN UNIT TO PAY YULE BONUS

Employees of the Los Angeles Mutual Building and Loan Association will receive a Christmas bonus of $1 a month for the full length of service, R. Holtby Myers, secretary-manager, announced yesterday. Mr. Myers stated that his association has just closed the best year in its history and that the semiannual dividends on the guarantee capital stock have just been raised to 6 per cent, making a total of 10 per cent paid this year.

When a pipe burst, filling St. Cuthbert's Church, Durham, Eng., with steam, recently, Rev. W. Glynne asked the organist to play, after which the clergyman almost surrounded by steam, called for the collection to be taken.

JURISDICTION OF COURTS INCREASED

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 20.—Jurisdiction of two Southern California township courts, San Bernardino and Santa Ana, was increased by a ruling of the Fourth District Court of Appeals today to conform with the provisions of an act adopted by the 1929 Legislature to permit magistrates to hear high misdemeanor criminal cases and litigation involving judgments of $1000. The court, ruling on petitions for writs of mandate to compel the township magistrate to hear high misdemeanor cases held that the population of both the San Bernardino and Santa Ana townships are more than 30,000—the figure fixed by the Legislature to increase the court's jurisdiction. The order becomes effective in the San Bernardino township immediately; at Santa Ana, the order is delayed until January 1, 1930.

STOCK COMPANY GETS HOUSE

HUNTINGTON PARK, Dec. 20.—The Shelley Players are, within the next sixty days, to have a permanent stock house in this city, Shelley Coons, manager of the company, having secured a five-year lease on the Huntington Theater, which was the first picture house here and which was closed two or three years ago, after the opening of the California Theater. The house is to be redecorated, new seats installed and a new stage erected. The company has been playing here under canvas for a number of years. It is the only company presenting spoken drama in this city.

AUSTRIA BOOSTS SUGAR DUTY

VIENNA, Dec. 20. (AP)—The National Assembly today adopted a measure increasing the duty on sugar by $1.20 per 220 pounds, in order to protect the domestic beet-growing industry.

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

La Princesa Juliana Contrae Compromiso de Matrimonio

BERLIN, Diciembre 20.—La prensa de Berlín ha anunciado el noviazgo de la princesa heredera de Holanda y su primo segundo, el príncipe Wilhelm von Erbach-Schoenberg, de 25 años de edad, sobrino de la reina madre, Emma de Holanda.

El príncipe comenzó a hacer la corte a la princesa en Noviembre próximo pasado, en el curso de varias cacerías a que concurrió.

Pronto Será la Boda del Hermano del Mikado

TOKIO, Diciembre 20.—Hoy ha sido anunciado oficialmente el próximo matrimonio del príncipe Takamatsu, hermano del emperador, con Kikuko Tokugawa, nieta del último de los "shogunes". La boda se efectuará el 17 de Enero entrante.

El Senador Aprueba el Ascenso del Capitán de Fragata Byrd

WASHINGTON, Diciembre 20.—Fue votado hoy por el senado, y enviado a la cámara de diputados, un proyecto de ley por el que se asciende al grado de contraalmirante, en la lista de retirados de la Armada, al capitán de fragata Richard E. Byrd, por las exploraciones que ha realizado en la zona polar antártica.

Un Par de Secos Piden un Informe antes de Tiempo

WASHINGTON, Diciembre 20.—Curiosos de saber lo que está haciendo la comisión de Observancia de la Ley nombrada por el presidente Hoover, dos líderes demócratas "secos" han notificado hoy al senado que van a hacerse esfuerzos porque sean revelados al público los procedimientos de la referida comisión, y porque rinda ésta algún informe anticipado de sus trabajos.

El senador Harris, de Georgia, que abogó porque se votara el aumento del fondo de la Prohibición, se vio atajado en sus deseos de que el senador aprobara la moción de suplicar al presidente que consiguiera de su comisión un informe preliminar, a fin de utilizarlo al votar el fondo de observancia de la Prohibición, correspondiente al entrante año.

Perecen Cinco en un Siniestro Aéreo

WASHINGTON, Diciembre 20.—El aeroplano en que iba el diputado por Massachusetts, William K. Kaynor, a dar una placentera sorpresa de Navidad a su familia, acababa de poner la proa hacia el mencionado Estado, cuando se vino a tierra, ocasionando la muerte de Kaynor y de cuatro personas más.

Hacía menos de un minuto que el avión trimotor había despegado de tierra, y se hallaba apenas a 300 pies de altura, cuando se desplomó y vino a estrellarse en el aeródromo de Bolling. Rebotó al caer, se partió luego en dos, y abrió surcos de tres pies de profundidad en la tierra empapada de lluvia. Los viajeros murieron de heridas en el cráneo, que demuestran fueron precipitados hacia adelante, o golpeados con terrible fuerza contra el cielo de la cabina.

Además del diputado Kaynor, perecieron en este tristísimo accidente, su secretario Stanley B. Lowe, su amigo Arthur A. McGill, el capitán Harry A. Dinger, piloto del avión, y su mecánico Vladimir Kuzma, del aeródromo de Bolling.

Pocos Verán la Ceremonia Nupcial de la Gran Elena

BERKELEY, Diciembre 20.—Sólo se hallarán presentes ocho personas la mañana del lunes en la capilla de San Clemente en el bulevar de Claremont de esta ciudad, durante el matrimonio de Helen Wills, estrella de tennis, con Frederick S. Moody, Jr., corredor de San Francisco.

Los asistentes serán: el novio y la novia, el oficiante, rector de la capilla, Reverendo Lindley H. Miller; los padres de la desposada, doctor y señora C. A. Wills, de Berkeley; los padres del novio, señor y señora Frederick S. Moody, de San Francisco, y otro miembro de la familia Moody.

No vestirá la campeona mundial de tennis el velo tradicional de las novias, sino que irá al altar, sin comitivo ninguna, vestida de un traje sastre café, modelo de Patou con sombrero fieltro de igual color.

Concluída la ceremonia, irán los invitados a almorzar en casa de los Wills, y luego partirán los novios a un viaje de bodas de dos o tres semanas. Aunque se guarda reserva sobre su derrotero, rumórase que se pasearán por la costa de Baja California en el yate "Galatea," perteneciente al abogado Cyril Tobin, de San Francisco.

NOTAS LOCALES

Las Subcomisarías se Convertirán en Cárceles

El abogado de ciudad ha recibido ayer instrucciones del Concejo Municipal, de redactar una disposición por la que han de transformarse todas las subcomisarías en cárceles municipales. Esta determinación vino motivada por el fallo que pronunció un juzgado hace algunas semanas, en la causa de una mujer a quien se había procesado por haberle llevado licor a un preso en la subcomisaría de Wilshire.

Fue detenida y acusada de felonía, por suministrar licor a persona recluída en una prisión; pero el juzgado sostuvo que no se trata sino de una comisaría de policía, y no de una prisión.

La Biblioteca Observa la Recomendación de Escatimar el Agua

Con el fin de ahorrar agua, y no agotar la que tiene disponible la ciudad, la junta directiva de nuestra Biblioteca Pública ha librado órdenes a todas sus sucursales, a efecto de que los conserjes de las mismas dejen de gastar agua en el riego de los céspedes y de hacer uso del citado líquido para la limpieza de las aceras. En todas las dependencias de la biblioteca se hará todo lo posible por evitar el gasto innecesario de agua.

SCHOOL HOLIDAYS BEGIN

EXETER, Dec. 20.—Both grammar and high schools here closed today for the Christmas vacation. Only one week's holiday will be observed this year. School will be resumed on the morning of December 30 and be in session two days, then close again for New Year's Day. Each of the schools staged appropriate programs today.

TEACHERS GIVEN FINAL COUNSEL

Southland Institute Week Closes With Lectures

Prohibition Advocate Talks of Pre-Volstead Days

Dr. E. C. Elliott Entertains Hearers With Wit

"No leader of the wet forces would board a fast night train if he knew the engineer of that train was a drinker," Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington, general secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, asserted yesterday from the rostrum of the Bible Institute. The address was made at one of the final general sessions of the California Teachers' Association institute, at which Frank A. Henderson, newly elected president of that body, presided.

Dr. Cherrington confined his remarks to presentation of facts in the history of the prohibition movement. This movement did not begin with the passage of the Eighteenth Amendment but went back more than 300 years and every step that led to the Volstead Act had the liquor interests just one pace in the rear, the speaker pointed out.

NOT SNAP JUDGMENT

"Prohibition did not come 'overnight,' as the wets would have us believe; it didn't come with the passage of the Volstead Act. It did not just 'happen.' It is a structure the formation stones of which were laid more than 100 years ago in this country. And it grew up despite the efforts of the strongest lobby that ever went to Washington, a lobby that was maintained for thirty-five years.

"Ten years ago alcohol was king. Today he is a fugitive from justice. The first step in the suppression of a social evil is to deprive it of the sanction of law and the protection of government. It must then defend itself upon its own merits or demerits as the case may be.

"Prior to the passage of the Volstead Act, the record shows, there was consumed in the United States 60,000,000 gallons of wine, 160,000,000 gallons of whisky and 2,000,000,000 gallons of beer every year.

THREE PINTS A DAY

"Surely this record meant something more than a 'hip flask brigade.' It meant twenty-two gallons of alcoholic beverage for every man, woman and child in the nation. And since there were a few nondrinkers in that day, it resolved itself down to an average of 100 gallons of intoxicating liquors yearly for the remaining percentage who did drink.

"Hand in hand with this situation went licensed vice. Today there is only one State in the Union where any town or city has licensed vice."

Dr. Lois Coffey Mossman, assistant professor of education at Columbia University, who also appeared on the Bible Institute's morning program, deplored the practice of what she termed "busy work" for the children. She characterized it as clerical and asserted that many of the teachers in classrooms recently visited were performing tasks for which policemen and phonographs would serve a better purpose.

HEALTH TALK GIVEN

At the Health Institute in Patriotic Hall yesterday, organized under the direction of Dr. Sven Lokrantz of the Los Angeles public schools, Dr. Grant H. Lamphere, stomach specialist, gave the closing talk.

Dr. Lamphere stressed normal diet. This he defined as the foods rich in minerals and vitamines. "Diet has a decided influence on the character of the individual. The thin, nervous person is helped by acid-forming foods such as eggs, tender red meat, oatmeal, bacon and brown rice," the speaker said.

"The depressed or moody person needs alkaline-ash forming foods, such as celery, cabbage, turnips, citrus fruits, milk, potatoes and apples. Sufficient hours of sleep to build up the reserves of the body is also an aid to rational living. Regulation of the diet and the use of glandular therapy cures many of the disorders of the fourth and fifth decades of life," Dr. Lamphere said.

DR. ELLIOTT CLOSES

Dr. Edward C. Elliott, president of Purdue University, made the closing address of the week. He digressed from his subject to commend on traffic conditions in Los Angeles.

"The marvelous feats of those who drive automobiles here is the most amazing experience I have ever had. That two bodies can occupy the same space at the same time is demonstrated every hour of the day."

In discussing changing qualities of teacher merit, the subject of the address, Dr. Elliott stated that "fair-

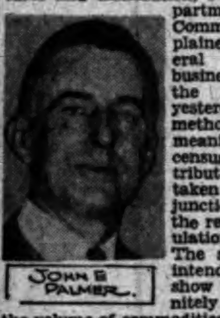
FACTS QUIZ FOR CENSUS EXPLAINED

Palmer Tells Business Group of Survey Which Will Set New Precedent



John E. Palmer, chief in charge of census information on manufactures and distribution, Federal Department of Commerce, explained to several hundred business men at the Biltmore yesterday the method and meaning of the census of distribution to be taken in conjunction with the regular population census. The survey is intended to show as definitely as possible the volume of commodities produced, the sources of outlet and affiliated details. This will be the first census of the kind ever taken in any country, Mr. Palmer stated, and stressed its importance as a means to further this country's business welfare.

He emphasized the fact that it is not a government-initiated move, but is a Federal response to the desire of American business for fact finding that will be of material aid in business stabilization and expansion.

The speaker emphasized the promise that the individual questionnaires returned in the census will be kept confidential.

Outlining the method of procedure, Mr. Palmer said that seventeen places were selected at which to hold conferences, Los Angeles being the sixteenth. The concluding meeting will be held in Boston. He said that 20,000 invitations were sent out for these conferences and it is indicated that the acceptances will aggregate about 15,000. Volunteers from among the conferees will aid in carrying through the census.

Dr. Frank M. Surface, chief of the domestic commerce division of the Federal Department of Commerce and of the department of business administration at Stanford, spoke of the importance to business of statistical information resulting from such surveys.

Clinton E. Miller, regional vice-president of the California State Chamber of Commerce, pledged support to the movement in behalf of his organization. Robert Linton, Harry H. Harper, and Manager Sangster of the industrial department of the Los Angeles chamber, indorsed the census.

John B. Long of the Newspaper Publishers' Association, announced his organization's interest, and J. R. Douglass, chairman of the research council of the State Chamber of Commerce, spoke in approval of the plan. Harry Baskerville represented the research committee of the local chamber.

The conference was sponsored by the Department of Commerce and the local Chamber of Commerce. James H. Smiley, district manager of the department's local branch of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, presided.

Witness Asserts Wife Controlled Making of Will

Testimony that Mrs. Wylma Mickley, former nurse of the late Edgar J. Mickley, married him less than two years before his death and induced him to make her the chief beneficiary of his will disposing of a $200,000 estate, was heard in the suit to break Mickley's will in Superior Judge Archbald's court yesterday.

Mrs. Laura B. Blackwood, sister-in-law of the decedent, testified Mickley told her he was "practically a prisoner" and had to visit his relatives in his old clothes. She added that Mickley had told her he was very fond of his niece, Marion Mickley, and intended to leave most of his property to his brother Albert. Miss Mickley and Albert Mickley are contesting the will.

Mickley was married February 3, 1927, and died December 24, 1928.

FITTS HAS HAT READY TO TOSS IN

Formal Announcement of Gubernatorial Candidacy Expected Before January 1

Formal announcement of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Governor of California will be made by Dist.-Atty. Fitts before January 1, according to close political advisors of the County Prosecutor.

The candidacy of Fitts, it is indicated, will represent a political coalition with former Gov. Friend W. Richardson, who announced in Sacramento yesterday his support of the District Attorney's candidacy. Fitts will not resign his post to make the race against Gov. Young, it is said.

Possibility of a spirited three-sided contest for the Republican nomination between Fitts, Young and State Controller Riley, whose candidacy was announced several weeks ago, is in prospect. It is understood that an effort will be made by the Fitts-Richardson forces to persuade Riley to retire, but this course, according to Riley and his friends, will not be followed.

Mayor Rolph, Republican, of San Francisco, who was a candidate for Governor in 1920, running both on the Democratic and Republican tickets and losing the fight to former Gov. Stephens despite the fact

GOLD TO FLOW FROM DAM

Whitsett Says Wilbur to Push Work Which Will Provide Employment for All

Declaring that the launching of the Boulder Dam and the Colorado River aqueduct will provide employment for every workman in the Southwest and will create a demand for materials from every State in this part of the nation, Chairman Whitsett of the Metropolitan Water District board of directors yesterday returned from Washington, where he has been attending a conference on Colorado River matters with Secretary of the Interior Wilbur.

Employment and material demands will not result alone from the Boulder Dam and aqueduct construction jobs, but from a general movement of prosperity and development that will be set under way by these two gigantic works, Whitsett pointed out.

"Secretary Wilbur is determined to push forward Colorado River development work as rapidly as possible," said Mr. Whitsett.

"He believes that a last effort should be made to compose whatever differences exist between Arizona and her sister States.

"Personally I feel that the national necessity of launching such constructive projects as Boulder Dam and the Colorado River aqueduct is so great and so pressing as to demand the immediate settlement of all sectional differences.

"When these projects are set under way there will be employment for every workman in the Southwest and a demand for materials from every Southwestern State.

"The Boulder Canyon Dam project and allied activities, embracing in the neighborhood of $500,000,000 in labor, food, supplies, machinery and materials, can be made to be of such tremendous benefit to the Pacific Coast and the whole nation at this time that no person or group of persons should stand in the way of these projects.

"These two major projects immediately will start in Southern California a constructive program to house and provide for more than double our present population. To double our present population on the coastal plain of Southern California within the next ten years, the houses, building and commercial activities in Southern California, will mean the employment of more mechanics and laborers than are now available for employment on the Pacific Coast. This development will create such prosperity for the whole Pacific Southwest as California, Arizona, Nevada and adjacent States have not heretofore experienced."

CHURCHES PLAN CHRISTMAS

Paeans of Praise to Rise Tomorrow in Opening of Yuletide Observance of Christians

From hundreds of churches of every denomination and from the lips and hearts of millions of men, women and children of Southern California will rise, tomorrow, hymns of rejoicing in praise of the Babe of Bethlehem, the anniversary of whose birth will be celebrated Wednesday.

Never before in the history of Los Angeles have such elaborate plans been made by the churches for entertainments in which the story of the Christ Child will be told in sermons, songs, pageants and cantatas. In the following columns, readers of The Times will find information concerning the scores of interesting programs to be given at the various churches of Los Angeles, tomorrow and during Christmas week.

TO DEDICATE CHURCH

Outstanding among events of interest to churchgoers of Los Angeles will be the dedication of the handsome Westwood Community Methodist Church, Wilshire Boulevard and Warner avenue, to be conducted at 11 a.m., tomorrow. Bishop Charles Wesley Burns will preach the dedicatory sermon, the chapel will be presented for dedication by Paul H. Helms, president of the board of trustees, and Dr. Ernest C. Moore, director of the University of California at Los Angeles, will assist at the services.

Tomorrow evening the services will be in keeping with the Christmas season and the sermon will be by Dr. John Lewis Gillies, superintendent of the Los Angeles district. Monday evening the organ will be dedicated with a recital by Sibley G. Pease. Dr. E. E. Helms will preach on "The Gospel for Westwood" and congratulations will be voiced by religious leaders of the community.

The 29th inst., will be observed as Charter Member Sunday and those joining the new church on that date will be given certificates of charter membership. Opening and dedication of the Sunday school also will be observed on the 29th inst., beginning at 9:45 a.m.

Erection of the church, which is Romanesque in design, and built at a cost exceeding $85,000, was made possible through generous subscriptions by the First Methodist Church, the City Missionary and Church Extension Society and by Paul Helms, son of Dr. E. E. Helms. Rev. John Wesley Robinson is pastor of the new church, which is expected to play a leading part in ad-

HIGHWAYS PROPOSAL OFFERED

County Regional Planning Commission Submits Plan for San Gabriel Valley

With major highways mapped at intervals of a mile, and secondary highways a half-mile apart, the plan proposed for improvement of the San Gabriel Valley by the County Regional Planning Commission was submitted to the County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

Seventeen incorporated cities are in the area of ninety-two square miles mapped by the plan, which covers territory extending from Pasadena to Claremont.

Further reports of the commission will cover the San Fernando Valley, La Crescenta Valley, the San Gabriel Mountains, Antelope Valley, the harbor district, and the western beaches.

The Supervisors authorized the reports in 1923, and the Regional Planning Commission has been working on the plans for several years.

DAMAGES REFUSED RINK-FALL VICTIM

Mrs. Thelma Lloyd's attempt to collect $10,637 from the Golden State Amusement Company because of injuries suffered from a fall in a skating rink failed yesterday when Superior Judge Bowron entered a nonsuit on motion of defendant's attorney. Mrs. Lloyd testified that the skates she was using were defective, but witnesses for the defense contended the plaintiff's injuries were due to her own negligence.

GRAND JURY WILL CLOSE YEAR'S WORK ON MONDAY

The 1929 grand jury will complete its work on Monday afternoon, and with the filing of the annual reports late in the afternoon the body will disband, it was announced yesterday by Foreman De Garmo.

Plans to read the final reports yesterday and complete their approval were delayed. The reports are said to be practically complete and to have been referred to various committees for suggestion and such changes as deemed advisable and now only await the action of the entire body to close the year's work.

Two indictments were returned yesterday, but the true bills were brought to correct some minor errors in charges preferred against Warren G. Black, Jack Allen, Glenn Smith and J. A. Austin on charges of conspiracy. The accused men now are held under bond in the previous indictment, which grew out of an investigation of the so-called gas tax frauds.

HAVOC OF GRIFFITH PARK FIRE HALTED BY BATTLE

One Killed and Many Hurt Before Weary Army Subdues Blaze; Loss Total Runs High

One dead, four seriously injured, a score less seriously injured from burns, approximately 1000 acres of beautiful park land denuded of protecting water shed, 3000 exhausted fire fighters, thousands of dollars damage—

These were the losses and casualties computed last night, in the wake of the fierce, wind-swept brush fire that yesterday swept the southern boundary of Griffith Park, centering between canyons marking the head of Vermont and Western avenues and back, at one point, more than a mile into the interior of the park.

Quieting of the wind, that during the morning hours at times reached a velocity of more than forty miles per hour, allowed the fire fighters to get control of the blaze shortly after 3 p.m. Only the rapid response of practically every fire-fighting agency of the city and county, however, saved millions of dollars damage to the homes of wealthy persons whose residences stud the hills on the southern boundary of the park.

FIERCE BATTLE

Driven before a gale the fire, which started from an undetermined origin in Commonwealth Canyon, approximately due north of Hillhurst avenue and Los Feliz Boulevard, fought its way to the backdoors of many residences that cost scores of thousands of dollars to construct. The line of improved property from Hillhurst to Western avenues was the last stand of the fire fighters and all along that line the fire fought its way to the front.

That no homes were burned was due largely to the prevalence of tiled roofs, and to the well-directed efforts of the fire fighters under Fire Chief Scott and County Forester Turner. Fire hose that sometimes stretched for a mile was another factor in quenching the flames. Volunteer workers, Boy Scouts and park employees also were of great assistance.

GARDENER KILLED

The man killed as the result of the fire was Jesse B. Dollar, assistant park gardener from Elysian Park. He, with four other Elysian Park employees, hurrying from their posts to assist in the fire fighting, turned over in an automobile truck at Los Feliz and Hillhurst avenue. Dollar was pinned under the truck and died shortly afterward in the Roosevelt Hospital.

The others in the truck at the time of the accident were R. H. Montoyo, George E. Davis, colored; Peter Ricea and J. H. Calvin. Montoyo and Davis, when taken to hospitals, were reported as severely injured. Ricea and Calvin were badly bruised and shaken.

Others injured in the fire included C. E. Lahey, 844 West One Hundred and Sixty-fourth street, who received second-degree burns fleeing from flames that threatened to engulf him. Many others received minor burns that were not reported, and narrow escapes from more serious injury were numerous.

PICNIC GROUND SWEPT

The fire started about 9 a.m. and an hour later the fire fighters had concentrated at the head of Vermont avenue to save the many fine homes in the vicinity. The flames swept down the canyon before a strong wind, wiping out the picnic ground and the fine stand of oaks that formerly attracted many to the place.

Turning west the fire next ate its way toward Western avenue, a leaping wall of flame marking its rapid progress. Hurrying before the blaze, however, fifteen fire companies laid long lines of fire hose up the canyon and trucks hurried men with shovels and other implements to the scene. Despite these efforts, however, the fire descended into the canyon and practically wiped out another picnic ground. The fire at the Western-avenue boundary was the hottest about noon, burning in the heavy brush and trees at the bottom of the canyon. The wind, too, blew stronger at that hour. At one time the fire was observed jumping several hundred yards at a time, when the strong wind carried flaming fragments high in the air and deposited them in as yet, unburned territory.

The wind at noon was practical-

DESERT STORM KILLS RANCHER

Pomonan Blown With Roof Off Chicken House

Sun Hidden by Dust Clouds Raised by Blasts

Cajon Pass Roads Blocked by Drifting Sand

Winds sweeping in from the desert yesterday caused the death of one person, blocked roads in Cajon Pass and vicinity, blew down trees and did some damage to crops and filled Los Angeles homes and business houses with grit and sand.

The wind raced down from the Mojave Desert, swept through San Bernardino, Pomona and Ontario, while from the south another storm rolled in from the desert in a great cloud of dust and hid the sun for hours at Indio, Mecca, Banning and vicinity.

POULTRYMAN KILLED

Clarence Easley, 65 years of age, Pomona poultry rancher, was killed when wind ripped the roof from a chicken house on which he was working. According to investigators the wind carried the roof seventy-five feet and Easley was carried an additional thirty-five feet. The body was removed to the Todds & Reeves mortuary at Pomona, where an inquest will be conducted. Easley had lived in Pomona for a score of years.

Much of the district traversed by the Mojave wind hit territory devoted to walnut culture. Where citrus acreage was struck the fruit was damaged slightly by whipping, according to reports.

SAND DRIFTS ON ROADS

No damage was done near Indio, careful check-up indicated, motorists only being delayed a short time by the dust.

At Ontario the wind started in at midnight and continued until noon. The sun was obscured and limbs from trees filled the streets. The storm shattered globes on ornamental lights and scattered Christmas decorations from the trees in the business district. Highways east of Ontario were made hazardous for motorists and sand drifts were reported as covering sections of the Valley Boulevard, Riverside Road and portions of the Foothill Boulevard. General traffic, however, over the pass was stopped and several stages did not make the attempt to get through owing to sand drifts.

AIR DUST-FILLED

Chino and vicinity bore the brunt of the gale according to reports. While the wind blew steadily at Riverside and Santa Ana and filled the air with dust, no damage was reported and the roads were not made hazardous.

According to the local Weather Bureau the wind was caused by a high-pressure area to the northeast. The recent low-pressure area to the southeast of Los Angeles, and which ordinarily would have been good for rains, has been shunted to the east and is now over Arizona. Col. H. B. Hersey, in charge of the Los Angeles station, reports a steadily rising barometer

GRADE-CROSSING GOAL SET

Conferees at Chamber Decide Bond Issue Needed; Harry Culver and Aides to Map Plans

Definite action looking toward the ultimate elimination of all dangerous grade-crossings in Los Angeles county was taken yesterday by 100-odd city, county and industrial leaders acting as a provisional committee of the whole at an informal luncheon-conference in the Chamber of Commerce. The conference was called by Shannon S. Crandall, president of the chamber, in the hope of speeding up the grade-separation work remaining to be done.

Although extensive in its eventual scope the action was confined to the unanimous selection of Harry H. Culver, developer, as head of a committee of thirty-five whose duty it will be to map a program having as its object the education of the public to the existing hazards of grade crossings and the urgency of a bond issue calculated to abolish them. By unanimous vote the following were named to assist Culver in appointing the thirty-five committeemen: Mr. Crandall, W. J. Sanborn, president of the City Council; R. F. McClellan, chairman of the Board of Supervisors; E. D. Lyman, president of the Automobile Club of Southern California, and the presidents of all chambers of commerce in the county.

APPROVAL SHOWN

All appointments were in line with two motions placed before the meeting by O. Ray Rule, president of the Pacific Finance Corporation, in an address delivered after all other speakers had agreed that the only potential solution of the grade-crossings problem lies in the carrying of a special bond issue election. Both motions promptly were seconded and passed.

"The man to head an executive committee in this matter should be a man who knows the situation thoroughly—one who has no ax to grind—one who has achieved some measure of national prominence," said Rule. Then he suggested Culver.

In his opening remarks, President Crandall explained he had called the conference because he believes it is essential that something be done as soon as possible to wipe out the grade crossings, directing attention to the fact that nearly 200 lives have been sacrificed this year on account of them.

"Our only recourse, it seems, is to a bond issue," he said, "and our only hope of making it carry rests in a campaign of education.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

SOME of the most interesting things in California lie on paved boulevards that nobody but the natives ever seems to travel.

One of these picture sections lies between Watsonville and Santa Cruz. I have never seen anything like it elsewhere in California; it is somewhere midway between the Sussex hills and the back country of New Hampshire—white barns and weatherbeaten old houses, with straggling wood fences climbing lovely Innes hillsides to the wild woods. It is beautiful but sad.

WIND WHIPPED

I have never seen anything more lovely than these hilltop forests of oak—bending before the storms that tear in raw and screeching from the sea. With their white wind-bleached trunks and their wind-whipped foliage, they look like Hebrew prophets wringing their hands in anguish at a wailing wall. They look like old ghosts of nuns—turning horrified from the sight of damned souls being tortured.

LOST LOVES

I came to Santa Cruz with a friend who was looking for the wandering little boy who used to be himself. He was looking for a little Spanish girl with a complexion of roses seen faintly flushing through old ivory.

He did not find the sweet, shy Dolores. She had been dead ten years—having married a stage driver and grown fat—and then giving up life with a sigh.

There ought to be a law that all little sweethearts with hungry, haunting eyes and little fluttering white hands should—at the age of 12—be pickled in the perfumes of Araby and sent floating away on a silver cloud.

OUT OF TUNE

Many architects are brilliant, but most of them are dumb. San Francisco millionaires, planning new summer homes around Santa Cruz, have mobilized some even dumber than most.

They are building—of all things—Hollywood Spanish houses on these wooded hills, with their anguished oak trees. The obvious motif of this landscape is gray Spanish moss and fog, and the heavy thick green of the redwoods. The correct architectural answer is wood and high, straight lines. Stucco and adobe should have white sunlight, and, for the background, the cruel beauty of the desert.

LATIN CHARM

The people on the farms around here are Swiss and Slavonians. They stop plowing to watch you and only give you back a blank look when you speak to them. They are a kindly people who sing and dance strange, bobbing old folk dances at their parties. But their lack of response is depressing to one accustomed to the sweet, eager politeness of our Mexicans, who wish you good day when you speak and tell you to walk with God when you leave them.

SCOTCHMAN'S SHOPPING

Watsonville ought to be a paradise for collectors. The other day an old rosewood melodeon sold for $10. These farmhouses are full of ancient walnut furniture and quaint chromos.

I bought a pewter mug today. Many would have haggled over the price, but when I want something I want it. When the storekeeper said it was 10 cents I just flung down the money with a gesture that was almost royal.

FATAL STREET CRASH RETOLD

Grand Jury Hears Witnesses of Miss Bell's Accident

New Evidence Holds Speed of Car as Excessive

Action Deferred to Monday for Further Testimony

Final action of the grand jury on the status of the Thanksgiving Day fatal automobile crash when Minnewa Bell, 18-year-old daughter of Alphonzo Bell of Beverly Hills, struck and killed one woman, injured another so that she died and wounded a third, will be taken Monday.

Efforts to complete the hearing of all witnesses yesterday were blocked when process servers were unable to locate C. A. Dixon, a visitor here from Missouri, who is reported to have witnessed the tragedy. The inquiry was continued until Monday at 10 a.m., when the missing witness is expected to be present.

Twenty-eight witnesses were questioned before the grand jury yesterday by Chief Deputy District-Attorney Stewart, who is directing the investigation. Fifteen of those who testified were witnesses at the Coroner's inquest, which found the Bell girl innocent of culpability. Thirteen were new witnesses, some of whom are reported to have testified that the death car was traveling at a higher rate of speed than permitted on the boulevard at the scene of the crash.

Miss Bell was before the grand jury for a short time, as was Mrs. Laura B. Nerdlinger, who was hurt as she attempted to aid the two women who were killed across the street. It was understood that they gave the jury practically the same version of the crash as told at the inquest.

Conflicting statements as to the speed of the roadster and the visibility on the evening of the mishap are reported to have been given by several of the witnesses.

Employees to Have Yule Party

More than 1000 employees and their families will attend the thirty-seventh annual Christmas party and dance of the Axelson Machine Company at 7 o'clock tonight at the Women's Club auditorium in Huntington Park.

H. E. Cassidy, director of sales research of the Axelson company, will be master of ceremonies. The entertainment will include vaudeville, special dances, the distribution of gifts to children of employees and an old-fashioned Paul Jones dance.

Cassidy said that the first Christmas party of the Axelson Machine Company in 1892 was attended by only nine persons.

S.C. FOREIGN STUDENTS TO BE PARTY GUESTS

More than 400 foreign students of the University of Southern California will be guests at an old-fashioned Christmas party in the Young Men's Christian Association lodge on the Trojan campus Monday at 7:30 p.m., it was announced yesterday. The program will include dances and songs of all nations represented. Musical accompaniments will be played by Miss Julia Suski and Mrs. Elina Rubio Schmid. Christmas stories will be read by Miss Leslie McDonald. The festivities are in charge of Miss Grace Muraoka, a Trojan co-ed from the Orient, assisted by the Cosmopolitan Club, and the foreign student advisory committee headed by Dean Francis M. Bacon and including Walter Sykes, Margaret Airston and Florence Scott.

CHILD TAKEN FROM MOTHER BY COURT

Mrs. Sara De Long and Daughter

Sara De Long danced so much that she didn't have time to take care of her 6-year-old child, Virginia, according to testimony before Superior Judge Schauer yesterday. So the court ordered Virginia placed in the care of Mrs. Marie Cheatham, the child's aunt, after a recommendation by Mary Maxwell, court investigator.

The child's father, Edwin De Long, obtained a divorce three years ago, but Mrs. De Long was granted custody of the child. A few weeks ago the father went into court and asserted that Mrs. De Long neglected her home. Witnesses supported this assertion yesterday.

Mrs. De Long broke down and wept hysterically when the court's decision was rendered.

Tuberculosis Health Work to be Widened

Twelve reasons why it is imperative for the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association to raise its quota of $100,000 through its Christmas seal campaign were outlined yesterday by Dr. R. L. Cunningham, president of the association.

Dr. Cunningham revealed that the 1930 program provides for the continuation of many activities being maintained by the association at the present time, and the following twelve extensions: More nurses, physicians and clinics; more social service follow-up work; more nutrition activities; more rehabilitations; more facilities for the tuberculous sick; more preventorium beds for children; more health examinations; more health work in industry; more legislation for better health; more year-around educational health work; more health work among high school children, and more health work among youthful industrial workers.

Those who have received Christmas seals are urged to remit promptly and, since it was impossible to reach all residents of the city by mail, those wishing seals are asked to communicate with the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association, 1008 Transportation Building.

LINDSEY ACTION PUT OFF BY BAR

Colorado Jurist's Troubles Topic at Meeting Here

Board of Governors Refers Matter to Committee

Three Attorneys Suspended on Various Charges

If Judge Ben Lindsey, famous Colorado jurist, recently disbarred from practice of law in the State of Colorado on the charge of accepting $35,000 in an estate settlement case, also is to be disbarred in California, that step will not be taken for another month at least.

This was made clear late yesterday by members of the board of governors of the California State Bar, who, following a discussion of the Colorado jurist's troubles in his home State, decided to refer the question to the board's disciplinary committee with instructions to report its findings at the January meeting in San Francisco. The board ended its December meeting here yesterday.

APPEAL EXPECTED

Because of the possibility that Judge Lindsey still may file a petition in the Colorado Supreme Court for a rehearing of his case there, the California board of governors cannot proceed with any action against him until that possibility is past, it was explained. The jurist has until the 24th inst. in which to file such a petition, it was pointed out.

Discussion of the Lindsey case yesterday was opened by President Beardsley, who introduced a transcript of the Colorado proceedings.

It was shown in a letter addressed to the California board that Judge Lindsey requested that he be given an opportunity to appear in his own behalf in the event that the board formally takes up the question of his disbarment in California. This privilege will be granted him, it was said.

ADMITTED IN 1928

Judge Lindsey, the records reveal, filed application for admission to the practice of law in California courts in May, 1928, just a few days before proceedings were started against him in Colorado that ultimately resulted in his disbarment by the Colorado Supreme Court. He was admitted by the State Supreme Court here after presenting his credentials from Colorado.

The board of governors deferred until the January meeting the matter of selecting the California city for the 1930 convention of the State Bar, scheduled for September 4, 5 and 6. Thomas C. Ridgway, former president of the bar, who forms a committee of one to select the convention city, will recommend that the 1930 meeting be held either in Los Angeles or Pasadena.

DISCIPLINARY STEPS

Disciplinary measures also occupied the attention of the board yesterday.

James W. Barbee, Long Beach attorney, was suspended from the practice of law in California for one year following an accusation that he misappropriated the funds of a client. Barbee recently figured in a police raid in Long Beach, when he was taken into custody, along with a woman police operative, after police crashed into a hotel room.

Suspension from practice for one year also was the disciplinary measure adopted by the Board of Governors in the cases of C. N. Mozeley, former assistant District Attorney of Orange county and practicing attorney at Santa Ana, and Llewellyn F. Marsh, Los Angeles attorney.

Mozeley was charged with converting money belonging to clients to his personal use. Marsh was disciplined on charges of making misrepresentations to clients concerning litigation entrusted to him. He faced seven charges before the board, which dismissed six of them.

REPRIMANDS ORDERED

William Rollin Wright, Los Angeles attorney, was ordered reprimanded because, it is asserted, he misappropriated a note and deed of trust belonging to a client and attempted to trade them and convert the proceeds to his own uses.

A reprimand also was ordered for C. H. Fish, San Francisco lawyer, for asserted misrepresentations concerning his operation of a collection agency.

The Board of Governors directed that the case of Attorney C. F. Rollinson of Los Angeles be referred to the Los Angeles administrative committee of the Bar with instructions to apply to the District Court of Appeals for his disbarment.

It is charged that, at the time Rollinson sought admission to the California Bar, he failed to reveal the fact that an action against him then was pending by the State Bar of Indiana.

SUSPENSION FACED

Attorneys who fail to pay their dues in the Bar Association came in for severe treatment at the hands of the Board of Governors. Eighty-five of them were suspended from practice, the suspension to begin January 1 and continue until they have paid their dues for 1928 and 1929. The board's action was based on Sec. 46 of the State Bar Act.

The meeting was presided over by Charles A. Beardsley, recently elected president of the Bar, and was attended by Governors Henry G. Bodkin, Los Angeles; J. W. Hawkins, Modesto; M. L. Sloss, Francis J. Keeling and Joseph C. Sweet of San Francisco, Thomas C. Ridgeway, Leonard E. Slosson and Alfred L. Bartlett of Los Angeles, Lawrence F. Puter, Eureka; Jesse W. Carter, Redding; Eugene Danay, San Diego; William E. Donahue, Oakland, and David M. Burnett, San Jose.

FINANCE COMPANY PAIR CHARGED WITH USURY

A complaint charging the Dodge Finance Company, 901 North Vine street, and W. Harold Dodge and Jennie G. Dodge, officials of the company, with usury in connection with a furniture loan made to Dr. Alice Meade Scrives of 4571 Twelfth street, was filed by City Prosecutor Nix yesterday. The complaint, according to Nix, is the first of a series to be filed, and follows his warning of a few days ago to furniture and automobile finance companies to see that the "bonus" which they collect from clients remains within the law.

ARRAY OF BEAUTY GRACES COURT

They're All Easy to Look At

An ARRAY of cinema beauty brightened Superior Judge Schauer's court yesterday, when twelve young women appeared with Attorney Alvin M. Asher of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios to have their contracts with the motion-picture corporation approved.

Ranging in age between 16 and 20 years, the girls are not of a legal age to make a contract without the court's approval. Those who signed their names are: Eva Hoffman, Patricia Lee, Evelyn Steglat, Anna Lehr, Ruth Jennings, Marian Barrer, Margaret Jones, Mary Carlisle, Elizabeth Turner, Connie Sweet, Jane Dunlap and Billie Reynolds.

GRADE-CROSSING DRIVE PLANNED

If you conclude to organize and will work hand in hand I have an idea we can create public sentiment in favor of a loosening of the purse strings. Nobody can measure human life in terms of money."

Following a recital of the history of the semiofficial body known as the Grade Crossings Committee by Secretary Barryman, Councilman Sanborn agreed with Crandall that a bond issue offers the only logical solution.

"But voting bonds is like the pendulum of a clock," he said. "Sometimes the public will vote for anything; then comes a change of attitude and public sentiment swings back the other way. It is up to us to remedy this situation."

Hearty co-operation of the railroads was pledged by D. W. Pontius, president of the Pacific Electric.

"It's going to take a lot of pressure to make the people realize the significance of this thing," he said, "but if a body like this will get behind it, it is possible the issue can be put over. And I can assure you of this: That if you will vote the issue the railroads will do their part."

Pontius urged that the Grade-Crossing Committee be depended on to name the grade crossings needing elimination. He praised the committee for its fairness to the railroads to date and for "getting out" conscientiously and investigating every proposed grade separation before advocating that it be constructed.

For the Board of Supervisors, Chairman McClellan spoke a brief indorsement of the move. As soon as the board is convinced that the people are ready for a bond issue, he said, it will feel that it is its duty to call an election.

FAILURES RECALLED

The fact that Long Beach and Pomona failed to support previous bond issues was touched on in an address by David R. Faries, chief counsel of the Automobile Club. After City Manager Buck of Long Beach had stated the people of Long Beach have been "eminently successful" in carrying bond issues, and expressing that the belief that they will not oppose the one under discussion, Faries recalled the first and second elections.

"The first election failed by being only 100 votes short of the necessary two-thirds majority," said Faries, "and the second was almost as close. And among the cities that did not return a two-thirds majority are Long Beach and Pomona. Yet, Los Angeles gave a handsome margin over the two-thirds majority.

"The reason Pomona failed is because the community was not adequately advised. Not enough publicity work has been done in these outlying cities. One little town was called on to vote only one-eighth of the cost of one grade separation and it couldn't raise the money. You can't separate any grade crossing for less than $250,000 and some will cost as much as $1,500,000. It will take a large-sized bond issue to eliminate all the crossings in the county; therefore, we must be prepared to answer all questions. It would be too bad if we found ourselves unable to say just how the money would be spent. Therefore, I say let us educate the public before calling the election today and voting on the issue tomorrow."

Attorney Joe Scott treated the project from a serio-comic viewpoint.

"Fifty years ago," he said, "the railroads had something else to do besides minding their own business, and yet they got together with the City Council and safeguarded human life. Of course, there are some who will say that travel then was practically limited to horses and carriages, and that horses had no sense and therefore had to be safeguarded. But I think many people driving cars today have even less sense than horses.

"Life, after all, has some valuation; and this enormous sacrifice of it needs revision at the hands of a group like this. In the last analysis the taxes probably will have to be paid by the groups represented here. I think a campaign of education is the essential need first; and then, with the co-operation of the railroads, whose motto is 'Safety First,' we can put this thing over—if we have the guts of our ancestors."

Other speakers included State Senator McKinley, City Manager Orbison of Pasadena and Mayor Hopkins of Redondo Beach.

EXPERT SEES NEW PERIOD FURNITURE BEING EVOLVED

Out of a welter of the grotesque and bizarre there is evolving a new period furniture design, according to Edgar Harrison Wileman, who yesterday closed a series of five lectures on furniture and interior decoration for the Manual Education Association of Southern California, one of the sectional meetings of the Los Angeles City Teachers' Institute. The lectures were given by Mr. Wileman in Barker Brothers' auditorium and covered the history of furniture and decoration from the Roman era to the modern.

Mr. Wileman in his closing lecture yesterday, said the evolution of modern furniture design had not progressed sufficiently to give the period a name but declared that the forms would eventually reveal graceful designs which would take their place in history.

"All new periods of furniture designs," Mr. Wileman said, "have been called 'modern;' that was true with Chippendale and with all of the great designers. The art, furniture and decorative material used in any period is simply an expression of that age.

"The early furniture of Spain was decidedly primitive. A common article was the refectory table—the type of table that was used by the monks in their dining-rooms. The chest also was an early production of old Spain, being the container not only for valuables, documents, clothes and such like, but for storing victuals for household consumption."

GRIFFITH PARK FIRE LOSS HIGH

ly due south, but at approximately 1 p.m. there came a sudden lull, and then the gale reversed itself and began blowing north. However, it lost much of its velocity and by 2 p.m., practically had died out, allowing the fire fighters to get control of the conflagration for the first time.

In a statement issued last night by J. J. Hassett, secretary of the Park Commission, it was declared that 1250 acres had been burned over, but that no buildings had been damaged. The bird sanctuary in the interior of the park was reported saved by the green trees about it. Hassett declared that it will take years to replace the burned shrubbery, the value of which cannot be estimated in dollars. A warm wind Thursday night was credited with adding to the inflammability of the brush.

Twenty full companies and many individual members of the Los Angeles Fire Department were called out. Fire departments of Glendale, Burbank, Lankershim and North Hollywood also assisted. The County Fire Department sent ten pumping engines, fourteen motor patrolmen, and 100 men recruited from the district. The Los Angeles Police Department and the Sheriff's office also sent many men.

FIRE NEAR VENTURA BURNS OVER TEN ACRES

VENTURA, Dec. 20. (Exclusive)—A lighted match thrown into dry grass at the north end of Stony Flats this afternoon was responsible for a fire that spread rapidly with the wind and burned approximately ten acres. No homes were fired and no apparent damage was done, county fire officials reported.

The fire was fought with shoveled earth by the county force aided by the fire department from the Shell Oil Company. The blaze took an easterly direction over the hill from the north end of Stony Flats.

FLAMES SWEEP RANCH NEAR FILLMORE

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

FILLMORE, Dec. 20. — Burning over more than 500 acres, a brush fire, which got out of control today, swept the Casner ranch, one mile east of Fillmore, and at a late hour tonight still was burning. More than 300 volunteers were fighting to check the spread of the flames, which at one time approached within 500 feet of a $500,000 Texaco oil refinery on the eastern edge of Fillmore.

One fire truck from Fillmore and three county fire trucks went to the scene, their companies forming the backbone of the fire-fighting organization. When 200 men failed to stop the fire, an appeal for another 100 was answered by volunteers. While the ranch land burned over was mostly grazing ground, the flames reached East Telegraph Road, on the opposite side of which are lemon, orange and walnut ranches.

mindedness" was one of the most valuable attributes of the teacher. He also deplored the "institute."

DECRIES INSTITUTE

"It would be better if this State and all other States would pass a law requiring teachers to spend this week first in a mental examination and second in physical exercise. It would be more profitable to put in these hours in a gymnasium than to be bombarded by someone occupying a machine-gun nest, such as I do at this moment. We worry about your spiritual health when what you need is to have your blood pressure taken."

In closing he told the teachers that members of the profession were supersensitive about their work; they couldn't stand criticism. "Not until the teacher can view her work as an engineer, with a detached and disinterested attitude of mind in which she tries only to see its virtues and weakness as a whole, will she reach that high place for which she is aiming."

How the State of California regards the aims and purposes of its educational systems was discussed by Vierling Kersey, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, at the session at Trinity Auditorium. He felt that the needs of the boy and girl five years ahead of the time when they go out into the world should be anticipated as much as possible in a thorough system of education.

INFLUENCES CITED

Outstanding influences in the development of the boy and girl he listed as the home, the school and the church as institutions. "But greater than the contribution of any of these," he said, "we are beginning to believe is what we might term 'the influence of the other fellow.'"

Looking into the coming year, he said it would be a prelegislative year in California, and urged the teachers to give some thought to legislative needs of the schools. As for the teachers themselves, he said, "we are not in politics, unless looking after the legislative needs of the school system is politics, or unless our seeing to it that our school-teachers are as a group healthy, happy and well paid is politics." He metioned the matter of tenure, retirement and sick leave as items of legislation in which teachers are vitally interested.

Children's Hospital Scene of Christmas Party

Little Folks Delighted by Gifts from Santa

A climax came last night to the endeavors of Al Malaikah Shriners to bring Christmas cheer to the poor of Los Angeles with a huge party at the Shrine Auditorium, which was attended by 4500 children. A vaudeville program, organ music and tableaus were part of the entertainment.

A great "snowstorm and blizzard" swept across the stage and in its wake came Santa Claus with numerous presents for each little guest. Refreshments were provided and at the close of the performance the children were taken back in special street cars to schools which they attend. This is the fifteenth Christmas entertainment and gift distribution by the Shrine.

Confinement in a hospital does have its bright moments and if actions speak for themselves one of the brightest ever known at the Children's Hospital came yesterday afternoon when about 100 of the crippled kiddies were entertained with a Christmas party by members of Al Malaikah Shrine on their annual round of the city hospitals.

SANTA'S ARRIVAL

The children, in their cribs, all were grouped upon the sun porch about a resplendent Christmas tree, and excitement ran near to the boiling point when Santa Claus's arrival was heralded by the appearance of the Al Malaikah Fife and Drum Corps and Drill Company C, acting as St. Nick's guard of honor.

Leroy M. Edwards, Potentate of Al Malaikah, played Santa Claus and delivered to each child a parcel marked with his or her name and containing the thing which the child had asked for especially. Fred J. Wadley, acting as Santa's first assistant, helped with the distribution and members of the patrol dispensed candy, horns, balls and other incidental gifts.

Even the nurses received dolls and each child was bedecked with a Shriner's fez and so, after executing a few plain and fancy drills, the nobles went on their way, leaving in their wake radiance, happiness and sunshine.

ANOTHER PARTY TODAY

This afternoon a corps of Shriners, headed by Mr. Edwards and including the band, patrol and chanters, will repeat the Christmas performance at General Hospital, where 200 crippled children will be the subjects of their bounty.

Tomorrow baskets of food and bundles of clothing will be distributed at Al Malaikah Temple by the Shriners to hundreds of the city's poor.

OCTOGENARIAN TO BE LAID TO REST TODAY

Mrs. Julia Longpine, 80 years of age, and a resident of Los Angeles for twelve years, died yesterday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. J. Maney, 7519 South Brighton avenue. Funeral services will be conducted at 9 a.m. today at St. Raphael's Church, Seventy-first street and Vermont avenue, of which Mrs. Longpine was a member. Interment will be at Calvary Cemetery. Mrs. Longpine was born at Montreal, but had lived most of her life in the United States, formerly having resided in Grand Fort, N. D., and at Seattle. Mrs. Longpine leaves her daughters, Mrs. Maney and Mrs. Olive Brown, and her son Frank of Oakland.

By discovering oil in the Recrea- tion Gun Club No. 1 east of Venice, the Ohio Oil Company has opened up considerable new territory for exploration purposes and started a brisk leasing campaign. At least six operating companies already have holdings there.

According to officials of the company, the new producer continues to put out approximately 2000 barrels of oil per day from a depth of 6199 feet. The output is flowing into the sump. Preparations are being made for the construction of storage tanks.

No accurate estimate has yet been made by Ohio as to the daily gas output, although the initial flow was said to be from 300,000 to 500,- 000 cubic feet daily. The oil is [illegible] and the oil is practically clean.

Ohio was bailing for a water shut-off and had not yet run tubing when the well came in unexpectedly. Several attempts had previously been made to shut out water. The producer is a short distance west of the company's old Del Rey No. 1, unsuccessfully drilled to 6200 feet in search of production.

WHAT THE POLICE ARE DOING

(For the purpose of acquainting Los Angeles citizens with the practical working of the city police department, and the results of police activities here, The Times is printing herewith the second of a short series of articles dealing with the subject.)

While the detective division or investigating unit of the police department is decentralized into fourteen different branches, the organization is under one head, the chief of detectives, Joseph Taylor. Ordinary crime cases, such as burglaries and robberies in which nominal losses are reported, are investigated and disposed of by the members of each substation division. Daily reports of these occurrences, however, are received by Chief Taylor every twenty-four hours. Felonious crimes are transmitted to the chief's office by teletype or telephone immediately after the reports are received from victims. In this way, in the case of a bank hold-up or murder or serious crime, the divisions are reorganized swiftly into one investigating unit.

The same centralization takes place with less speed but with like cohesion of the working forces in instances of lesser crimes. Information on robberies, stolen automobiles, etc., where quick apprehension of suspects is imperative, is exchanged between one division and another as swiftly as an operator can tap out the messages on the teletype keys. As a result detectives in the University division may recognize in a report from Wilshire division the the handiwork of a gang of service-station bandits operating in their own district. This brings about a co-ordination which operates efficiently under the supervision of the chief.

The central detective bureau is considered the most important of the plain-clothes divisions of the police department. It is located on First street between Hill street and Broadway, in one of the oldest and most dilapidated buildings occupied by public service organizations. Behind that dull brown exterior, however, some of the greatest dramas and comedies of life are enacted. It was there that the combined law-enforcing forces of the Southland made their headquarters in the most sensational man hunt of the century, the search for William Edward Hickman, slayer of Marion Parker.

Such outstanding episodes of crime come and go to thrill a nation but there are other innumerable chapters of criminal life which go on forever behind the stony face of the old building. Step inside.

Excluding the cobwebby details, overlooking the antiquated furnishings and peering through an atmosphere somewhat stifling for want of ventilation and sunshine a veritable catacomb of little offices set apart by thin board partitions is found. In the largest and most pretentious, if one mahogany table and an old-fashioned roll-top desk make it so, we find the chief. Tucked off in a corner is the inspector who handles the correspondence and all matters having to do with law and extradition proceedings. He boasts a secretary like the chief. As a matter of fact, all the squad captains boast secretaries. The majority of the secretaries have what might be termed roving commissions.

In another corner behind one of the two original walls is the captain of the business office in a sort of mauve seclusion. He receives the telegrams, makes assignments and superintends the flying squadrons. In the outer reaches of his office are the switchboard with two operators juggling the plugs and the teletype machines.

Behind another wall the members of the flying squadron wait for the fast calls, a burglar in a house, a traffic accident, a fire, a store robbery, anything.

And then through a labyrinth of dark hallways, up and down several series of steps, we find the various squads scattered around the block halfway to Second street.

The exploration reveals the following details: Robbery squad, burglary, including the safe detail, homicide, forgery, pawnshop, Bunko, narcotic, missing-persons bureau, auto-theft detail and emergency squad.

Each squad is commanded by a captain or an acting captain of detectives and there are 164 plain-clothes officers, detectives and detective students.

"What are they all doing?" asks Mr. Average Citizen. It will not be difficult to find out. Investigation of most of the violent crime, excluding murder, is made by the robbery and burglary details. Their activities, then, will be looked into first.

APPEAL JUDGES PRAISED

Bar Committee Lauds Work Being Done by New Department of Superior Court

Formal felicitations were offered publicly yesterday to Superior Judges McLucas, Bishop and Shaw, sitting en banc in the Appellate Department of the Superior Court of Los Angeles county, by a special committee of the Los Angeles Bar Association in recognition of the good work performed by the court since its inception last September.

The new court now is handling from 100 to 125 cases a month, actions appealed from the Municipal Court, according to Presiding Judge McLucas.

At the opening of court at 10 a.m., a large delegation of Superior and Municipal Court judges and county officers filed into the courtroom headed by Guy Crump, president of the Los Angeles Bar Association. The bar committee was presented by Attorney Crump. The committee was headed by Judge Robert M. Clarke, chairman. The others were W. J. Hunsaker, Judge Louis W. Meyers, Richard Dillon and Ward Sullivan.

Short speeches then were made by members of the committee commending the three judges. All agreed that the new department, particularly since the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court has been raised from $1000 to $2000 in cases involving money, has speeded up court work in Los Angeles. Formerly the actions were sent to various departments and handled as the courts came to them on their calendars.

The three judges answered the committee in short talks of appreciation of the bar's recognition of their work. Judge McLucas declared that since the department opened 408 cases appealed from the lower court have been decided. He also pointed out that a branch of the County Clerk's office has been established in connection with the court.

Funeral Service for War Nurse Will be Today

Funeral rites will be conducted at the Little Church of the Flowers at 2 p.m. today for Miss Florence C. Patterson, nurse at the Monte Sano Hospital, who gave up a grand opera career during the World War to serve as a nurse in France. Interment will be in a temporary vault at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Born in San Francisco forty-four years ago, Miss Patterson studied music in New York for several years, and finally achieved a part in the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company. When the United States entered the war in 1917, she enlisted as a nurse, serving in France until the end of the war. She then returned to California. Two aunts in Vancouver are the only relatives left. E. Clair Overholtzer is in charge of funeral arrangements.

ODD FELLOWS MEET TONIGHT

The thirty-eighth birthday anniversary of Semi-Tropic Lodge, No. 731, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will be celebrated tonight with a Christmas program in Odd Fellows' Temple, Washington and Oak streets. A feature of the affair will be a huge lighted Christmas tree, from which gifts will be plucked and presented to children of the members.

MEXICAN EXILE HERE FOR VISIT

Gen. Vasconcelos, Rival of Ortiz Rubio, Comes by Auto from Tucson

Gen. Jose Vasconcelos, prominent in the political affairs of Mexico and recently defeated for the Presidency of the republic by Ortiz Rubio arrived in Los Angeles last night by motor car from Tucson.

Vasconcelos, who has been a political exile from his country since his defeat at the polls has been accused by his enemies of fomenting a conspiracy for a military and political revolution. He had been in the border cities, on the American side, in conference with other political refugees.

Thursday one of his former aides, Gen. Bouquet was executed by a firing squad in Sonora. Fear that an attempt might be made to kidnap Vanconcelos and take him back across the border was expressed by friends in California, who urged him to join his family in Los Angeles.

The wife and two children, Jose, 20, and Carmen, 17, have made their home at 4831 Lemon Grove avenue. Wednesday the two children accompanied by a nephew of Vasconcelos, Luis Calderon, motored to Tucson to return here with their father last night.

Headquarters of Vasconcelos will be established in a downtown hotel.

JURY OUT IN FRAUD CASE TRIAL

Six Hours' Deliberation Fails to Produce Verdict in Hamilton Hearing

Six hours of deliberation on the part of a jury of eight women and four men failed last night in Superior Judge Wood's court to bring a verdict in the case of John W. Hamilton, psychology lecturer and promoter, charged with three counts of grand theft in connection with the sale of lots in the town of Ripley.

The jurors were locked up at 10 p.m. and will resume deliberation at 9:30 a.m. today.

The jury retired at 2:30 p.m. and a few minutes later called for exhibits in the case. Nothing more was heard from them up to the time they were taken to dinner at 5:30. Judge Wood instructed the jury to return after the dinner recess to resume deliberations.

Hamilton is asserted fraudulently to have obtained approximately $23,000 from Mrs. A. W. Mills, Mrs. H. L. Hamilton and Mrs. May Allen in connection with his real estate promotion. Another count, accusing him of obtaining an additional $25,- 000 from Mrs. Mills, was dismissed early in the trial on the ground of insufficient evidence.

Hamilton testified in his own defense and denied he intended to defraud anyone in connection with the sale of lots in the Coachella Valley town.

The case was prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jones.

WOMAN TEACHER IN JAIL ON AUTO CHARGE

Lois Watkins, 29-year-old Walnut Park school-teacher, was sent to jail for five days yesterday by Municipal Judge Valentine following her conviction on reckless-driving charges. Witnesses called by Deputy City Prosecutor Reynolds testified that Miss Watkins's automobile hit Mrs. Claudia Appleby, 21, as she was attempting to board a bus at Forty-seventh and Avalon streets. Mrs. Appleby was removed to a hospital.

CONFEREES FIX LEGAL-AID AIMS

Public Defenders for All of Large Cities Forecast

Orfila One of Chief Speakers at Association Session

Varied Problems Discussed in Gathering at U.S.C.

All the larger cities eventually will maintain public defenders to represent poor defendants in the criminal courts, it was predicted yesterday by Public Defender Ernest R. Orfila of Los Angeles, speaking to the first conference of legal-aid organizations of the Pacific Coast. The conference met in the school of law of the University of Southern California, under the auspices of the National Association of Legal Aid Organizations.

Public Defender Orfila cited that the City Defender's office of Los Angeles during 1929 appeared for a total of 7373 persons charged in the Municipal Court with the commission of misdemeanors. This total, an increase of 2941 over the preceding year, he attributed to increases in population and in service rather than to increase in crime.

CLINIC DISCUSSED

He outlined the co-operation of his office with the legal-aid clinic of the University of Southern California, in charge of John S. Bradway, secretary of the association, conducting the conference.

Various phases of legal-aid work and problems were treated by other speakers yesterday, following welcome by Dean Justin Miller of the S.C. law school. Alden Ames of San Francisco read a paper on the "History of Legal Aid Work on the Pacific Coast." Mrs. Dora Shaw Heffner of the Southern California Legal Aid Clinic, spoke on "What the Legal Aid Organization Can Do for the Bar." Col. John W. Barnes of the same clinic spoke on "Legal Aid Organizations as Business Advisers."

OTHERS SPEAK

Mrs. Ethel M. Turk, secretary, Assistance League of Southern California, spoke on "The Relation Between Legal Aid Work and Social Work." "Why the Community Needs a Legal Aid Organization" was treated by Mrs. C. Raymond Bradford, Southern California Legal Aid Clinic Association. Mrs. Janet Conroy spoke on "Social Problems From the Legal Standpoint."

Raymond Dougherty, Alameda County Legal Aid Society, presented a paper on "Organizing a Legal Aid Society." Kimpton Ellis of the State Bar spoke on "The Work of the Legal Aid Committee of the State Bar."

Mayor Will Aid in Santa Claus Lane Dedication

Official dedication of Hollywood Boulevard as "Santa Claus Lane" begins at 7 p.m. tonight, when Col. Harry M. Baine, president of the Hollywood Boulevard Association, welcomes Mayor Porter at the Hotel Roosevelt. Social, civic and industrial leaders of Hollywood will participate in the ceremonies, signalized when the official electric sign is turned on.

Following music by Olsen's Band, the fire department band and the chanters of the First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood, the Mayor will ride with Kriss Kringle in his reindeer-drawn sleigh down Santa Claus Lane from La Brea avenue to Vine street. A snowstorm "made in Hollywood" will accompany the sleigh and the Mayor will help Santa Claus distribute toy balloons to children along the lane.

A committee of Hollywood citizens, representing business, filmdom and officialdom, will aid the Hollywood Boulevard Association in celebrating.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENT FATAL

Woman Dies on Way to Hospital After Crash Hurting Husband; Another Killed, Trio Injured

A woman was injured fatally and her husband was injured critically last night when their car collided with another automobile at Eighty-second and Main streets. The woman, who died in an ambulance en route to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, was Mrs. Mae Gilber, 47 years of age, of 415 East Thirty-eighth street. Her husband, Charles Gilber, 50, received internal injuries. Their automobile was overturned in the collision.

Police of the Seventy-seventh street division held Howard Keown of 216 West Twenty-third street, as driver of the other car, although reporting that the crash apparently was unavoidable.

Edward Foster, 22 years of age, of 1562 East Fifty-third street, was injured, perhaps fatally, yesterday morning in a collision between a motorcycle on which he was riding tandem and an automobile at Wilshire Boulevard and Alexandria street. He was given emergency treatment at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for internal injuries, skull fracture, concussion of the brain and fractures of the left leg and wrist.

Arthur Garcia, 13, of the same address, who was at the controls of the cycle, suffered a broken left leg and severe bruises. Isaac Toledami of 2786 South Coronado street, driver of the automobile, according to police, was reported not hurt. He is said to be manager of the Paulais Cafe in the Ambassador.

INJURIES PROVE FATAL

When his automobile, in which he was driving alone, crashed into a milk truck at Wabash and Dobinson streets early yesterday morning Edgar J. Edberg, 39, county sanitary engineer, of 1034 Kingston street, was injured fatally.

The truck driver, Max Knopff, 33, of 1540 North Eastern avenue, was held on suspicion of manslaughter. Edberg died at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital a few minutes after the accident. An inquest will be conducted at 9:30 a.m. Monday.

Arthur Laur of 3828 Virginia Road was absolved from all blame by a Coroner's jury yesterday for the terrific head-on collision between his car and a heavy fruit truck which resulted in the deaths of William Yalen, 41, and his son, Eddie, 21, of 204 North Boyle avenue, Thursday morning.

The jury declared the accident was due to recklessness on the part of the younger Yalen who was driving the truck. Witnesses stated, police declared, that the truck was traveling at a high rate of speed.

The accident occurred at Pico street and Rimpau Boulevard. Immediately after the crash the gasoline tank on the truck blew up. The elder Yalen's clothes caught fire and he died of both burns and injuries received in the collision. His wife, Annie, 40, and daughter, Frances, 19, were not seriously hurt.

Laur suffered minor injuries. His son, Aaron, suffered a fractured left shoulder and his twin sister, Jeanne, fractures of several ribs. Forrest Baumgartner, 9, of 2701 South Harcourt avenue, also with Laur, was painfully bruised.

HOSPITAL EMPLOYEE HURT

Miss Helen Kennedy of 3408 Sunset Boulevard, a surgeon's assistant employed at the General Hospital, was injured seriously yesterday when she was knocked down by an automobile while awaiting a street car at Sunset Boulevard and Micheltorena street. At the Pasadena-avenue Receiving Hospital she was reported suffering a brain concussion and a fractured left arm. The automobile, according to a police report, was driven by H. Harbayashi, of 92 South Minter street, South Pasadena.

Accused of smashing his automobile into two other cars yesterday, Robert E. Reid, 50, a broker, of 238 West Seventeenth street, was arrested on charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Policeman Lillienthal, on post at Main and Pico streets, reported that Reid drove through a traffic signal, crashing into a car driven by W. Irving of 5633 Meridian street, which was wrecked, and then veering off and hitting a parked car.

A page from "Treasured Flavors" reveals the following recipe for fruit cocktail, which is marvelously good and a general favorite.

Get out your pencil and paper or typewriter and make a copy of it, or, better still, write to the Italian Vineyard Co., 1248 Palmetto St., Los Angeles, who put up Guasti (pronounced Gwah-stee) Sweet Sherry Flavoring, which makes this cocktail a delightful addition to any repast.

FRUIT COCKTAIL

1 Orange
1 Grapefruit
2 Bananas
½ Cupful strawberries or canned cherries seeded
2 Slices pineapple
1-3 Cup Guasti Sweet Sherry Flavoring.
1-3 Cup pineapple juice.
1 Tablespoon lemon juice

Remove pulp from orange and grapefruit; slice banana; wash and halve strawberries; cut pineapple in small pieces. Combine Sherry Flavoring, pineapple and lemon juice and pour over fruit. Chill thoroughly. Serve in cocktail glasses; garnish with candied cherries or Bar-le-Duc (six servings.)

To freshen lettuce and make it crisp, put a piece of powdered borax in the water in which it is washed and let it soak for half an hour or so; then shake it free from water and wipe each leap separately after rinsing well.

We'll take it for granted you are going to make this an electrical Xmas—and we know very well you like so many others have left much of your shopping until the last minute. Well then, for the suggestions in electrical appliances which you naturally want may I not urge you to go down and look around for ideas galore in the basement of the Department of Water and Power at Second and Broadway. An electric clock is one very important item you will be glad was suggested to you. These clocks are the most reliable timepieces, accurate always and just the thing for a well-regulated household . . . but this is just one suggestion—there are hundreds, literally, of others. You can afford them all now because electrical rates are so very low.

Before grating lemons, always remove the small brown specks; soak the lemons in cold water for fifteen minutes, then scrub with a vegetable brush and the specks will come off.

Christmas wouldn't be Christmas without fruit cake from Young's Market Company! In case you are one of those unfortunates who have not tasted Young's fruit cake, let me tell you that in all this whole State there is no finer cake. It's made with the very best creamery butter and eggs as well as quantities of fruit than which no better is to be had . . . candied cherries and almonds are put in it, too, and then comes the piece de resistance, the name of which we'll leave to you to guess. Now whatever you do don't fail to have plenty of Young's fruit cake on hand for these gay and festive days.

Send your husband's shirts with detached collars to Arthur M. Werner and have them made with attached collars. Mr. Werner also shortens sleeves, in fact he does all kinds of altering and repairing. 111 South Spring is the address. (MEt. 7560) the phone number.

Spanish and Mexican sweets bought at the Chapultepec Shop are new, delicious and ever so wholesome! You know, they sell that Mazapan Nougat, which everyone is mad about once they taste it. They also have the most delicious imported cider-champagne in thrilling bottles, that's just the drink for Christmas and New Year. 634 S. Alvarado is their address.

When baking an apple, prevent it from bursting by running a knife around the rind about an inch from the top. To color and flavor apples, either baked or in a sauce, put a few red cinnamon candies into the water in which the apples are cooked.

Have you broken the comb of your silver toilet set? Don't worry, it can be replaced by Mr. Kent of the Peerless Platers, 239½ S. Spring (upstairs.) Mr. Kent modernizes old-fashioned wedding rings also and does all kinds of jewelry repairing. VAndike 5417 is his phone number.

To test tea, burn a small quantity of it. Good tea will leave but a small amount of ashes; the poorer the quality the more ashes will result.

You know how long your heart has been set on having an electric refrigerator . . . then why not have one this Christmas. Let the whole family contribute toward the really small cost of this necessity for the home.

In the basement of the Bureau of Power and Light at Second and Broadway you can choose the electrical refrigerator which best meets your needs. They have any number of makes to choose from down there. Go in today and make the selection. You see, this is a sensible gift for every day in the year. You will enjoy it to the fullest.

When cooking beets, add a little whole mixed spices to the water in which they are cooked; it gives them an improved flavor.

It isn't hard to decide whom to seek when you want copied any particular piece of furniture for H. E. Simank of 725 W. 9th is an expert in this line—he does very fine upholstering, too, carrying a splendid line of foreign and domestic fabrics. TUcker 2426 is his phone number.

Good substitute for cream in coffee or chocolate: Beat up the white of an egg with a small amount of fresh butter; put a little in each cup and pour the coffee over it.

As a last-minute Christmas suggestion for that gift that you wanted to be unusual for the dearly beloved, why not decide on one of the attractive slipper chairs, that the Slip Cover Co., 1425 West 8th st., phone number DRexel 6728, has on display or one of their lovely chaise longues or any of their dainty bedroom chairs.

When making tea, allow one teaspoonful of tea per person and one for the pot. For coffee, one tablespoonful of coffee per person, and one for the pot. For a strong cup of tea add a lump of sugar to the pot; this opens the leaves and makes the tea much stronger.

Try baking beets in the oven, as you would potatoes, and note the fine flavor; they will be much better and sweeter than if boiled. Put in the oven in a baking pan and turn frequently; when tender, serve with olive oil and lemon juice.

When stewing fruit, add one teaspoonful of vinegar or lemon juice to each pound of fruit and much less sugar will be required.

Until you have given as a Xmas present a picture of one sort or another—you have no idea how greatly appreciated such a gift is! Now why don't you give to some friend such a remembrance. An old English print—or Chinese or French. All are very worth-while; while woodcuts are always interesting. Perhaps you have some unframed ones you have picked up on your travels hither, thither and yon . . . take them to Mathews Paint Company where you can buy prints and etchings, too—and have them framed correctly. Their picture and framing department is unusually fine. Here are the addresses: 1245 S. Hill; 1559 N. Vine, and 740 E. Green, Pasadena.

Nancy, the small daughter of a friend of mine, begs her mother for Mayflower Potato Chips—preferring them, if you please, to candy! . . . but aren't they delicious, though—so crisp and just as fresh as can be. You will remember when ordering that it's the Mayflower brand, "sold at better stores" you must ask for.

And now for a recipe that will be used for Christmas Day—it goes without saying that this recipe calls for Guasti Sweet Sherry Flavoring. Whom amongst you could possibly make anything good without it—that and Guasti Cooking Sherry. Here goes for a wonderful recipe for plum pudding:

PLUM PUDDING

One-half lb. raisins, 1 cup currants, ½ cup citron (diced,) ½ cup crystallized fruit, (pineapple and cherries,) 3-4 cup Guasti Sweet Sherry Flavoring, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 cups brown sugar, 3-4 cup butter or 1 cup shredded suet, 4 eggs, 3-4 cup jelly, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1-4 lb. bread crumbs (2-day old bread,) 3-4 cup flour, 1-4 teaspoon soda.

Cut fruit and combine with Guasti Sweet Sherry Flavoring and lemon juice. Cream sugar and butter. Add well-beaten egg, jelly, spices and crumbs. Sift together flour and soda several times and add to creamed butter and sugar mixture. Add fruits. Pour into oiled and floured molds (1-pound baking powder cans may be used.) Adjust cover and steam 1 pound molds for 3 hours and large ones 4 hours. Turn out of molds when done. Serve with hard sauce.

Note: If desired, pudding can be replaced in can when cold to be stored until needed, when it should be reheated for 1 hour in same manner as before.

I have just received a telephone call from the A. Vignolo Co., Inc., importers of the famous Castruccio Bros. Sublime Extra Virgin Olive Oil. They wish to extend to all consumers of Castruccio Olive Oil best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a most prosperous New Year.

Before paring old potatoes, when the skins are tough and wrinkled, put them in cold water for one-half hour before peeling; this causes them to swell and makes peeling much easier.

Such perfectly delicious salted and plain nuts may be bought in all their perfection at the California Nut Stores! They sell, too, those unusual "different" kind of imported candies—so ideal for bridge parties and teas. Make a note of their addresses: 804 S. Broadway, next the Tower Theater and on Hill next to Warner Bros.' Downtown Theater.

Potatoes which are to be baked may be first boiled in salted water for ten minutes and save time. Potatoes boiled in their jackets have a remarkably good flavor if boiled in water to which a half-cupful of salt has been added for each quart of water.

It is nice to know that you are assisting such a worthy charity as the Children's Hospital Salvage Department at 712 Maple avenue when you send them your discarded clothes and useless articles which are of no use to you but help them a deal. Have you sent them a bundle recently? Call them at TUcker 1203.

To make cranberries palatable with the use of little sugar, mix them with about one-half part of apples which have been put through the colander. This lessens the crudeness of their flavor without diminishing their tartness.

Could any covering be more "toasty" and warm than a down quilt . . . and can you think of a nicer gift for one of the family? Such a present may be bought at the Western Feather and Down Works, 1205 Washington Boulevard, (WEstmore 9654,) who renovate and recover feather coverlets most reasonably, doing beautiful work.

Are you all ready to tie up your Christmas packages? Better go in today and get a few more of the Christmas Package Dressings from Schwabacher - Frey's interesting store at 736 S. Broadway. Each package contains 50 small seals, medium and large seals, pasters, cut out cards and string tags.

Are you entirely ready for the Christmas feast—in other words will your silver grace the table or is it badly worn and in need of replating? Then do take it at once to the Peerless Platers, 239½ South Spring street, upstairs. They will do your knives, forks and tablespoons for $3.50 a dozen; your teaspoons cost but $2.50 the same amount.

In the midst of your preparations for Christmas, take time to call up the Hoffman Rug Works, 2914 West Jefferson, (EMpire 2048,) and have them call for your old carpets to have lovely new fluff rugs made from them. This concern make the Colonial rugs from rags as well.

Reservation Indians Face Drab Holiday

It will be a sl[illegible] Christmas for the thirty-seven Indians and their children eking out a bare existence on their mile-square reservation in the mountains eight miles east of El Cajon, a woman visitor who returned from there yesterday reported.

All the Indians on the tiny government plot of [illegible] are suffering from tuberculosis and have to live throughout the winter on what they earn from small jobs they get in summer. They reside in a dozen shacks and adobe huts, their number having dwindled from 3000 to the few remaining villagers.

The chief, John Gardiner, wants a radio so that his people can listen to church sermons and music; all the Indians, men, women and children need clothes, and the little children are waiting to see if the Santa Claus they have heard about will bring them toys and candy.

The address of the village is Sequan Indian Reservation, care of John Gardiner, El Cajon, Cal.

BOYS WILL BE GUESTS OF LIONS' CLUB TODAY

The boys of the Lark Ellen Home will be the guests of the Los Angeles Lions' Club at a Christmas party today noon in the Biltmore. Gifts will be presented to the boys by Santa Claus. Entertainment will be provided by Loew's State Theater.

England now has only one air service.

Harry Lamport Nominated for City Play Board

Mayor Porter yesterday sent to the City Council the nomination of Harry B. Lamport as a member of the Board of Playground and Recreation Commissioners to fill the unexpired term of E. M. Rittenhouse, who resigned several weeks ago. The nomination was referred to the Parks and Playgrounds Committee.

Mr. Lamport is a member of the concern of Hartley Rogers & Co., 650 South Spring street. He is a graduate of De Pauw University and of the University of Southern California. He is a member of the American Legion and was the first president of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Today's Bible Text

"Let him know, that he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way, shall save a soul from death, and shall hide a multitude of sins. James v:20.

SOUNDS LIKE IT

New Orleans will have its Mardi Gras on March 4, but this is not for inauguration purposes. It is old stuff.

TIME TO KILL

At the age of 85 a literary citizen is beginning the study of the Chinese and Russian languages. He hopes to be ready for the puzzle.

BANISHED ONES

Maybe Iowa was put out of the Big Ten because so many of its sons have left the State for California. We can take half the blame.

COMES EASY

The chattering idiot asserts that some foreigners learn our language very readily because they get jobs in the speakeasies in the cities.

OLD MAN RIVER

The River Thames has been threatening to flood the city of London, but at last accounts the Los Angeles River was tame enough to be herded in a medicine dropper.

UPS AND DOWNS

A veteran of Wall street once said that stocks don't go up. They are put up. But they seem to be able to go down of their own weight, although the inference is that there is always a selfish hand to help them down. But it is a man-made market.

THE PICKERS

The New York Boxing Commission indicates a purpose to pick out the champions in most of the classes. This may spare some of the athletes the hazard of having to fight for their crowns. Also the New Yorkers appear to have a select coterie of their own. They are not inclined to accept nominations from outsiders.

BOOSTING THE PAY

New York Aldermen played Santa Claus to their own advantage. After boosting the pay of Mayor Walker to $40,000 a year and their chairman to $25,000 they elevated their own salaries to $7500 per each. Anyhow, they have fixed it so that Mayor Walker will be the highest-salaried man in public service outside of the White House.

KEEPING IT UP

Charlie Schwab says that our high standards of living constitute the bulwark of our national progress and prosperity and, therefore, the purchasing power of the people must be maintained clear down the line. It is doubtless true that the purpose to live well has its ultimate bearing on wage scales. Employers are not willing that their workers should slump any in their standards. Everybody is carrying on.

LIFE FOR VERNON

In view of the hanging penalty which the law of California very properly considers appropriate for the crime of train-wrecking, the sentencing of Tom Vernon to life imprisonment is lenient. Vernon, convicted repeatedly of serious offenses, must spend the remainder of his life behind the bars, not being eligible to parole. The sober judgment of thinking citizens will coincide with that of the court.

Here is a man who for years has been at war with society, who has never shown either the desire or the ability to make an honest living. His latest crime was committed only a few days after his latest release from prison. What is society to do with such a man, save to segregate him for its protection? At large he would live off society without making any contribution to it. He is of no use in prison, but at least the cost of his keep there is apportioned with some equity, instead of falling on the chance individuals whom he would himself select.

In a society which was wholly logical, dangerous parasites such as this man would be accorded the same treatment as disease germs, which no one has any compunctions about eradicating. To provide him with free board and room, even if these accommodations are not of the best quality, errs, if it errs, on the side of mercy.

THE GENERAL BOARD'S REPORT

Why Secretary of the Navy Adams recommended to Congress the adoption of the Camp Kearny site for the Navy dirigible base is now made public, and San Francisco, which has been pretending to wonder on what ground he based his decision, may learn that the Navy General Board declares that Camp Kearny is "overwhelmingly superior" to Sunnyvale from a strategic standpoint, and further, that this declaration is made without a dissenting voice.

The report made public does not go into details of the discussion of strategic matters; there is no occasion to tell all the Navy's secrets; but amateur strategists may surmise some of the points which counted with the General Board. Among these may be mentioned the nearness of Camp Kearny to the Panama Canal, Achilles heel of American naval defense, its nearness to the fleet base at Los Angeles, and its easy defensibility by aircraft from the airplane base.

The General Board, on the basis of the report of the special naval committee, reports that so far as physical characteristics are concerned, there is little to choose between San Diego and Sunnyvale. But neither this special board nor the General Board had before it the complete weather data now available, which provides a convincing demonstration of the climatic superiority of Camp Kearny in all the points that count.

These data, gathered by Dr. Ford A. Carpenter, are unanswerable because they take in all the figures available. No one can present any completer picture because Dr. Carpenter has exhausted the official records. Camp Kearny, as would be expected by anyone familiar with Pacific Coast weather conditions, has less rain, less fog, less cloudiness, less wind and above all the most nearly even temperature, the mean annual variation being only 14 deg. Fahrenheit as against nearly double that variation for Sunnyvale. Camp Kearny is also more easily drained.

What the special board would have said if it had had Dr. Carpenter's report can, of course, only be guessed, but that the report would have compelled it to reverse its decision is a reasonable deduction.

As has been pointed out before, Southern California is always at a disadvantage in Congress because of the lack of Congressional reapportionment, which gives the northern districts a disproportionate voice, so that the vote of the California Congressional delegation probably will tend to favor Sunnyvale. But there are enough Congressmen who will be guided by this unanimous opinion of the General Board, reinforced by the recommendation of the Secretary of the Navy, to sway the balance, in all probability.

Congress does many queer and unexplainable things, but it seldom flies in the face of such opinions and such recommendations. It does not do for Southern California, however, to take Congressional approval of Camp Kearny for granted. The opinion and the recommendation furnish this section with arms and ammunition for the battle; it ought to win on the merits; but that does not mean it will not have to fight.

The decision is up to Congress and the side that gets in the best licks will win.

NONSENSE ABOUT BROOKS

The appointment of Frank H. Brooks to be a member of the Board of Water and Power Commissioners will come before the City Council for confirmation or rejection on Monday. At that time it will be discovered which of the members of the City Council can be bludgeoned into voting against a good man merely because of intimidatory tactics.

In Mr. Brooks, personally, The Times has no interest. Certainly he is not the candidate of this newspaper. The Times did not suggest his appointment. So far as this paper is aware, neither did the private power companies suggest it, and there is nothing to indicate that Mayor Porter listens to suggestions from them. The Times does favor Mr. Brooks' appointment because it believes he is the type of man who is needed in municipal government. He appears to be able, honest, independent, fearless and possessed of civic spirit.

If the Councilmen are similarly endowed, they will pay no attention to the nonsensical campaign being conducted against him by the Los Angeles Record, or to the threats which the Record makes against those disposed to consider Brooks on his merits. The Record's political influence, if it ever had any, ceased when Kent Parrot was dethroned. It is trying, apparently, to gain dictatorship by boosting the political game of Dr. John R. Haynes, who fears that Brooks on the Water and Power Board will not "program." There are too many Water and Power Commissioners now who program. What the city needs is a commissioner or so who will attempt to find out the truth about the Power Bureau operations and stop some of the waste and inefficiency in this portion of the city government.

The Councilmen who honestly think that Brooks will not make a fit Water and Power Commissioner, if there are any such, are entitled to vote against him. But Councilmen who vote against him because the Record shakes a hollow stick, are making puppets of themselves.

"LICENSE, PLEASE"

You cannot go far in this world without showing the reason why. If you want to get married, you have to have a license. If you would drive a car, you have to pass an examination or pull over to the curb. The car itself may not navigate traffic without its license plate in full view.

You cannot build a fire in a canyon without a permit. Fish without telling the world your height, weight, color of hair and age and it's ho, for the hoosegow. Shoot a buck without the little $2 ticket and you will fatten the batting average of the ranger. If you even want to go up in the air, you have to get permission as a pilot. If you want to set up a gas stove, you have to call up the City Hall. You dare not dig a sewer without something to show for it.

The lawyer has to hurdle the bar and the doctor has to tell all he knows about the liver and lights. Even the elevator man cannot personally conduct his tours without an examination. Everybody from engineer to navigator has to show his ticket. You cannot even sell real estate without qualifying before some board. Indeed, it seems that one-half of the population is licensed to give the other half a job. A license is as necessary as fleas to a dog.

Every fellow-citizen has an army of clerks and deputies on his heels to collect the fees. Nobody seems to trust anybody else. Everybody is suspicious of everybody else. The multiplicity of scamps may have brought this slavery upon us; but we have to pay tribute to the inspectors just the same.

We are not against the principle nor its multiplicity of detail. Just how we could get along without it is not apparent. But our pockets are bulging with licenses and our feet are all tangled up in red tape.

Every time the Legislature meets we know a new crop will come. Maybe it is a licentious age. However, it is a nuisance to have to have a permit to be born and another one to be buried.

LOVES OF A PRINCESS

According to the cables Princess Ileana of Rumania would wish to marry some noble soul of her own country in preference to linking up with some European prince—as would otherwise be her destiny. The princess was said to have been deeply impressed by a couple of young Americans during her visit in this country, but doubtless the queen mother will dispose of her hand to the best advantage of the family and the exactions of diplomacy.

THE LAST STRAW

By James J. Montague

Bill's owed me ten for seven years,
But trade, he says, is slack,
And now and then, I've harbored fears
That he won't pay it back.
At last, he said, he'd save the ten,
And meant the debt to meet
When he should see me next, and then
He lost it in the street.

I won a small election bet
From Bill a year ago
Which I have never sought to get
For he's been broke, I know.
That he eventually would pay
I didn't have a doubt
Until he told me that today
His broker sold him out.

My Uncle Ephriam made a touch
For eighty-five last June.
It didn't jolt me very much,
I thought he'd have it soon.
But now my hope has vanished, for
Last week he used it all,
As well as seven-fifty more
To meet a margin call.

And all the trifling loans I've made
To people here and there
Within the fortnight, I'm afraid
Have vanished in thin air.
And I am just a little sore
And just a little sad,
To find the slump has hurt me more Than I supposed it had.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

TODAY I found some yellow gold
The forty-niners missed—
A rosebud wrapped in creamy fold,
By Southland sunshine kissed.

The viny trail led upward to
An arbor rising high,
Where velvet whorl was set with dew
Late captured from the sky.

Some desert loam had been refined,
The change of color shows.
The moles that search the earth are blind—
But I had found a rose!

Seems to Fear These Contacts

Dear Leeside: California, Hills Brothers, Times, Leeside, Harry Carr and beloved Rogers start a perfect day for me. I believe I could call mine a perfect life if I could meet the above-named three and then face St. Peter and get by, if he was not too inquisitive.—H. B. P.

Heavy Detective Work

"Belief that Garcia himself was the victim of a murderer was expressed by deputy sheriffs, for two reasons: First, the body was found buried and, secondly, there were two bullet holes in the back of the head." — Clipped from a news item by Mrs. W. L. K.

Inspired Inventors

The imminence of Boulder Dam seems to have inspired all the inventors in Southern California. Nearly every day we receive letters and circulars from people who have ways to de-salt ocean water, or turn rains on or off at will, just as if a faucet controlled them. Evidently realizing that we are far too great a simpleton to combat or disprove any theory, these inventive gentlemen steadfastly pick on us. Each says in his letter, that with his invention working, Boulder Dam will be unnecessary.

And if these folks aren't wasting too much money we think it's a fine thing. For undoubtedly some one will find ways to de-salt sea water and use it for domestic purposes when the world faces that necessity, and most probably some one will find ways to dissipate fog when we want sunshine and bring rain when we need moisture. More wonderful things than that have happened already, and far be it from us to say any inventor is crazy just because he is trying to do something which seems impossible to us. Our private opinion is that the only reason the Almighty hasn't already turned over control of the weather to us is that he knows we'd be likely to drag through the initiative, referendum and recall before we decided to have any weather, good or bad, and sees the necessity of holding us back until we become more logical-minded and reasonable and less inclined to settle things entirely by partisan or prejudiced ideas instead of the way they ought to be decided.

GOSH SHUT IT OFF

Boulder Dam will and must be built soon. But even then there will be desert lands to irrigate and empires to reclaim and weather to regulate. So we are glad to see so many people inspired to inventive and scientific effort. Good will come of it, surely, in time. But in the meantime, let us confess here and now that we are so utterly unscientific and ignorant that we would not dare to give publicity to any of these wonderful suggestions, no matter how feasible they may seem to us.

From One of Our Volunteer Reporters

Friend Leeway: Some signs are too ambiguous. Today I saw this one: "J. Weldon, Dealer in Wholesale Rabbits."

On Franklin avenue, in Hollywood, in a vacant lot, a man is building a yacht or sailing sloop about thirty feet long. It's at least twenty miles from any body of water big enough to float it. Can this be another Noah, foreseeing a deluge and planning to rescue all the sinless folks in Hollywood?

A woman entered a drug store at Franklin and Western yesterday and asked for a bottle of antiskeptic. The clerk told her she'd have to get a prescription, or he couldn't sell it any more.—Alex McLaren.

Our Observation

Hollywood is really a pretty good place. The worst thing we've ever encountered there is the frequent combination of the high hat and the low brow.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

STOLEN GOODS

[Detroit Free Press]

The Cleveland Museum of Art has returned to the Jugoslavian government a rare panel of ivory, which it had purchased from a dealer, without knowing that it had been stolen from the cathedral of Agram. At least four dealers had bought and sold the panel in good faith. The identity of the thief has not been established, although the fact of the theft was proved to the satisfaction of the Cleveland museum. All that the museum could do was to return this treasure of medieval art to its rightful owners, which it did promptly and gracefully.

A great change has taken place in the ethics of art collecting in the last hundred years or so. A century and a quarter ago Lord Elgin carried away from the Parthenon to the British Museum the marbles which subsequently took his name, against the protest of a handful of his contemporaries—and nothing was done about it. The theft of art treasures, as spoils of war, went on through much of the nineteenth century. The World War happily saw this practice discountenanced.

NOT REASSURING

[Boston Transcript]

Atty.-Gen. Mitchell informs the American Bar Association that he will enforce the anti-trust laws "with vigor and determination." This seems a singularly inept utterance for the chief law officer of the government, at a time when legitimate business is seriously handicapped by the existence of a statute framed to fit other conditions than those of the present, and which the evolution of business has caused to be more of a nuisance than a help. Some of the best minds in law, industry and government are trying to get together upon a plan of so modifying the Sherman Act as not to void its main purpose, nevertheless to permit enough freedom of action under it to enable certain emergency situations, like that in petroleum, to be handled effectively. Mr. Mitchell's threat is the reverse of reassuring.

"CERTAIN RICH MEN"

[New York Evening Post]

Three rich men have done in these panic days what rich men are not supposed to do. At some risk of a moment they have come to the aid of poorer men. Mr. Rockefeller did it by announcing at a crucial moment of selling that he was buying stocks; Mr. Rosenwald did it by guaranteeing the margin accounts of all his employees; Mr. Ford did it seeking a fillip for general business by announcing a cut in the price of his automobiles. From each of these acts the man responsible will take certain advantages. That is fair enough. The point is that "certain rich men" showed that they also have a public conscience which their radical foes axiomatically deny them.

EXTRA! LOBBYISTS ARE LOBBYING!

[New York Herald-Tribune]

When the headlines startle us away from our breakfasts with the news that there is a sugar lobby in Washington lobbying for the sugar interests it seems time to shout "Whoa!" to the Senate investigating committee. The next thing you know they'll be telling us, also under the guise of sensational news, that the sun rises in the east, thus blistering our brains with such surprise that our sense of humor may be seriously endangered.

D. A. R. AND SHEARER

[Memphis Commercial Appeal]

Since the ridiculous proscription list of 'dang'rous' speakers was published, the D. A. R. has been under attack. The attack in that instance was justified. The American Revolution was fought for freedom of speech, among other things.

The D. A. R. through its official spokesman should clear itself of all suspicion of co-operating with the jingoist Shearer. The fathers of the American Revolution believed in maintaining friendly relations with all nations. Mr. Shearer and his sympathizers, given free rein, would plunge this country in war within a decade.

LETTERS TO The Times

Where Credit Is Due

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your article, "Policeman or Politician?" in this morning's Times, is not only a remarkable piece of journalism, but one of the most timely and valuable contributions to civic stability which has been published in the local field of newspapers.

It is a pleasure to see you play up the good which can be done by a respectable police authority, and most refreshing to read your poignant reference to our ever and anon preacher-nuisance.

Bring August Vollmer here. It would be a mark of progress which would be noted throughout the nation if, with his present authoritative standing, he would put his stamp of approval on the operations of our Los Angeles police department.

In my rounds and my writings I have at times come in very close contact with some divisions of the police department, and I believe the newspapers should give more space to the accomplishments of the several divisions among these men of law and order. Names do not always have to be mentioned so that crooks might lay for individuals because of their hawklike work. But, by giving credit where credit is due you would build more public confidence in the police and their protection and help to kill this faddist attitude of sneering at the efforts of men in uniform.

Keep up your good work. Keep the public informed daily. Save Chief Davis, for the worst month of the year for vandalism is just around the corner.

R. A. WHITTEN.

Thanks, Friendly Merchants

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] We were walking jauntily on Grand avenue, nearing Seventh street, when the strains of a glorious organ pealed forth on the balmy atmosphere of a Los Angeles December (1929.) For a moment came the questioning look, then the recognition of the holiday decorations was coupled with the music floating from the scores of mechanical throats entwined with evergreen. Many pedestrians found themselves slowing their pace, others found themselves absently looking into shop windows while their thoughts and hearts sang with and to the inspiring cadence of Christmas carols.

Far reaching has been the effect of this insistent announcement of the recurring celebration of the nativity of Jesus of Nazareth, whom we recognize as the founder of Christianity. Even those who have, at times, felt the radio to be a noisy institution "inflicted" on an already noise-crowded world have graciously and even gratefully listened; accepting the generous provision that has done more to impress the spirit of Christmas upon the patron and visitor to the downtown district than has anything that was ever put forth in the line of publicity.

Thank you, friendly merchants, and may you reap a merited reward.

IDA RANDALL-SIMONEAU.

Water Users

ORANGE, Dec. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In reading the editorial in Saturday morning, December 14, edition with reference to consumption and cost of water in the different coast cities, I do not believe the bright side of the situation has been considered.

It is true, possibly, the other cities are using less water, but might this not be due to the fact that they have not the industries consuming water to the same extent Los Angeles has?

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Plaster Casting?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times. All public school classes are suspended December 16 to 28, reopening December 30.]

A. Bjurman, who designed the tiles on the new Public Library and those around the Luther Burbank Junior High School, is giving a free class at the Franklin Evening High School, 320 North Avenue Fifty-four, on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. The class is called clay modeling and includes many of the plastic arts. There are now twenty-five pupils and room for five more who are interested in studying this craft.

The workroom is equipped with its own glazing and baking kiln. First, objects are modeled in clay, and from these, plaster molds and reproductions are made. Students may copy classic models or make original designs of figures or of futuristic masses. Some are painting with liquid bronze on plaster figures or wall medallions. This class is free to all.

Our national population is thirty times as great today as when the first Federal census was taken in 1790, when 4,000,000 people and six cities of more than 8000 inhabitants, were listed.

OUR SHORTEST DAY

BY BAILEY MILLARD

When the sun rises at 6:55 this morning it will bring with it the northern winter solstice, the point at which daylight dwindles to its shortest span. It will set at 4:48. Within a fortnight the period of daylight will be appreciatively longer, and by the New Year about five minutes will have been added to it. Calculations differ somewhat, but I am employing data accepted by the marine department of the Chamber of Commerce, based on standard time.

The City Hall of Los Angeles is in north latitude 34 degrees, 3 minutes and 13 seconds, or nearly the same as that of the capitol building in Columbia, S. C., and a little north of the general latitude of Atlanta, so that the sunlit days of those southern cities are of about the same duration as ours.

Standing on the summit of a lone butte west of Mt. Wilson on the shortest day of 1928 I saw the sun rise over the outlying eminences of the Santa Ana range, away to the southeast. In June it rose, as it will rise this year, over the Sierra Madres many miles farther north. It was just 6:51 o'clock when the upper rim of the great red disk peered above a peak on the southeastern horizon, so that my day was three or four minutes longer than for the average Angeleno and still longer than for those at sea level.

You must climb the mountains if you wish to extend your days. Better yet, shoot up in a fleet aircraft and you will enjoy not only an earlier sunrise, but a later sunset. Some of the eastern flyers indulge in a sport which they call "chasing sunsets." From a certain height that has just been left in twilight they zoom upward into the sunshine again, and when they are again in shadow they mount once more and keep up the game until they have attained as great a height as they care to go. It must be glorious fun.

Being nearer the equator by several hundred miles, Southern California has a longer day in winter than is enjoyed by Central or Northern California. Of late our day has been from five to seven minutes longer than that of San Francisco, if calendar figures are correct, and more than one hour longer than that of New York. In June the north will have longer days than ours.

To see the sun at midnight, as I have seen it in the Arctic, all through the twenty-four hours of strong, clear sunshine, is to have a feeling of immense advantage over the people of southern latitudes. Still there are some disadvantages, one of them being that you never know when to go to bed. In summer the Arctic country is a land of little sleep.

Perhaps it is just as well that the sun deserts us for so many hours in winter, when our days are of less than ten hours' duration as against fourteen or more in summer. Winter days give us a chance to rest our eyes from sun glare, if not to hibernate like some of our furry friends. But as the moments of sunshine increase from day to day, as they will now do, one is given a distinct sense of gain.

STAR OF BETHLEHEM

BY W. L. Y. DAVIS

The stars of the sky with their millions of light years shrink man to a microbe on this little planet. But the Star of Bethlehem quickens him with new dignity and ambition. It may suffer eclipse through the year; but it ever emerges brighter than ever in December and even business bows obeisance to its benign influences.

Science may scout it; but it ever turns devoutly to worship at the feet of the flood of light. It may be explained as the conjunction of Venus and Jupiter; but faith comes along and follows its glowing trail. It may be called a will-'o-the-wisp; but it leads to purity, kindliness, peace and even success. It may stand over nothing but a manger; but the trough is transfigured and borne into the cathedral. It may light the straw for the cattle in the barn; but even they are treated more humanely ever after.

It may be the sneer of the materialist; but the poet still breathes his fancies and childhood continues to bask in its white light. It may guide the Wise Men of the East on a seemingly mythical journey; but Wise Men of the West also follow it to Bethlehem. It may seem to have no scientific basis of fact; but the little handicapped babes in the wards of the hospital romp under its beneficent beams.

And the Star of Bethlehem will shine when other stars have been folded away in the dust of the ages.

SENDING 'EM BACK

During the last fiscal year the United States deported 12,908 aliens at a total cost of $926,050—nearly a million. But there is no complaint that the service was not worth the price. One bad man might cost the government and the nation that much.

Of course, it would be much better to keep out the bad ones in the first place, but that is not always possible. Sometimes they turn bad after they get in. But when we find out they are bad it is certainly not incumbent on us to keep them. We have plenty of criminals and undesirables of our own without having those of other countries slipped in on us. There is a pretty general feeling that every dollar spent to send these people out of the country is well spent. Of the number deported 2800 went back to Canada and 3300 back to Mexico. That is sufficient evidence that the watch on the borders should be more efficient. — [The Pathfinder.

Pronouncement of sentence was preceded by the hearing of testimony from Louis Marworth, 13, who was in the drug store operated by English at the time the latter ran out in pursuit of Fleming and received a fatal bullet wound in the fight. Mrs. Maude E. English, widow of the slain man, also testified briefly.

MAY GO TO FOLSOM

Dep. Dist.-Atty. O'Connor urged that Fleming receive a death sentence, but after deliberation of the evidence the court stipulated life imprisonment. Having served part of another term on robbery, it is likely Fleming will be sent to Folsom penitentiary. The defendant was represented by Deputy Public Defender Davis.

English was shot while pursuing Fleming after the latter had held up J. [illegible], a grocer, in his store at [illegible] West Twenty-third street. The druggist was closing his place for the night when he heard shots and screams coming from the grocery near by. Seizing his gun he ran out in time to see Fleming leaving the grocery. He fired, but missed the bandit. Fleming returned the fire, wounding English.

The latter was taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where he died a few hours later.

TOTAL OF THEFT $20

Fleming was making his escape several blocks from the scene, when a deputy sheriff fired at him, inflicting a wound in the knee. Retarded in his flight, and limping, the bandit was captured by two policemen. At the hospital he was identified by English on his deathbed.

Fleming obtained only $20 in the robbery of the grocery store.

OUSTED WIFE GETS DIVORCE

Husband Drove Her Out Four Times, She Testifies in Seeking Decree

Mrs. Barbara Vance, seeking a divorce from Andrew H. Vance, testified yesterday before Superior Judge Hollzer that her husband on four different occasions drove her to her mother's home.

"The last time he did it he told me that he was through with me. I decided then that it was impossible for us to get along together," the wife said.

Mrs. Vance also declared that her husband unjustly accused her of associating with other men.

Library Board Pushes Effort to Save Water

To conserve the water supply the board of library commissioners has issued orders to all branch libraries to request janitors to stop watering lawns and not to use water for washing off walks. Throughout the library system every effort is being made to avoid all unnecessary use of water.

At this week's meeting the board awarded the contract for the carving of the Lee Lawrie design for the fountain in the children's court of the central library to a local concern, the Hilgartner Marble Company, for $5075. It is expected the fountain will be in place in about four months.

The contract for the periodicals subscribed for the library was awarded to the lowest bidder, the Hanss-Bennett Magazine Agency of Chicago, for $9015.

EASTERN PRISONER TO FACE TRIAL HERE

Maury Pian, recently arrested at Cicero, Ill., on a charge made by the Treasury Department, was returned to Los Angeles yesterday to stand trial in Federal court on a charge of passing a bogus $20 bill on a Pasadena merchant. The arrest of Pian followed a raid by police and Treasury Department agents on a Hollywood home, where counterfeit bills are reported to have been found.

Crash Victim's Rites Set For This Afternoon

The double funeral for Dr. John J. Ball and his daughter, Miss Esther E. Ball, foreign-language teacher in the Fresno High School, will be conducted today at 2 o'clock in Grace Chapel, Inglewood Park Cemetery. The Whittington Funeral Home of Gardena will be in charge.

Dr. and Miss Ball were killed when their auto crashed into a truck near Livingston, about ten miles from Turlock. They were driving from Berkeley to Los Angeles, planning to spend the holidays with friends here.

Dr. Ball came to California some years ago. They formerly made their home in Gardena. Later, Dr. Ball purchased a vineyard ranch at Exeter.

Masonic services were conducted Thursday in Exeter. Dr. Ball is survived by two nieces in Los Angeles, Mrs. Charles Buckler, 765 Kensington Road, and Mrs. Lena Thompson, 322 Avenue 64.

TIME SIGNALS TO BE ALTERED

Government Plans for New Broadcast System

Minutes Will be Indicated by Series of Ticks

Other Changes in Prospect for Flyers' Benefit

The Times forum, KHJ, 10:30 a.m. Peggy Hamilton, fashion authority of The Times; world-wide news at 12:30; 4:30 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Have you ever tuned in on KNX at 8:55 a.m. to catch the time signals from Washington, sounding like the measured blasts of a toy whistle with a final pause and then a longer whistle, and wondered what it was all about?

Well, the government has decided to change the time signal broadcast by the naval radio stations so as to eliminate some of the mystery and to make possible the identification of each minute of the five-minute period of transmission. If interested to the extent that you actually set your clock or watch by these signals—and thousands do—cut out this explanation and study it.

SYSTEM EXPLAINED

The present system of time signals consists of a dash for the first twenty-nine seconds of each minute, the thirtieth dash being omitted, and a dash each second for twenty-five seconds of the final half of each of the first four minutes, the four final dashes being omitted, and twenty seconds for the last minute, then a pause until the long dash marking the hour.

Under the new plan soon to be put into effect, all of the familiar features of the code now in use will be retained but each minute will be identified, the first minute by the omission of the fifty-first second, followed by four ticks, indicating there are four minutes to go, and so on, the last minute being signaled as at present.

WEATHER REPORTS

A thorough study of weather broadcast for aviators is to be undertaken with a view to making more frequent announcements and staggering them so as to afford greater convenience to pilots.

Following a lengthy air tour by F. C. Hingsburg, chief engineer of the airways division of the Department of Commerce, and C. G. Andrus, meteorologist, changes in the weather reporting system were recommended, the present system being to broadcast hourly. "For fifty-five minutes not a sound is to be heard over the radio," Andrus reported. "Then, on the hour, five stations came in, all with reasonable clarity, discoursing on the weather at the respective sending stations and at various other points."

A revolutionary change in weather broadcasting is planned by the government, for introduction in connection with the radio beacon extensions soon to be made. This will provide for broadcast every fifteen minutes, and where beacon signals are being transmitted, the weather will be sent out on the same frequency during the interruption of the beacon for the sending of station announcements.

RADIO BEACON CHANGE

The aural type of radio beacon has been adopted by the government as standard equipment on airways, and forty additional transmitters have been ordered, to be installed as rapidly as received. The way is left open, however, for substitution of the visual type of transmitter at some time in the future, should the latter be perfected to a point where present disadvantages are eliminated. Seven transmitters of the visual type now are being constructed by the lighthouse service of the Department of Commerce at a cost of $50,000, which will be installed on one of the routes of experimental operation, but there are certain factors which now militate against general adoption of this type.

The second of the series of Puccini's operas, "La Tosca," will be broadcast over KFI from the N.B.C. chain at 4 o'clock. Singers to be heard in the presentation include Frances Alda, soprano; Merle Alcock, contralto; Mario Chamlee, tenor, and Pasquale Amato, baritone.

Hearing this opera first hand may afford an interesting contrast to students of radio broadcast, if they will tune in KNX at 2 p.m., when Verdi's opera, "Rigoletto," as presented by recordings made in the La Scala Operahouse, Milan, by an Italian all-star cast, is to be given.

It is a moot point whether the broadcast of opera direct from the singers is received with any better modulation of tonal quality than recordings.

HOME BROADCAST

Mary Brian, Paramount player, will be the highlight of the regular weekly Paramount-Publix hour at a Christmas party to be held at her home. The party will be put on the air tonight at 7 o'clock over the Columbia Broadcasting System, and is to be released locally by KHJ and KNX.

Other favorites of the screen, Nancy Carroll, Jack Oakie, Clive Brook, Lillian Roth, Mitzi Green, Frederic March, Regis Toomey, Stanley Smith, William Austin and Skeets Gallagher, the latter acting as master of ceremonies, are includen on Mary Brian's list of guests.

Manager Dolberg of KHJ points out as a highlight of the Don Lee broadcast tonight a one-act play featuring Stuart Buchanan in the presentation of "The Valiant," at 8 o'clock. He also believes that the 9 to 10 p.m. period for "The Merrymakers" will be the best program to date by KHJ's battery of fun, noise and music makers.

Effective today, Charley Wellman's feature hour, "Chasing the Blues," will be heard every Saturday instead of Monday between 3 and 4 p.m.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

BABY TALK EVEN TO BABIES IS TABOO!

Baby talk has gone out of date. "Oh, mamma's little tootsie-wootsie has to have h's ittsy-wittsy paddles wrapped up, before he can go outdoors," has come to be reserved for the funny papers and the ancient spinster talking to her inevitable dog. Mothers have discovered, at least some of them, that it is no more difficult for the child learning to talk to use the right words than to make temporary use of a word and then be compelled to discard it later.

If we tell baby this is the "moo-moo" and that is the "bow-wow" he may find it easier at first to utter these simple sounds, but even before school days have arrived he is going to have to discover much to his confusion that the "bow-wow" has another name and it is dog. Why should we chain him to infant ideas and infant terms when they are of short use to him? Why burden him with two words to learn when one would be quite enough!

Of course, children can't pronounce complicated words as easily as simpler ones and words which sound like the noise an animal makes will please the child and encourage him to repeat them. But this might well come later. That the dog says "bow-wow" is true, isn't it, so baby learns no only that the dog is a dog and not a bow-wow, but that he makes a characteristic noise which baby can imitate.

TALK TO CHILDREN AS EQUALS

We marvel at the impoverished speech of seemingly intelligent adults, and the overworked adjectives which they use to describe houses, food, books, plays or clothes. "Marvelous and wonderful" have had a long and hard life. It is time they were added to, or entirely replaced by words which take on some of the color and differentness of what one is trying to describe.

Vagueness has become a characteristic of American speech. The boy runs like "anything" A dinner is "scrumptious." The dress is "swell-elegant." It's a cute "thing-amabob." How is the child to build a usable vocabulary upon such foundations?

When we hear of a 2-year-old who has a vocabulary of many hundred words, we know not only that the child is precocious, but that his parents are intelligent and that the child hears a rich variety of words. Sometimes it isn't lack of intelligence on the parents' part. It is habit, and lack of thought. They forget that they alone, during the preschool years are the chief source of the child's vocabulary. If he has only "anything and something and thing" and an eloquent pointing finger to express a meaning, he is going to be handicapped materially during those years when he should be gathering a workable vocabulary.

If we want intelligent children we must talk to them intelligently.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

LEMON PINEAPPLE SHERBET

Two tablespoonfuls of cold water, one tablespoonful of gelatine, one cupful of sugar, four cupfuls of water, one and one-half cupfuls of lemon juice, two cupfuls of crushed pineapple, soften the gelatine in cold water, place the sugar and two cupfuls of the water in a saucepan, and boil until the sugar is dissolved, add the gelatine and stir until that is dissolved, remove from the fire, add the lemon juice, pineapple and the remaining water, allow to cool, and freeze, serve in sherbet glasses, garnished with a piece of pineapple and a cherry.

SPANISH HAM LOAF

One-half a pound of uncooked ham, one-half a pound of lean pork, one-half a cupful of milk, one cupful of tomatoes, a seasoning of salt, and paprika, one-half of a green pepper chopped fine, one small onion chopped, two teaspoonfuls of finely chopped parsley, one-half a cupful of fine bread crumbs, one egg, put the pork and ham through the meat grinder, and mix all the rest of the ingredients with it, reserving the tomatoes; pack in a well oiled baking dish, pour the tomatoes over it, after seasoning them with half a teaspoonful of chili powder, bake in a moderate oven for three-quarters of an hour.

ANGEL CUSTARD

One and one-half cupfuls of milk, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt, the whites of three eggs, one-half a teaspoonful of vanilla extract, scald the milk in a double boiler, adding the salt, beat the whites of the eggs slightly until foamy, pour the milk over the beaten egg whites, add the vanilla, turn into custard cups, place in a pan of hot water, and bake in a slow oven until the custard is firm.

CRANBERRY JELLY

One pound of cranberries, three-fourths of a cupful of water, two cupfuls of sugar, and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, wash and pick over the cranberries, pour the water on them, and simmer gently until the berries are soft and will pop. Press through a strainer, add the sugar and salt, and stir until the sugar is dissolved, pour into molds, and allow to become solid.

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

FALLACIES ABOUT HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

High blood pressure is often called the disease that follows success, but this is obviously wrong. The real causes begin with an "S" all right, but the right way to spell them is sugar and starch. Not too much success, but too much of the carbohydrates is the usual cause of the blood pressure soaring higher than the normal. However, since success and overindulgence often go together, success may be said to have some effect on the blood pressure. Nevertheless, I promise you that everyone can enjoy all the success in the world and never have a high blood pressure if very little of the sugars and starches is used.

Another common fallacy is that meat or smoking causes high blood pressure. Neither of these seems to have any important effect upon the blood pressure.

Many people think that those who are stout and inclined to be red in the face have high blood pressure, but this is not true. Many thin, pale people have high blood pressure, and many fat, florid ones have low blood pressure. The only method of determining the blood pressure is to have an examination from a doctor who uses the sphygmomanometer.

In an adult the pressure should be about 125 to 130 millimeters If the blood pressure is about 140, it should be lowered immediately, which can be readily done with a fruit fast.

The importance of the blood pressure is shown by the fact that practically no insurance company will ever accept your application if your blood pressure is much too high. I have seen thousands of cases where the high blood pressure was reduced to normal on a fruit fast regime without the use of any drugs whatever.

One who has high blood pressure has to be careful to avoid mental strains or worry or physical strains, as the excessive tension of the arteries is accompanied by a hardening of the arterial walls, and if the blood pressure becomes temporarily higher, a hemorrhage or apoplectic stroke may result.

A permanent cure in every case depends on changing the diet. A fast on fruit juices, say orange juice, and distilled water will bring the pressure down to normal within a short time, but if this recovery is to last, the patient must continue to use very few of the carbohydrates in the diet for a long time, and in some cases he will have to leave them off entirely for awhile.

Exercises should be taken very slowly in the beginning, but may be gradually increased as the blood pressure becomes normal. Walking is one of the best exercises and one may start with a mile a day and increase the distance up to five or ten miles as the blood pressure comes down and the strength improves.

A Bedtime Story

THE TURKEY DINNER

There's nothing more uncertain than
The certainty on which you plan.
—Reddy Fox.

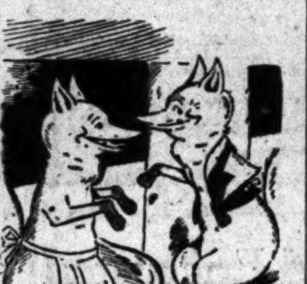
It is curious how in this world things turn out so differently from what is expected. Just take the case of Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy and Hooty the Owl. All three had planned and schemed for a turkey dinner. All three thought they had been exceedingly smart. Hooty had spied on Reddy and Mrs. Reddy without knowing that all the time they knew what he was doing. So at last they had led him to a certain farm where turkeys roosted every night in an apple tree.

Reddy and Mrs. Reddy had thought themselves equally clever, because they had led Hooty there without letting him know that they knew he was following. Then Hooty had brought down one of those turkeys from up in that apple tree—a thing that Reddy and Mrs. Reddy could not do, for you know they cannot climb. Being two to one, they had taken that turkey away from Hooty. And while Reddy had been fighting with Hooty, Mrs. Reddy had carried the turkey under the barn, where they planned to eat it.

It was rather rough on Hooty to have that turkey taken away from him in that manner and, of course, it filled him with very great rage. He had been absolutely sure of that turkey dinner and just as he was beginning to make ready to eat it, it had been taken away from him. Just where that turkey had been taken he didn't see, for Mrs. Reddy had carried it off while he and Reddy had been fighting.

Under the barn Mrs. Reddy and Reddy grinned at each other across the body of that turkey. They were about to have a feast. "Now," said Reddy, "for the finest dinner in the world."

"I'll eat for you," said another voice. It was a most unpleasant voice. It was a voice that made the hair stand up the backs of Reddy and Mrs. Reddy. They sprang away from the turkey and as they did so, Yowler the Bobcat stepped forward and planted his two big front feet on the turkey. Then he looked at Reddy and snarled. Oh, such an ugly-sounding snarl it was! Then he looked at Mrs. Reddy and snarled. Oh, such an ugly-sounding snarl as that was! Then he looked at Mrs. Reddy and snarled. Oh, such an ugly-sounding snarl as that was.



"Now," said Reddy "for the finest dinner in the world"

Reddy and Mrs. Reddy backed away. They did a little snarling themselves, but it was feeble compared with the snarls of Yowler the Bobcat. Yowler suddenly turned away from the turkey and took two or more steps toward them. Once more he drew back his lips to show all his great teeth, and snarled. This was too much for Reddy and Mrs. Reddy. They turned tail and ran out from under that barn and headed for the nearest woods as fast as their legs would take them. They had no quarrel with Yowler the Bobcat and they didn't want one.

How had Yowler the Bobcat happened to be there? Why, Yowler had been having great difficulty in getting enough to eat and so he had taken to roaming just as Reddy had. Yowler often goes close to buildings when there are no dogs around and people are asleep. He had come over to this barn hoping to catch a rat. Instead he arrived just in time for a turkey dinner. How he did enjoy it! When he had finished there was nothing left but feathers. He had even crunched the bones. His stomach was so full that he didn't feel like traveling. But he knew better than to stay there until daylight. So presently, like a gray shadow, he slipped out from under the barn and away to the woods.

So it was that Hooty the Owl did not eat the turkey dinner that he had been absolutely sure of. So it was that Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy did not eat the turkey dinner that they had been absolutely sure of. All of which goes to prove that being sure of anything is the greatest uncertainty in the world.

CHURCHES HOLD CHRISTMAS

Services Tomorrow and During Week Will Carry Out Religious Celebration

ministering to the spiritual welfare of the students at Westwood.

DR. W. H. GEISTWEIT

The worship period at First Baptist Church tomorrow morning will be taken over largely by the church school in presentation of "White Gifts." Following the musical program, Dr. W. H. Geistweit will preach on "The Christmas Story." In the evening, Dr. Geistweit will preach on "The Three Wise Men." At 4 p.m., tomorrow, the chorus choir will give its sixth annual program of Christmas music, with Alexander Stewart directing and with Mrs. Mabel C. Adsit at the organ. An organ recital at 3:30 p.m. will precede the concert. Next Monday evening the dramatic club and church choir will present an out-door Christmas pageant at the front entrance of the church.

DR. E. E. HELMS

At First Methodist Church tomorrow evening 300 singers, who have been in training for several months, will render in tableaux, pageant and costumes "The Coming of the King," considered by many to be the most beautiful of all Christmas stories in music. The program, which will begin at 7:30 p.m., will be preceded by an organ recital by Alexander Schreiner. The church doors will be open at 6:30 p.m. At the morning hour Dr. Helms will preach on "The Incredible Christmas."

DR. HERBERT B. SMITH

Christmas Sunday will be featured at Immanuel Presbyterian Church by the appearance of the junior vested choir of fifty singers, under the direction of Frans Hoffman. The junior and senior choirs will enter the church in the morning in processional form. In the evening the senior choir will enter the darkened church, singing the processional and carrying lighted candles. Selections from "The Messiah" will feature the program. Dr. Herbert Booth Smith will preach in the morning on "The Prince of Bethlehem," and in the evening on "On What Day Was Jesus Born."

DR. HUGH K. WALKER

Musical programs of exceptional interest have been arranged for the services tomorrow at First Presbyterian Church. With David Wright at the organ Christmas classics, including many hymns and carols centuries old, will be sung by the choir and the quartet, which is composed of Frances B. Ross, Clifford Biehl, Alice Reilly and Carl G. Miles. Dr. Hugh K. Walker, the pastor, will preach in the morning on "The Tremendous Challenge of the Christmas Fact," the sermon topic for evening being "Why the Chimes are Still Ringing."

WELSH PROGRAM

The popular cantata, "His Natal Day," by Edward Norman, will be sung by the Welsh Presbyterian Church Choir tomorrow at 7 p.m. at the church, Twelfth and Valencia streets. The singing will be directed by E. W. Davies, with Mrs. Owen T. Thomas at the organ. At 7 p.m. Monday the children will give a program of songs and recitations and will welcome the gift-bearing Santa Claus.

DR. FRANK DYER

Helen Ferguson and Helene Millard, dramatic stars, will assist Dr. Frank Dyer at the services tomorrow morning at Fox Westlake Theater. Miss Ferguson will appear in the role of Mary, mother of Jesus, and Miss Millard will enact the role of the angel of the Annunciation. Music will be rendered under the direction of Garfield Lewis, tenor, and Natalie Yeo, organist. Dr. Dyer will preach on "The Cradle of God."

DR. WILLIAM ROBERTS

Elaborate musical programs will feature services at West Adams Presbyterian Church tomorrow, according to announcement by Dr. W. E. Roberts, the pastor, who will preach in the morning on "Vision and Venture." Choral selections from "The Messiah" and quartet numbers will feature the morning service, while in the evening the cantata, "The Coming of the King" will be sung by a large picked chorus under the direction of William D. Allan.

DR. HAROLD GRIFFIS

Following Christmas exercises at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at Wilshire Boulevard Christian Church, Dr. Harold Griffis, the pastor, will preach on "Decorating Our Christmas Tree." In the evening the cantata, "The Mystery of Bethlehem," will be sung by the chorus choir, with Robert S. Sargent directing and Chested G. Garden at the organ.

BRAMACHAREE NERODE

Exceptionally interesting programs have been arranged for tomorrow at Mt. Washington Center, 3880 San Rafael avenue, Highland Park. The day's events will start with the children's hour, to be conducted at 2 p.m. by Bramacharee Nerode, in charge of the Center's activities. At 3 p.m. Bramacharee will speak on "Self Discipline According to Confucius" and Swami Yogananda will give a lecture on "Christ-consciousness." At the Hindu-American dinner, at 5:30 p.m., speakers will include Victor Graham, Governor of the Samoa Islands, and L. E. Behymer, impresario.

ADJT. B. ROGERS

Commandant Herbert Carroll, in charge of the Citadel of the Salvation Army, 125 East Fourth street, will preach from the Citadel pulpit tomorrow morning and evening. The Citadel band, led by Adjt. Ballington Rogers, will play in the evening. Adjt. Frank Howell will preach in the morning and evening at the Temple, 832 West Ninth street.

TO PRESENT DRAMA

The United Lodge of Theosophists announces that the drama, "The Christmas Light," will be presented at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Theosophy Hall, Thirty-third street and Grand avenue. Seats will be free to the public. Excepting for the balcony, the doors of the hall will be closed at 11 a.m. In the evening a speaker for the lodge will discuss "The Real Christmas."

DR. CARL S. PATTON

John Smallman, leader of the Smallman A Capella Choir, will direct the combined choirs of First Congregational Church tomorrow morning in a program of Christmas music. Following the concert a sermon will be preached by Dr. Carl S. Patton, the pastor.

DR. GEORGE DAVIDSON

"What is the meaning of Christmas? What are the Christmas Canticles? What is the Biblical authority for 'tithing'?" These questions will be discussed by Dr. George Davidson tomorrow evening at St. John's Episcopal Church. At the morning hour, following an elaborate musical program, Dr. Davidson will preach on "The Christmas Message." A feature of the evening service will be the singing of the cantata "Bethlehem." A corporate Communion of the Guild of Servers will be observed at 7:30 a.m. and breakfast will follow in the parish house. On Christmas day Holy Communion will be celebrated at 7, 8 and 10 a.m.

DR. JOHN EBY

The Wilshire Presbyterian Church choristers will give their fifth annual Christmas candlelight musical program tomorrow evening. The choir of fifty boys and men, under the direction of William R. Dorr, will have the assistance of Kathleen Jordan, violinist, and Mildred Hawke, harpist. A feature of the program will be the rendition of the new anthem, "The Lame Shepherd," by W. R. Voris. Christmas trees and other evergreens will be used in decorating the church and light will be furnished by 300 candles. At the morning hour Dr. J. A. Eby will preach on "The Heart of Christmas."

DR. J. G. DORN

Three services of interest will mark the celebration of Christmas Sunday tomorrow at Hollywood Lutheran Church. A sermon by Dr. George Dorn, the pastor, and an elaborate musical program will feature the services at 6:30 a.m. At 11 a.m. a baptismal service will be conducted and in the evening, starting at 7 o'clock, the children will give their Christmas program.

DR. W. E. EDMONDS

Dudley Buck's popular cantata, "The Coming of the King," will feature the program tomorrow evening at Glendale Presbyterian Church. The choir will be directed by William D. Wheatley. Preceding the concert there will be a tower chimes recital by Jeannetta Mathers. In the morning Dr. W. E. Edmonds will preach on "The Holy Child Jesus," and the musical program will include the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah."

DR. E. D. GAYLORD

The Christmas spirit will pervade all services tomorrow at Messiah Congregational Church. Following the Sunday-school exercises in the morning three chorus choirs will unite in the rendition of Christmas music, and Dr. E. D. Gaylord, the pastor, will preach on "Wise Men and Shepherds." The evening program will include the "White Gifts" presentation and a drama entitled "The Christmas Gift."

REV. JOHN SUTER

The prayer books received by St. Paul's Cathedral will be dedicated at the cathedral tomorrow morning by Dr. John W. Suter of Boston, who is known as the "father" of the new prayer book of the Episcopal Church. In the evening, following an organ recital by Dudley W. Fitch, Rev. Harold S. Thelin will preach on "The Enrollment." On Christmas Eve there will be services at 7:15 p.m. and 11 p.m. Services on Christmas Day will be conducted at 7:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m., with sermons by Bishop Stevens.

REV. ADOM MELIKIAN

Tomorrow will be a red-letter day in the history of St. Mary's Liberal Catholic Church, 710 West Adams street. At the service at 11 a.m. the presiding bishop will ordain to the priesthood Rev. Phillip J. Beyhan. Several priests from neighboring parishes will attend the pontifical eucharist and a special musical program will be given. At 7:30 p.m. the bishop will confer the sacrament of confirmation on a class of candidates. The sermon will be by Rev. Melikian and he will be assisted at the services by the Armenian Choir of Los Angeles. The service will close with solemn benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. On Christmas Day a solemn pontifical eucharist will be celebrated at 11 a.m. A healing service will be conducted Friday evening.

DR. JOHN SNAPE

The Christmas story in song, story and pageant will be presented at Temple Baptist Church tomorrow. At 10:30 a.m. members of the Bible school classes, assisted by the choir, will present the pageant "The Real Spirit of Christmas." Following the program, Dr. John Snape will preach on "A Saying of Jesus Not Found in the Bible." In the evening Dr. Snape will preach on "The Christmas Mood" and the choir will sing the cantata "The Christ Child," by C. B. Hawley, under the direction of Hugo Kirchhofer, with Dr. Ray Hastings at the organ and Ruth Geiger at the piano.

DR. WILLIAM LAMB

"The Rent Veil and the Open Tomb" is the subject of a sermon to be preached by Dr. William Lamb of Sidney, Australia, tomorrow morning at First Fundamental Church, 920 South Grand View street. The topic for evening is "Startling Things That Are to Happen at the End of This Age." Christmas music will be directed by C. M. Books. Dr. Lamb will give an illustrated lecture at the church Thursday evening.

DR. IRVING SPENCER

Christmastide programs at St. Matthias Episcopal Church will begin at 11:30 p.m. on Christmas Eve when the St. Cecelia Mass will be sung in its complete form. The midnight service also will include Pergolessi's "Glory to God" and old English Christmas carols. The address will be by Dr. Walter G. Blossom. The Christmas Eve music will be repeated at the Christmas Day service, which will begin at 10:30 a.m., when Gounod's "Noel" also will be sung. The music will be by the choir of boys and men, directed by Ernest Douglas. The sermon will be by Dr. Irving Spencer, priest in charge.

TO PRESENT PLAY

Realizing the dramatic and spiritual value of medieval religious plays, talented members of Beverly Hills Community Church will present, tomorrow evening, the Nativity and Adoration cycles of the "Chester Mysteries" as performed several years ago at Greenwich Village Theater, New York. The public is invited. The play, written in the fifteenth century by George Bellin, is especially adapted to the Christmas season. The production will be directed by Miss Ruth Evans and the cast includes Henry Beaumont, Edmund Miner, Henry Kissling, William Robison, Lawrence Dodd, Everett Robison, Gertrude Stomp, Gilbert Nelson, William McKenzie and Morris Dunham. Music will be furnished by the Sumner Prindle Trio, consisting of Sumner Prindle, organist; John Knox, violinist, and Isabella Dorman Peck, 'cellist.

DR. G. A. BRIEGLEB

Jessie MacDonald Patterson, soprano, and director of music for the Pilgrimage Play, will be heard tomorrow morning and evening in Christmas musical programs at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. The chorus choir will be directed by Frances Knight, organist. Instrumental music will be furnished by an orchestra directed by E. R. Shaw. In the evening the singers will present the cantata, "King of Kings." At the morning hour Dr. G. A. Briegleb will preach on "Another Wise Man," the sermon topic for evening being "Jack Horner's Christmas Pie."

REV. R. P. SHULER

A white Christmas pageant, in which everyone is invited to participate by presenting gifts on the platform in the auditorium, will be celebrated tomorrow evening at Trinity Methodist Church. Gifts of money will be placed in the manger before the altar. At the morning hour Rev. R. P. Shuler will preach on "The Little Son of the Living God," the sermon topic for evening being "A Christian Christmas."

DR. P. W. PHILPOTT

"How shall we account for Jesus; His marvelous teaching and matchless ministry, apart from the story of the incarnation" is the question to be discussed by Dr. P. W. Philpott tomorrow morning at the Church of the Open Door. At 3 p.m. Rev. William Lamb of Australia will preach on "Christ's Coming Again With Power and Great Glory." At 7:30 p.m. the choir, under direction of Leonard Bushell, will sing Buck's cantata, "Coming of the King," and Dr. Philpott will preach on "What Shall We Do With Jesus?"

DR. JAMES H. LASH

Talented members of the church school of Hollywood Congregational Church will present the drama "The Dust of the Road" at that church at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow, according to announcement by Dr. James H. Lash, the pastor. At 4:45 p.m. tomorrow the church school and choir will give an entertainment which will include the pageant "The Christmas Quest." The White Gift program, closing the service, will be featured by the donation of food, clothing and toys for needy children.

MRS. LEILA CASTBERG

"The Inner Light of Christmas" is the subject of a sermon to be preached at Belasco Theater tomorrow morning by Mrs. Leila Castberg, pastor of the Church of Divine Power. A song service with Morris Stoloff as a violin accompanist, will precede the address. Sunday-school will be conducted at 9:30 a.m. at 2323 Reservoir street.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon for tomorrow at all Churches of Christ, Scientist, of Los Angeles, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The Golden Text is II Corinthians, IV.6: "God, Who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ."

All Los Angeles branches of The Mother Church conduct Sunday services at 11 a.m., and some of them repeat their services at 8 p.m. On Wednesday evening, meetings are held at which testimonies are given of Christian Science healing, and Third Church of Christ, Scientist, conducts an additional testimonial meeting on Wednesday at noon.

CRUZE TO DIRECT "SPOILERS"

Lilyan Tashman, Lee Tracy, Play Leads in Fox Film; Tiffany Casts Marion Shilling and Johnny Walker; Mary Eaton is Scheduled to Sign With Fox

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Now we are sure that Rex Beach's "The Spoilers" is going to be a great picture. For none other than James Cruze, famous as a director of epics, is to direct it, we hear from an authoritative source other than the Cruze concern, although no contracts are as yet signed. As you remember, Edwin Carewe is to produce the picture for Pathe, but has decided not to direct it.

JAMES CRUZE.

However, Cruze is to first direct another picture, "Circus Parade," for his own organization, James Cruze Productions, Inc. Cruze returned home Thursday from the hospital, following his operation for appendicitis, and was actually at his office for a few minutes yesterday. He expects to start work January 18. Casting is to begin at once.

One cannot imagine a finer director for "The Spoilers" than Cruze, who has so many successes to his credit, including the never-to-be-forgotten "Covered Wagon."

LILYAN TASHMAN TO BE FOX HEROINE

No wonder Lilyan Tashman is enjoying herself in carefree and heart-felt fashion these days back in New York.

The fact is that Miss Tashman has signed with Fox to play the feminine lead in "On the Level," which Irving Cummings is to direct.

This will be, I believe, the first time Miss Tashman has taken an actual lead in a picture, although the characters she has portrayed have been outstandin in their vividness, and her ability has long entitled her to play leads.

LILYAN TASHMAN

Lee Tracy also has been signed for the comedy lead.

Victor McLaglen is the star of the production. Work is to begin at once.

Tiffany Selects Large Cast

Marion Shilling, noted actress from the stage, has been cast in the leading feminine role of Tiffany's "Cyclone Hickey," we learned yesterday. This is an original by A. P. Younger, and is said to be a strong story.

Johnny Walker was signed for an important part, also, and Paul Hurst has the heavy role.

James Flood is to direct the picture, which will, of course, be a talker. It will be made in the open, being a western, and special sound apparatus will be used.

Mary Eaton With Fox

While no contracts are actually signed, it is on the cards, we learn, that Mary Eaton is to appear soon in a featured part in a Fox picture.

MARY EATON

Miss Eaton is, as everyone knows, famous on the stage in musical comedy. She has played leads in many New York productions. Recently she came west to appear in talking pictures, and though she has played but one or two roles, she has already established herself in the hearts of the fans.

Phil Goldstone Confirms

Phil Goldstone, who is to produce "Resurrection" for Tiffany, yesterday confirmed the report we had received that Buster Collier is to play one of the leading male roles in the above named production. Collier signed his contract yesterday.

Donald Gallagher to Act

Donald Gallagher, who is to direct "Temple Tower," is also going to keep his hand in on the acting end by playing a role in the picture.

The director was formerly a noted actor on the New York stage, and recently was signed by Fox to guide actors through their roles, and he has, to this time, contented himself with this job. But there happens to be a part in "Temple Tower" which he particularly fancies, and therefore is to put on the grease-paint once more.

Henry Walthall is playing one of the featured roles.

M.-G.-M. Signs Stage Actor

Lee Kohlmar, noted New York actor, who has appeared with David Warfield in "The Auctioneer," "The Music Master" and other of his successes, was yesterday added to the cast of "The Song Writer," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's epic of "Tin Pan Alley."

Two for Universal Film

Universal yesterday signed two well-known actors for roles in "The Cohens and Kellys in Scotland."

They are David Torrence and Russell Simpson, who will both have featured roles in the comedy.

Permanent Chorus With Fox

Fox Films is signing up a permanent chorus of 100 beautiful girls to appear in its various revues. Which means that Fox intends to go on producing musicals.

HUNDREDS SUSPECTED IN MURDER

Process of Elimination Employed by Police in John Kraml Case

Too many possible murder suspects, instead of too few, proved the stumbling block yesterday in the police investigation of the mysterious killing of aged John Kraml, found Thursday morning in a San Pedro clothing store with his head crushed.

Several hundred seafaring men are declared to have rented clothes lockers at the store and the police still are engaged in the tedious process of eliminating all from suspicion.

The two merchant seamen picked up in Los Angeles the night after the murder by deputy sheriffs, are being held, one for violation of the State Poison Act, the other as a material witness.

That the killer wore a dark suit which became stained with his victim's blood was strongly asserted by Detective Captain Farrell of the harbor division. His officers already had investigated and dropped several cases of bloody clothes, but he asked anyone knowing of such dark, stained trousers to communicate with his office.

Coroner Nance has set the inquest for 9:30 a.m. today at the Goodrich - Halverson undertaking parlors, San Pedro.

Hit-Run Driver Hides Japanese He Injured

An unknown hit-and-run driver last night knocked down K. Kodani, a Japanese, in South Pasadena, fractured his skull, carried him away from the scene of the accident and later flung his unconscious body behind a stone wall more than a mile from the scene of the accident. According to the report of the South Pasadena police, an eyewitness, a young girl living near by, reported she saw a small car strike the bicycle the Japanese was riding at the corner of Oak and Stratford avenues and carry the unconscious man away.

Sergt. William and Patrolman Frye, together with other members of the South Pasadena police force, started a search for the injured man which resulted in his discovery on the grounds of the Hotel Raymond. Kodani had been thrown in a narrow space between an old barn and a stone wall a short distance from a highway. He was given emergency treatment at the Pasadena Emergency Hospital and later removed to the Pasadena Hospital, where physicians say he has slight chance for recovery.

Kodani has been a resident of South Pasadena for more than twenty years and was caretaker for the South Pasadena Woman's clubhouse. Two years ago he gave a birthday party on the grounds of the club, to which he invited all of the citizens of South Pasadena and entertained a large crowd with Japanese food.

BOUNDARY OF SPACE INDICATED

Astronomers Set Limit But Give No Clew to What's Beyond It

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Dec. 20. (Exclusive) There are limits of space, according to present indications noted by astronomers. Dr. John A. Anderson of Mount Wilson Observatory stated tonight, speaking at the Christmas gathering of the Los Angeles section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in the Hotel Vista Del Arroyo. His topic was "Planning a Great Telescope," and dealt with preparations for setting up the proposed 200-inch telescope.

This telescope will be located in Southern California, Southern Nevada or Western Arizona, he said in answer to a question. The observatory is spending $25,000 in a search for the correct site. The total weight of the telescope's moving parts will be 600 tons, all of which weight must be turned on bearings.

Dr. Anderson said he does not expect the great new telescope to show anything on Mars; not men, especially.

After saying present indications are that there are limits of space, he said one of the present riddles of astronomers is the fact they recently have discovered that certain distant nebulae are traveling away from the earth at the rate of 8500 miles per second, the fastest-moving heavenly bodies known to man. Astronomers now are doing work with more distant nebulae, which they expect to result in the discovery of a nebula which is moving away from earth at the rate of 15,000 miles per second.

"The big problem is why are all these nebulae running away from the earth?" said Dr. Anderson. He added that maybe it will be explained by Einstein's theory of relativity.

FOREIGN DRAMA OF CHRIST GIVEN

Freiburg Passion Play Opens at Auditorium

Production, is Combining of Tableau and Action

Events Depicted from Palm Sunday to Easter

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Simple, naive and in a degree obvious in its presentation of the story of the Christ, but given with manifest earnestness, the Freiburg Passion Play was introduced last evening at Philharmonic Auditorium. Coming from a town in the Black Forest of Germany, and with words spoken in the language of that nation, the production interests chiefly because of its native genuineness.

In Freiburg, as in certain other towns of Europe, the Passion Play has been preserved as a heritage from the Middle Ages, and the present version is the first to have gone on a world tour. It is a combination of the tableau with the spoken word, leading from the entrance of Christ into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday to the event of the Resurrection. In this and many other respects it differs from the Pilgrimage Play, given here each summer, for that locally well-established institution limns the happenings from the nativity to the morn of Easter.

ACCUMULATES INTEREST

In the Freiburg Passion Play the betrayal and trial of Jesus are shown in great detail. Jesus weeping over Jerusalem, the Last Supper, Jesus before Caiaphas and Pilate and Herod, and the Crucifixion are portrayed with an increasing dramatic interest. From a purely theatrical standpoint the latter part of the play is much better than the earlier, and there is a marked accumulation of effectiveness in those episodes that disclose the accusations brought against Jesus by the high priest, the carrying of the Cross and the actual crucifixion.

The fact that the play is given in a foreign language does not lessen its understandability to any material extent. One can follow the events by virtue of the action, and there are ample descriptive data in the program, as well as a complete translation of the dialogue available.

There is a continuous sequence to the first part of the play of almost two hours from several preliminary tableaux to the beginning of the tragic progress to Golgotha. The second part of the play, which is much briefer, is concerned only with the drama of the Crucifixion and the Resurrection.

LARGE COMPANY

Leading portrayals in the large company include that of Adolf Fassnacht as the Christus, Elsa Fassnacht as Mary the Mother, Fritz Schoeller as Caiaphas, the high priest, Paul Dietz as Pontius Pilate, Amelia Fassnacht as Mary Magdalene, Victor Roberts as Herod, Alfred Ambrogio as Annas, Joseph Danner as Dathan, Otto Ludwig as Nathaniel were other leading stage figures. Much may be said in praise of Fritz Schoeller's Caiaphas, and to an extent of Willi Ehrhardt's Judas, though his bargaining with the priests of the temple was less effective than his interpretation of the haunted betrayer of the Christ.

Adolf Fassnacht sustains with a high degree of dignity the impression of the central figure in the sacred drama. He lacked the vocal simplicity to which one is accustomed here in this role, but enacted it with marked reserve and serenity otherwise.

The play is elaborately costumed, though less extravagant in settings.

IRISH STAR IN BOOK

Colleen Moore is the subject of a unique impression written by Lee Shippey in his newly published volume, "Personal Glimpses," which has just been published and which includes a group of close-up glances at noted people of Southern California. Shippey reveals Miss Moore both at work and in her leisure moments and gives a pleasing impression of this Irish star who rose from obscurity and poverty to the heights on the silver screen.

OLD BOWERY DAYS REVIVED IN DRAMA

Mae West

"Diamond Lil," gripping melodrama of the old Bowery of New York and the Barbary Coast as it existed in the gay '90's, will start a short run tomorrow at the Biltmore Theater. The engagement will extend over a period of two weeks only.

Mae West, author-star of "Diamond Lil," gathered some of her play material from the late "Chicago May" Churchill, reformed criminal of international notoriety. This woman supplied much of the atmosphere and argot used in the melodrama. A versatile cast will be seen in support of the star.

Christmas Week Brings "Dear Me"

Grace La Rue

Costars with Hale Hamilton in the stage comedy starting tomorrow at El Capitan. The piece was written by Luther Reed, motion-picture director, in collaboration with Hamilton.

TRIO OF STARS IN COMEDY

Three guest stars, Tom Moore, Kay Hammond and Ben Lyon, arrive at El Capitan tomorrow to present the comedy, "The Boomerang," with the Henry Duffy Players. This holiday attraction brings the combination of two noted picture stars, an equally well-known stage actress and a comedy which was produced by David Belasco.

"The Boomerang" was written by Winchell Smith and Victor Mapes and is the humorous story of a physician whose first patient is a lovesick youth named Bud Woodbridge. Dr. Sumner, the physician, advises the youth to pretend interest for a month in Virginia Xelva, an attractive nurse, in order to arouse the jealousy of Grace Taylor, whom he really loves. The plan succeeds only too well.

This smart and amusing play will give fine opportunities to Tom Moore, who will have the role of the physician; to Kay Hammond, who will be seen as the nurse, and to Ben Lyon, who makes his first appearance with the Henry Duffy forces in the role of Bud Woodbridge. The cast includes Barbara Jo Allen, C. Henry Gordon, Florence Roberts, Ralph Kline and William Macauley.

LEGEND OF WODEN TOLD AT FILMARTE

"Siegfried," Interpreted by Paul Richter, is Novel and Unique Tale

BY ELENA BOLAND

All the magic of the old Norse mythology is brought to life in "Siegfried," the U.F.A. production at the Filmarte. "Siegfried" is not a new release, yet so novel is its subject matter to the screen and so beautifully interpreted is its legend that it loses nothing by repetition.

A running time of one hour and forty-five minutes with no intermission is a test few pictures could stand, but this does. However, cutting of trivial detail would give it a full twenty minutes' improvement.

Fritz Lang, the director, has struck a slow, stately tempo, lapsing often into undue pageantry. Portions which are most effective are those at the beginning, those in the Queen of Iceland's country and the latter bit picturing the death of Siegfried. A feeling of unreality throws a mist over their beauty, entirely suitable to their magical quality. This same feeling of unreality remains throughout, making what should be a great love story stand like a thing apart and cold.

A sort of fairy-tale technique has been used by Carl Hoffman, whose exquisite touch is unique, in photographing the forest of Woden, its fire-eating dragons, dwarfs and its magical transformations. A series of contrasts helps the illusion. Against mammoth trees and rocks humans become pygmies. No fairy tale would be complete without a dragon jettying smoke and flame. From the amiable manner in which this one flapped his fin at Siegfried, I at first feared that he was more front than flame. However, it was just that he was working up steam, for when Siegfried started poking him with his trusty blade he let out enough smoke to satisfy any imagination.

The legend is told that Siegfried wooed and won Kriemhilde, sister to King Gunther, a well-meaning weakling. The King must marry before his sister, so Siegfried leads him to the cold lands of the north, there to find the athletic Queen of Iceland, who must be worsted in rock-throwing three times by any suitor before she will accept him. Upon seeing Gunther she hoped to enlarge her gallery of ex-suitors' heads, but under the cloak of invisibility Siegfried puts in his strength to the winning of the bride who rewards him with eventual death.

This is a glorified example of what can be done with a camera, although it would be more appreciated told at shorter length.

The Siegfried of Paul Richter is splendidly vital. He stands for the joy of life and is at no loss in more dramatic moments. Margarete Selen is rather phlegmatic as Kriemhilde, which, perhaps, was etiquette for primeval maidenhood. Brunhilde is an energetic, brooding tempest as portrayed by Hanna Ralph.

This week's short revival at the Filmarte pictures New York back in the gay nineties, comparing it with what it is today.

GLEASONS TO APPEAR

Distinction will go to James and Lucille Gleason tonight at the Million Dollar where they are scheduled to appear in person with their picture, "The Shannons of Broadway," now playing to capacity holiday throngs. Special appeal surrounds their appearance in that the Gleasons have promised to present one of their most famous vaudeville skits.

PHILLIPS HOLMES FEATURED

Phillips Holmes's newest role for Paramount is that of the young musician-composer in "Pointed Heels," in which he is featured with William Powell, Fay Wray and Helen Kane.

NEW YEAR'S EVE SHOW PLANNED

"Lost Zeppelin" to Start at Million Dollar With Gala Premiere

The premiere showing of Tiffany's production, "The Lost Zeppelin," is set for New Year's Eve at a midnight matinee show, which will usher in 1930 in a gala manner at the Million Dollar Theater. Besides the showing of the picture, an elaborate and colorful stage show will be offered.

Roaring motor generators, Kleig lights, clicking motion-picture cameras, sound and talking equipment, serpentines, horns and crowds will mark the opening of a limited engagement of "The Lost Zeppelin."

Conway Tearle, Virginia Valli and Ricardo Cortez portray the leading roles in the film. It was produced with sound and talking effects and the story depicts heroism, adventure and courage of the crew of a huge Zeppelin amid the frozen wastes of the South Pole region.

Actress Back for Holidays

Leatrice Joy, screen star and vaudeville headliner, has returned to Hollywood from a ten-week vaudeville tour over the RKO circuit.

In order to be with her family during the holidays, it was necessary for Miss Joy to cancel a week's booking in New York City.

Miss Joy's future plans have not yet been announced, but it is known that she has two screen offers under consideration.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

THE third production to be accomplished by Lillian Albertson and Louis Macloon on the Pacific Coast will probably be "Strictly Dishonorable," amusing comedy by Preston Sturges, which arrived in New York the latter part of September and which has been packing them in ever since.

Macloon is now in the Atlantic metropolis in connection with negotiations for the play, which were started with Brock Pemberton, producer, some weeks ago. If the deal for the play rights is satisfactorily concluded, "Strictly Dishonorable" may find itself on Los Angeles playboards some time in the spring. "New Moon," scheduled for the week of January 12 at the Majestic, and "Bitter Sweet," the Noel Coward operetta, will precede it.

"Strictly Dishonorable" is one of the very few risque comedies of the New York season and it, according to reports, does not nearly approach those to be found almost everywhere a year or two years ago.

Macloon took with him on his eastern jaunt, George Cunningham, who is going to stage dances for the forthcoming operettas. Cunningham stopped off in Chicago to watch that city's production of "New Moon" and glean ideas. Both will be back here in a few days.

Santa Barbara Omitted

An opening in Santa Barbara, tentatively planned for "Oh, Susanna," new musical which arrives at the Mayan Friday, has been abandoned, it was learned yesterday. The show will open in Los Angeles without preliminary tryout other than dress rehearsals.

No "Pleasure Bound"

"Pleasure Bound," the Shubert show, with songs and choruses headed for the Mason to follow "Chauve Souris," has been recalled to New York and will not play Los Angeles this year.

Post in Portland

Guy Bates Post, lately seen in "The Climax," has gone north to Portland where, and in Seattle, he will shortly be seen in "Her Friend the King," for Henry Duffy. The play will come to Los Angeles later on.

More of "Is Zat So"

A sequel to "Is Zat So," the prize-fight society play in which Jimmy Gleason made a big success a few years ago, is being prepared by that author-actor, I was told yesterday. And that brings up another matter, which perhaps proves that all actor trails eventually lead to Hollywood: Five members of the original London cast of "Is Zat So" are now in town. There are Jimmy Gleason and Robert Armstrong, who have been residents of the film city for some time. There is Jack Perry, pugilist, who now runs the South Gate Athletic Club; Miss Jo Wallace, who played the part of the nurse, and Anthony Bushell, young English juvenile seen recently in "Disraeli" and known also as the husband of Zelma O'Neal. Incidentally, Mr. and Mrs. Gleason may be seen on the screen of the Million Dollar Theater this week in "The Shannons of Broadway."

'Rio Rita' Cast Scattered for Holiday Season

The cast of "Rio Rita," current attraction at the Carthay Circle Theater, is scattered to the four winds at the present moment, but Radio Pictures plans to have them all together again soon.

Bebe Daniels has just finished "Love Comes Along" in which she again demonstrates her singing talent. John Boles is busy finishing a picture at Universal, but occasionally drops over to R.-K.-O. to see Miss Daniels, with whom he is making light-opera phonograph records.

Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, the team of Ziegfeld comedians in "Rio Rita," are both in New York. The pair, however, will leave Manhattan next week for Los Angeles. As a result of their outstanding success in "Rio Rita," Wheeler and Woolsey are to be costarred by Radio Pictures in "Radio Revels."

CLUBWOMEN RALLY FOR ONE OF SEX

Chief Kelley's Suspension of Mrs. Johnston Opposed by Pasadena Leaders

PASADENA, Dec. 20.—Suspension yesterday of Mrs. Helen B. Johnston, this city's first policewoman, resulted today in friction between Chief of Police Charles F. Kelley and ten officers of five leading women's organizations, who came to Mrs. Johnston's support with a lengthy statement. The principal charge against the policewoman is that she used assertedly unethical and illegal methods in arranging the marriage of two Mexican minors in Tia Juana.

Clubwomen who signed the statement were: Mrs. Leo MacLaughlin, Y.W.C.A. president; Mrs. C. O. McCasland, Women's Civic League president; Mrs. Howard D. Phillis, chairman, public affairs committee, Women's Civic League; Mrs. J. A. Wingard, Shakespeare Club president; Mrs. William C. Free, chairman, public affairs committee, Shakespeare Club; Mrs. John P. Buwalda, director, International Association of Policewomen; Mrs. Walter Bliss, Mrs. Datus Smith, former presidents, Women's Civic League; Mrs. Clayton R. Taylor, vice-president, Council of Social Agencies, and Mrs. Katherine B. Watson of the Women's Civic League.

Chief Kelley asserted this afternoon that if concerted opposition to Mrs. Johnston's removal develops further, he may be forced to reveal additional evidence to prove that she should be dropped from the department. He declared that Mrs. Johnston apparently has preferred to follow the advice of Mrs. Buwalda, national authority on social service work, rather than that of her superiors.

CABRILLO BATHS AT SAN DIEGO RAIDED

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 20.—Police today raided an establishemnt in the heart of the downtown district known as the Cabrillo Baths, arrested three women and one man and within an hour had obtained convictions in Police Court. William Paseman, 32 years of age, charged with maintaining a disorderly establishment, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to six months in jail, which was suspended on condition that he leave the city within sixty days, during which time he was instructed to dispose of his holdings. The women also were ordered to leave town.

Detective Lieutenant George Sears and Detective Sergeant Richard Chadwick made the raid.

ROYAL ARCH MASONS NAME NEW OFFICERS

BAY CITY MAYOR TO LEAD PARADE

Invitation from Tournament of Roses Body Accepted

James Rolph, Jr., to Ride Coal Black Stallion

Telegram Expresses Great Appreciation of Honor

PASADENA, Dec. 20.—Mayor James Rolph, Jr., of San Francisco, will serve as grand marshal of the 1930 Tournament of Roses Parade, it was announced today by C. Hal Reynolds, Tournament of Roses Association president.

In a telegram of acceptance of the highest honor this city can bestow Rayor Rolph said: "You have delightfully and signally honored me with your wonderful invitation to be grand marshal of the forty-first Tournament of Roses Parade to be held in your lovely city on New Year's Day and I accept your invitation and am mindful of the great compliment it conveys. You have been able to count on the friendship of San Francisco and this will continue. I am confident my fellow-citizens will appreciate the great honor you do their Mayor in joining with you in your efforts to portray the spirit of California to the world."

Mounted on a coal black stallion, Mayor Rolph, a splendid horseman, is expected to present a picturesque figure as leader of the great floral pageant. Last summer San Francisco's executive served as grand marshal of the Fiesta de las Rosas in San Jose.

Gov. Young and Mayor Porter of Los Angeles will also participate in the parade.

The San Francisco Board of Supervisors will ride in a richly decorated automobile.

FONTANA TO FORM NEW TOWNSHIP

Changed Status Will Take Effect Monday; Constable and Justice to be Chosen

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 20.—Creation of a township to serve Fontana, one of San Bernardino county's rapidly developing communities, will be legally accomplished Monday by the Board of Supervisors, it was announced today by C. E. Grier, chairman of the board.

The Supervisors agreed informally a month ago to divorce the Fontana district from the Rialto township because of the sharp increase in Fontana's population in recent years. Two township officers, a constable and a justice of the peace will be named. Although there has been no announcement by the Supervisors, it is forecast that T. C. McDonald, former Rialto peace officer, will be named constable, and Roy E. Beridge, past Commander of the Fontana American Legion post, appointed justice of the peace.

The new township will embrace a wide area. It will extend from Randall street on the south to Highland avenue on the north; from Linden street on the east to Mulberry on the west. The township's voting precincts will likewise be increased from four to six, Grier announced.

Fontana in ten years has developed from a district of 100 residents to a prosperous community of more than 4000 population.

High Officers of Shrine Given Warm Welcome

ALHAMBRA, Dec. 20.—Nobles of the Mystic Shrine residing in this and neighboring cities gathered at the San Gabriel Country Club last night to greet Leo V. Youngworth of Los Angeles, Imperial Potentate, and George J. Ramsey, Recorder of Al Malaikah Temple, Los Angeles.

LEO YOUNGWORTH

In his address Youngworth stressed world peace as one of the big objectives of Shrinedom for the coming year. He called attention to plans for peace jubilee meetings to be held in Toronto, Can., and in New York, and declared that President Hoover is deeply interested in finding some practical method by which world peace may be brought about.

Youngworth also discussed the welfare work for crippled children, which the Shrine is carrying on throughout the country, with $10,000,000 invested in fifteen hospitals, where more than 30,000 crippled children have been treated.

Herbert S. Farrell, local police judge, was the toastmaster, and Horace H. Quinby, president of the Alhambra Shrine Club, presided. A Christmas program was presented following the banquet and speaking.

SAN CLEMENTE, Dec. 20.—Pitched fifty feet, Robert Harrington, jockey of the La Brea stables of Hamilton Cotton, was injured when his mount, Forger, crashed into a fence while working out around the half-mile track yesterday. Harrington was taken to the San Clemente Clinic, where he was treated for concussion of the brain and bruises.

COMIC OPERA IN REAL LIFE SEEN

Woman's Attempt to Defeat Arbor Building Enjoined

Law Invoked to Prevent Her Use of Hose as Weapon

Spanish Arts Society Idea Starts Riverside War

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 20.—A new maneuver was executed today in the comic opera warfare that has been raging for months over a pergola that the Spanish Arts Society is having constructed in Seventh street from the Santa Fe tracks to Main street. This latest of the many moves and counter-moves of the contending factions, resulted in an injunction being granted by Superior Judge Morton, ordering B. B. Bush, his agents or his employees to refrain from interfering with the erection of the imitation grape arbor in front of his residence at Seventh and Lemon streets.

The injunction was granted following a sudden sortie staged yesterday by Mrs. Bush with a garden hose, against workmen who sought to dig holes in the Bush lines for the cement poles of the pergola. The workmen exited in haste after calling a policeman, who refused to interfere. Mrs. Bush grimly waited, hose in hand, for the return of the construction gang but instead of attempting to continue their labors, they repaired to headquarters of the Spanish Arts Society. Executives of that organization immediately started legal action which terminated in today's injunction.

The pergola is completed to Lemon street with the exception of a few vacant stretches, one of them in front of the Bush residence. Bush has used every legal means to halt construction, but so far has failed.

According to the Spanish Arts Society, a civic organization whose avowed purpose is the beautification of Riverside, the pergola is intended solely as an ornament to the city. The idea came from a pergola which a Seventh-street undertaker placed over the sidewalk in front of his establishment several years ago. The poles are made in imitation of tree trunks and are to be covered with vines. Strenuous objections have been raised by numerous property owners. The fire department also has opposed the project, asserting its movements would be hindered in case of fire.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE CONCLUDES

Pedagogues of Imperial County Hear Outstanding Educators in Sessions

EL CENTRO, Dec. 20.—Imperial County Teachers' Institute closed its three-day session here this afternoon and the 400 instructors left for their homes in various parts of Southern California to spend the holidays.

One of the outstanding addresses on the program was that of Dr. Tully C. Knowles, head of the College of the Pacific, which emphasized the importance of teaching correct grammar to children in elementary schools.

Mrs. Iva Copple, editor of the New Era of London, Eng., urged the teachers to give the child every opportunity to develop its personality. Overstandardization is a dangerous thing, she said, and should not be emphasized too much in the schools.

At a business session held by the Imperial Valley teachers during the institute, Cluder Prince, principal of the Calipatria schools, was named president of the teachers' organization for the ensuing year. J. E. Warne of Brawley was named vice-president; Mrs. Rose R. Thompson of Niland, secretary, and Mrs. Pauline Routt of Westmoreland, treasurer.

Sale Announced of 101 Ranch in Imperial Valley

IMPERIAL, Dec. 20.—One of the most important land deals reported in Imperial Valley recently was made public today when it was announced that Elmer M. Sears, vegetable grower and shipper of Brawley, had purchased the old 101 ranch near this city.

The property, which consists of 640 acres, has been owned by the Boylson Stone Investment Company, V. J. MacCreadie and Joseph Wilson estate. It is regarded as one of the most desirable parcels of land in Imperial Valley.

OIL WORKER INJURED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 20. Clyde Kingsley, Standard Oil employee, suffered a broken finger on his right hand and severe cuts while working in the oil field here yesterday. His hand was injured when falling pipe crushed it against a rotary table. He was taken to the Anaheim Hospital.

FLY-SWATTING MARK CLAIMED

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 20.—Laying claim that L. W. Halley, 78-year-old Summerland resident, has killed at least 10,000 flies in the past five months, William R. Anderson, grocer, wants to enter the aged flyswatter as the champion of the State.

"He kills on an average of 100 flies a day," said Anderson. "If there is a champion fly killer in the State it is Halley." Halley confines his fly-swatting activities to the veranda in front of Anderson's store. According to the store owner, Halley has carried on his fly-swatting campaign there for forty years.

REDONDO KIDDIES IN ANNUAL PARADE

Beach City Youngsters Vie For Prizes

REDONDO BEACH, Dec. 20.—The first annual kiddies' parade, sponsored by the South Bay Business Men's Association, started north of Redondo's new municipal park at 10:15 a.m. with more than 300 youngsters ranging in ages from 11 months to 15 years participating.

The affair drew a throng of several thousand spectators from nearby towns as Santa Claus Fred Oder and United States Marshal Al Sittel, under a mounted police convoy headed the line of march down Pacific avenue.

Prizes worth $500 were distributed to the entrants in fifteen different classifications. Concluding the parade a free show at the Fox Redondo Theater, the annual gift of Manager Tom Quinn to the children of the community, followed the morning's entertainment.

Those receiving prizes and special mention were: Wagon division, Douglas Frame; doll buggy, Ida Barr; character, Anna Mae Clark; bicycle, Laurence Breadnell; floats, Leola Selby and Betty Jean Mitchell; kiddie car, Kenith Swartz; autos, Herb Kaltenback; pets, Don Stickley; animal impersonation, Charles Redman, Jr.; comics, Richard Miller; most original, Paul Reams; youngest entrants, O'Dowd sisters (twins) 11 months of age; cleverest ensemble, nine dancing girls; special, Uncle Sam on bicycle and Paul De Hate, Jr., as boxer.

Man in Valley Opens Business in Used Planes

VAN NUYS, Dec. 20.—A new industry has opened up at the Metropolitan Airport, northwest of here, which may grow to large proportions in the course of time.

If you have ground air minded and want to buy a second-hand, used, or "reconditioned" airplane, all you have to do is to apply to S. L. Erickson and he can fix you up. He can be found at the Ruckstell Corporation factory on the grounds. Erickson today said that the sales on second-hand or used airplanes in the United States have increased more than 100 per cent within the last few months, and that the business is likely in the course of events to rival the trade in secondhand automobiles.

Erickson says he is the pioneer in the used-plane business in Southern California and that his trade is constantly increasing.

J. H. ROGERS FOUND DAZED

Missing Beach Realty Dealer Recognized on Road by Woman; Disappearance Still Unexplained

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 20.—Mystery surrounding the unexplained disappearance Monday of J. H. Rogers, prominent local real estate man, was cleared partially today when the missing man, suffering a bruise on the side of the head, was found wandering aimlessly along Del Rey Boulevard, south of Venice, about five miles from his home. He was unable, however, to give a coherent account of his actions. Circumstances under which he dropped from sight, therefore, still remain undetermined.

Rogers was recognized by Mrs. S. H. West, beach realty dealer, while she was driving toward Venice. Questioned by Chief of Police Webb, Rogers said he remembers hazily having crashed into a sign post near Monrovia. Aside from that recollection he could give none of his movements since Monday, last. The bump on Rogers's head, coupled with his vague memory of a triking something while driving his car, gave rise to the theory that he had been walking steadily in a daze until found. Although he wore several days' growth of beard, his clothes were in good condition, indicating, according to Chief Webb, that he had not slept by the roadside.

Rogers was taken to the home of C. H. Ashford, another realty dealer, pending his recovery. Rogers worked out of Ashford's office.

Attention was drawn to Rogers's disappearance early last Tuesday, when his new automobile, badly battered and with blood stains on the front seat, was found in the rear of Ashford's office at 1623 Montana avenue.

More Adequate Fire Protection Will be Sought

SAN FERNANDO, Dec. 20.—Some method of providing better fire protection for persons living just outside the corporate limits of this city in Los Angeles territory will be sought by the local Chamber of Commerce, a committee of which is to meet with the City Council here in an effort to get action on a co-operative arrangement between the local and the Los Angeles fire department. The committee is composed of J. D. Meriwetner, C. C. Knight and E. E. Parsons.

Directors of the chamber voted to take up the matter after communications had been read from a rancher living at Astoria and Mulholland streets, addressed also to Councilman Charles H. Randall of Los Angeles. The rancher's poultry plant recently was threatened by fire and the local fire department was notified. Because the fire was beyond the city boundary the department did not respond, but notified the Pacioma and Van Nuys departments instead. The latter, according to the rancher, arrived about a half-hour after the alarm was turned in and after he had managed to bring the fire under control.

For the local department to answer all alarms from the surrounding territory, leaving stores and residences here unprotected would not be practical, in the opinion of the directors.

Float in Parade Entered by City

MONROVIA, Dec. 20.—Definite decision to enter a float in the Pasadena Tournament of Roses was reached last night by committees of the Chamber of Commerce, Woman's Club and other organizations. Mrs. Henry Waterman is chairman of the float committee.

Decision as to the type of float to be entered has not been settled, although the committee has stated that children will be used to carry out the idea. Dr. Meredith Waterman will assist the committee in designing the float and plans are expected to be announced within a few days.

CITRUS GROWERS TO MEET

Orange County Fruit Exchange Announces Schedule of Gatherings of Its Associations

SANTA ANA, Dec. 20.—Reports on the past season's activities, election of directors and forecasts as to next year's crop will feature annual meetings of various citrus associations affiliated with the Orange County Fruit Exchange, with headquarters at Orange. Banquets to which the growers, their wives and friends are invited, will in most instances mark the annual sessions.

The first association to meet is the Irvine Citrus Association, which holds its annual session on Monday, January 6. On the following day the Golden West Citrus Association of Tustin is to hold its meeting.

The associations in the Orange district have all scheduled their annual sessions for the month of February, excepting the Central Lemon Association, Villa Park, which meets on Thursday, January 9. The Villa Park Orchards, Olive Heights Citrus, Consolidated Growers' and Santiago hold their meetings during the week from February 13 to 20.

The complete schedule of annual meetings follows, as announced by the Orange County Fruit Exchange:

Consolidated Orange Growers, Tuesday, February 18.

Santiago Orange Growers, Thursday, February 20.

Olive Heights Citrus, Saturday, February 15.

David Hewes, Saturday, March 1.

Villa Park Orchards, Thursday, February 13.

Central Lemon, Thursday, January 9.

Garden Grove Citrus, Saturday, January 25.

Tustin Hills Citrus, Monday, January 27.

Golden West Citrus, Tuesday, January 7.

Frances Citrus Tuesday, February 4.

Irvine Citrus, Monday, January 6.

Irvine Valencia Growers, Monday, February 3.

POLICE CAPTAIN MAY BE OUSTED

Instructions from Council Ask for Resignation

Chief Told to Serve Notice on Department Veteran

W. A. Loving Intimates He Will Fight His Removal

GLENDALE, Dec. 20.—Acting on instructions from the City Council, J. W. Charleville, City Manager, today presented a request to Chief of Police J. D. Fraser for the resignation of Capt. W. A. Loving, one of the veterans of the department.

While the letter did not go into details, it was intimated that the resignation of Loving was asked "for the good of the service." Loving was absent from the city today and could not be reached for a statement, but he was quoted by his associates as having stated earlier in the week, when rumors of today's action were heard, that he would either refuse to resign or would resign under protest.

Chief Fraser is awaiting Loving's return to ask for his resignation and if the latter refuses to quit Fraser will so inform the Council.

Loving has been a member of the department for the past ten years. His army experience was used in the training of the men and up till two years ago he was a "dollar-a-year" man, but at that time he was placed on the salary list as captain-inspector. Loving's name cropped up in the recent effort to oust Chief Fraser that ended when the Council supported the latter. The demand for Loving's resignation is declared not to be founded on any charges of misconduct.

Mrs. McCormick Seeks Seclusion in Crown City

PASADENA, Dec. 20.—Mrs. Katherine McCormick, wife of Stanley McCormick, multimillionaire incompetent, is in seclusion here at the Hotel Green, it was learned today. Accompanied by Mrs. J. B. Roessing and two servants, Mrs. McCormick drove to this city late yesterday from Santa Barbara.

She is seeking rest following the hearing of her suit for dismissal of Dr. Edward J Kemp, her husband's personal physician, and presumably is awaiting Superior Judge William G. Dehy's verdict in the case. The suit, which has attracted national interest, also seeks to oust Harold F. McCormick and Mrs. Anita McCormick Blaine as co-guardians of Stanley McCormick. Hearings in the case were concluded Wednesday in Santa Barbara, and the verdict, which rests entirely with Judge Dehy, is not expected to be announced until after New Year's Day.

Templars Seat Their Officers

ALHAMBRA, Dec. 20.—O. K. Morton, Grand Warden of the Grand Commandery of California, Knights Templar, installed the 1930 officers of Alhambra Commandery, No. 48, K.T., last night in Masonic Temple. He was assisted by W. R. Hudson, Installing Marshal, and Rev. S. J. Kennedy, Installing Prelate.

The officers of the commandery installed were: William W. Keyes, Commander; Ralph Haskins, Generalissimo; Arthur E. Shildroth, Captain-General; R. R. Nehls, Senior Warden; Albert J. Wickes, Junior Warden; Charles Morrell, Prelate; John H. Sotow, Treasurer; Fred G. Stone, Recorder; Harry Eislie, Standard Bearer; Thomas Lamond, Sword Bearer; John Hardy, Warder; Elmer Rhodes, William Cathcart and Robert Doyle, Guards, and Alvin Cogswell, Sentinel.

Recorder Stone, who is entering his twentieth term in that office, presented the Past Commander's jewel to Fred Butler, retiring Commander.

JUDGE MAY BE CANDIDATE

BELL, Dec. 20.—I. N. Vaughn, city judge here, may be a candidate to succeed Jerome V. Scofield of Huntington Park as Assembly representative from the Sixty-ninth District. He was approached on this subject and neither affirmed nor denied the rumors, which had been going the rounds. Scofield some time ago announced that he will be a candidate for Supervisor of Los Angeles county from the First District.

MINIMUM CHARGE 2 LINES

To estimate the cost of want ads count 5 average words per line. Words containing more than 6 letters should be counted as two words.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times for payment of Want Ads, as no mistakes will be rectified without them.

Cancellation of advertisements before appearance cannot be guaranteed to take effect until after the advertisements have appeared once. Countermands must be received by 2:30 p.m. for daily issue and 6 p.m. Friday for Sunday Times. Cancellation of advertising running cannot be accepted after 4:30 p.m., except as noted above.

Rates for display advertising will be furnished on request.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

The inadvertent omission or incorrect publishing of advertising will be rectified only by cancellation of the charge made for the service rendered.

Friday, 8 p.m., is closing hour for all ads for the early issue of the Sunday Times. Closing hour for the final and complete Sunday Real Estate Ad Section is Saturday, 12 noon. Cancellation of any advertisement running in the Real Estate Section cannot be accepted after this hour.

SCOTLAND WOULD BE A SEPARATE STATE

"The notion of friendly co-operation in respect to common aims between the different sovereign states of which the British group of nations is composed" is the aim of the Scottish Nationalists, according to the Hon. Ruaraidh Erskine of Marr in an article in Current History. He says: "There runs at present through the whole Scottish nation a strong current of conscious, though in the meantime very uninformed, nationalism, so that if the National party were to improve its position and to mend its ways, the popular response would surely be such as the keenest Scots Nationalist could desire for his cause.

"Advocates of Scottish nationalism are sometimes criticised on the ground that the success of the doctrine they preach would lead to the isolation o their country." This the author denies, and states that what the Nationalists want instead is to become part of the "British group of nations.

"Into this comity of nations they propose to introduce their country, not under the suzerainty of England, gifted in virtue of the latter's benevolence with a limited measure of 'home rule' and otherwise tied to her, but as a sovereign state, independent of England even as Scotland was formerly independent of her, and independent of her even as the different dominions are today independent of her."

Twelve Families in 16 Rooms

That he recently found twelve families living in sixteen partly furnished rooms in London, was the declaration of Dr. Garbett, Bishop of Southwark, in an address at Wimbleton, Eng. He said that the families consisted of seventy-two people. In his opinion, the only solution of overcrowding in England could be by a rent allowance for children.

Movie Musicians Rehired

That 100 musicians, recently ousted by the talkies, have been reinstated by London theaters, is the latest report of the Musicians' Union of England. The union expects that more London musicians will soon go back to work, and that the movement for reinstatement of orchestras will spread over England.

SCORES IN MILK CONTEST LISTED

Rating of City's Supply in Tests 94.1 Per Cent

Strong Efforts Carried on to Raise Its Quality

Average of Samples Taken in State Computation

Results of the survey and milk-scoring contest of the Los Angeles city milk supply, completed the 16th inst. by representatives of the State Department of Agriculture, bureau of dairy control, and announced yesterday show the official rating of the city's supply, computed on volume basis, was 94.1 per cent.

Rules and regulations pertaining to the methods of conducting milk analysis as well as the standard of milk supplied for human consumption are provided for in the State pure-milk law.

During the past five months the thirteen milk inspectors employed by the health department collected 2290 official milk samples and the laboratory analyzed each sample. The milk score given each dairy and milk plant is an average of all samples collected from each retail dairy and plant since the previous contest five months ago.

In the past few years there has been a strong movement to improve the quality of milk sold as market milk.

The Los Angeles city milk supply is under the supervision of Dr. George Parrish, city health officer, and Dr. William Veit, city veterinarian. The State officials conducting the survey and milk-scoring contest were Dr. R. P. Gingerich, A. W. Hayes and G. L. Hasler, market milk specialists of the State Bureau of Dairy Control. The results follow:

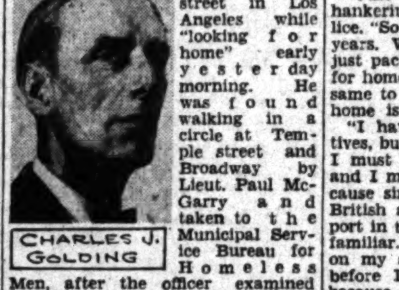
HERO OF WAR WHO LOST IDENTITY SEEKS FOLKS



CHARLES J. GOLDING

The "known unknown soldier" of four nations—Great Britain, Belgium, France and the United States — was picked up on a street in Los Angeles while "looking for home" early yesterday morning. He was found walking in a circle at Temple street and Broadway by Lieut. Paul McGarry and taken to the Municipal Service Bureau for Homeless Men, after the officer examined papers and credentials he found in the suitcase Golding was carrying.

Golding's papers reveal that the governments of four countries have been attempting to establish his identity since he was discharged as a casual from the British army in 1918. He has three medals for bravery and distinguished service, won in action in France and Belgium during the war period from 1914 to 1918.

He also has papers and credentials from the British, French, Belgian and United States war departments attesting his identity since 1914, but prior to then his identity is a mystery. When taken in charge by Lieut. McGarry, Golding had just left a job as a service-station attendant which he had held for almost a year.

MEMORY FAILS

His memory as to his life, antecedents, or nativity prior to the date he woke up in a hospital in London in 1914 is a blank, he asserted to the police. He is not without funds and told a coherent story.

"Just before Christmas I get a hankering to go home," he told police. "So it has been for the last ten years. When this urge develops I just pack up my clothing and start for home, but the streets are all the same to me and I dont know where home is.

"I have no recollection of relatives, but I know I must have some. I must be about 40 years of age and I must have been a sailor, because since my discharge from the British army I have been in every port in the world and they all seem familiar. I also have tattoo marks on my arms and they were there before I joined the British army, because my enlistment papers contain a record of them.

STRANGE AWAKENING

"I do know that in 1914 I awoke in a hospital in London and I had a bullet hole through my head. They told me that I was a Belgian refugee but I could not remember having been in Belgium. I recovered and was discharged from the hospital as 'John Doe.' A few months later I was corralled by recruiting officers and I enlisted in the British army. They would not accept John Doe as my name so the sergeant gave me the name of 'Charles J. Golding.'

"I went through the war for four years and was wounded at Louvain.

"I have my entire war record, but I do not know who I was before the war. I've got a job here, but I wish I knew who I could eat Christmas dinner with. I believe I belong here and I intend to stay here, but I would like to know who I am."

POLICEMEN DENY GIRL'S ACCUSATION

Burbank Officers Face Quiz in Fitts's Office on Story of Attack

Denials of the accusations of Marian Okada, 17-year-old Japanese high school girl, were made yesterday by two Burbank policemen who presented themselves voluntarily at the District Attorney's office. Blayney Matthews, chief investigator for the District Attorney, interrogated the two for several hours, during the course of which they denied having taken advantage of the girl, as she charges.

Matthews announced that the third policeman named by the girl will be examined today, or early next week.

Marian Okada, who lives at 1029 North San Fernando Road, Glendale, is a pupil in Hoover Junior High School, Glendale. She complained to Police Chief Bergh of Burbank, naming two motorcycle officers and a third policeman of his force. According to her story, one motor officer accused her of a traffic violation, and agreed to drop the charge if she would meet him later. She related that she kept an appointment, driving with the officer to Laurel Canyon, where, she says she was attacked. At later dates, she told Chief Bergh, the two other policemen named by her attempted indignities.

The girl showed the chief some notes, warning her to stay away from the police station. Chief Bergh suspended the three policemen, pending investigation.

COUNTY AID SOUGHT ON BROADWAY PAVING

The City Council yesterday asked the Board of Supervisors to allocate from its good roads fund the sum of $350,000 toward the paving and improving of Broadway from Pico to Forty-first streets. The opening and widening proceedings for this stretch of Broadway are now running, at an estimated cost of $3,774,000. The total cost of the paving is estimated at $548,000.

HARMONY PLEDGED AT DINNER

Pasadena Citizens and U.S.C. Smoke Peace Pipe Before New Year's Game

In a harmony dinner last night at the Maryland Hotel in Pasadena, as a prelude to the East-West football game in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day, seventy-five representative citizens of Pasadena pledged harmony and co-operation to an equal number of delegates from the University of Southern California. Dr. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid, president of the university, said the dinner was an expression of good will between the city of Los Angeles, as well as the University of Southern California and Pasadena.

Dr. Von KleinSmid praised the spirit of Pasadena which made the pageant of the Tournament of Roses and the East-West football game possible and said: "You in Pasadena can do one-half a job alone, but you can do 100 times as much with the University of Southern California and the city of Los Angeles boosting for you wholeheartedly. We may like the Tournament of Roses so well this year that we may wish to move it over to Los Angeles next year, but if the pageant were moved to Los Angeles it would not be the Tournament of Roses."

Dr. John Willis Baer, vice-president of the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles and former president of Occidental College, acted as toastmaster. He was introduced by Hal C. Reynolds, president of the Tournament of Roses Association. He announced that a play-by-play description of the New Year's Day game will be broadcast over a short wave radio hook-up so that it will reach practically every part of the world.

Three representatives of the University of Pittsburgh, W. D. Harrison, director of athletics; Charles W. Bowser, and W. E. Saunders, were present at the dinner. Mr. Harrison said he will have no alibis to offer in the event the Pittsburgh team loses in the New Year's Day struggle. The three men are here to complete arrangements for the first-of-the-year classic.

EMPLOYEES' CHILDREN TO BE PARTY GUESTS

More than 1000 children of employes of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation will attend a children's Christmas party this afternoon. The party, which is an annual affair, is being given by the Employees' Association of the utility company and will be held in the auditorium of the company's main office building, 810 South Flower street.

RANDOLPH APPEAL PLANNED

Convict Husband of White Woman Will Contest Disinheritance Because of Negro Blood

That the recent decision of Superior Judge Archbald, depriving Jack Randolph of a husband's share of the $200,000 estate left by his dead wife, Mrs. May Wheeler Randolph, on the grounds that his marriage to her was illegal because of asserted negro blood in his veins will be appealed to the United States Supreme Court if necessary, was the statement of Attorney H. H. Harris, Randolph's counsel, late yesterday.

Randolph's right to share in his wife's estate was contested by her daughter by a former marriage, Mrs. Anbonetta Collison, wife of Walter Collison, author. She holds that Randolph's marriage to her mother was illegal for the reason that he has negro blood in his veins and that under the California law a negro, mulatto or Indian cannot marry a white woman. During the trial of the case, ex-slaves from Virginia were brought into court to testify that Randolph's father was Randall Randolph, who, before the Civil War, was a slave and worked beside them in the cotton fields, on the Smith plantation.

CONSTITUTION INVOLVED

"There are constitutional questions involved which I believe will bring the matter within the jurisdiction of the highest court of the land," Attorney Harris declared last night when commenting on Judge Archbald's decision. Randolph at the present time is serving a two-year sentence in a Federal prison following conviction on a charge of misusing the mails. At the time of his wife's death, Randolph, a Pasadena broker, was accused of poisoning her with arsenic. He was tried for murder and acquitted.

"The law in this State," Attorney Harris continued, "has always been that all marriages of white persons with negroes, Mongolians and mulattoes were illegal and void. The case in question turns on the meaning of mulatto. The contestants contends that the word means any degree of negro blood at all, which contention apparently was upheld by the court.

MULATTO DEFINED

"Our contention is that the word means just what the Supreme Court of Massachusetts has said, 'A mulatto is a person born of one white and one black parent.' Also that the issue of such a person and a white is not a mulatto. The Supreme Courts in Alabama and Ohio have decided in a similar fashion and all lexicographers agree upon the meaning of this word.

"Undoubtedly," Harris declared in conclusion, "Judge Archbald gave his sincere and earnest decision in this matter but it is one of those questions which makes it a public duty to see that the final decision rests with the highest courts of the land and it will be taken there."

CHURCHES PLAN FOR CHRISTMAS

ice on Christmas Eve will be conducted at 4 p.m. when Gayatri will discuss "The Spirit of Christmas."

Handel's oratorio "The Messiah" will be presented tomorrow evening at First Baptist Church of Hollywood by the combined choirs of that church and the Burbank Choral Club. Charles L. Munro will direct the music, with S. Howard Brown at the organ and Myrtle R. Hart at the piano. The quartette will be composed of Zaruhi Elmassian, soprano; Sheldon E. Swenson, tenor; Rena W. Pierson, contralto, and Prof. Stephen Seddon, bass. The public is invited.

Programs of Christmas music will feature the services tomorrow at St. Elizabeth's Church, Altadena. A still more elaborate program will be given on Christmas Eve, beginning at 11:30 p.m. Thomas Taylor Drill will direct the singing, with Oswald J. Reilly at the organ.

Dr. Carl Patton, pastor of First Congregational Church, will be the speaker Monday morning at the meeting of the Ministerial Association at First Methodist Church. Dr. Patton will discuss "Some Trends in Our American Churches."

At the Mission Garden, Mt. Washington, Christmas Eve will be celebrated at 7 p.m. when guests will gather before the great fireplace to enjoy a program of music and addresses. The program will include a visit from Santa Claus with gifts for children and a children's violin ensemble by fifteen young musicians under the direction of Miss Alene Withers. The public is invited. Another interesting program will be given Wednesday evening.

The cantata "His Natal Day" will be sung tomorrow evening at Pico Heights Christian Church. At the morning hour Rev. Merle E. Fish will preach on "The Christ Child."

A Christmas celebration, to which residents of the Rands district and surrounding towns are invited, will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Community Methodist Church, of which Rev. John Ovall is pastor.

"Christ Reborn" is the subject of a sermon to be preached by Rev. Neal K. McGowan tomorrow morning at Hollywood Christian Church, 1717 North Gramercy Place. A program of Christmas music will be given in the evening.

"The Holy Spirit and the Holy Babe" is the topic of a sermon to be preached by Rev. S. Fraser Langford tomorrow morning at South Park Baptist Church. The topic for evening is "Christ, the Virgin-born." Elaborate musical programs have been arranged for both services. The church school Christmas program will be given at 7:30 p.m. Monday. The program will include a pageant and a visit from Kriss Kringle. Members and friends of the church are requested to bring nonperishable groceries and other gifts for the needy.

VOTES OF SIX ANNEX STRIP

Classification Yard Made Part of Los Angeles by Unanimous Ballot

The six voters of Classification Yard Addition voted unanimously yesterday for annexation of that district to the city of Los Angeles. There were but six qualified voters, six votes cast and six ayes, so Classification Yard, a strip of 263½ acres, or .411 square miles, is annexed to Los Angeles. The strip is westerly of Long Beach and north of Wilmington and is in county territory. The strip had been purchased by the city's Harbor Department for $1,800,000.

The six electors who voted 100 per cent are Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Dollar, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Brumley and Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Smith, probably the first and only complete electorate ever named in connection with an election.

POLICE DRAGNET SNARES FIFTEEN

Fifty Recent Crimes Cleared Up by Arrests

Suspects Picked Up While Meandering Streets

Woman Held as Accomplice of Radio Burglars

Solving the mystery of thirty-five house burglaries, half a dozen radio store burglaries, several thefts from downtown department stores and recovery of four asserted stolen automobiles was announced by police yesterday with the arrest of two women and three men on suspicion of burglary, six men as suspected auto thieves, four as robbery suspects and investigation of the activities of a burglar suspect arrested the day before.

Detectives reported that Euval W. Owen, 29 years of age, of 7105 South Wilton Place, had been connected with at least thirty-five burglaries of homes in the Seventy-seventh-street division. He was taken into custody early Thursday morning with an assortment of jewelry in his possession, according to police.

QUARTET TAKEN

Featuring the round-up yesterday was the apprehension of a woman and three asserted ex-convicts who, police say, are responsible for half a dozen recent radio store burglaries in the Wilshire and Hollywood divisions. Those arrested were Mrs. Edna R. Carter, 22; her husband, E. A. Carter; John C. Hurst and Brown Higman. All were taken into custody at 1741 West Sixty-third street, where Detective Lieutenants Savage and Gillilead stated they found a radio, typewriter and radio equipment which was taken from the W.A.K. radio store at 6903 South Western avenue on November 5, last. Philip C. Valentine, 30, of 40 St. James Park, was also taken into custody as an asserted member of the gang.

Declared to have been caught in the act of shoplifting in the Sears Roebuck store at 5901 South Vermont avenue by Store Superintendent G. H. Snirl, Mrs. Rose Williams, 26, of 6115½ South Main street, was turned over to Detective Lieutenants Jones and Wingfield on suspicion of burglary.

Following the arrest the detectives reported visiting Mrs. Williams's home and finding a large quantity of dress goods and other articles which, they say, she obtained in various department stores.

PERSEVERANCE REWARDED

Perseverance of Detective Lieutenant Parker of the Wilshire division who, early Thursday morning single-handed chased and captured one of two suspected auto thieves, was rewarded yesterday morning in the arrest of the suspect's partner, according to another report. Jerome Perry, 18, was taken in his home at 1402 East Twentieth street. Both are held on suspicion of grand theft of an automobile.

Culminating a chase of a half a mile, Officers Wingard and Young reported capturing Bob Zacher, 23, of 1417 North Bronson avenue, in an automobile registered to Paul Fricke of 601 Roxbury Drive, Beverly Hills, at Van Ness and Fountain avenues. Zacher was held on suspicion of grand theft.

Four sailors of the U.S.S. California, giving the names of Ardell C. Moore, 18; James Burr, 21; James Davis, 29, and Charles Dela, 21, were arrested on suspicion of grand theft when found in an asserted stolen automobile at Washington Boulevard and Cherry street by Officers Barry, Bolton and Keia.

His suspicions aroused by the actions of two men who entered a drug store at Pico street and Magnolia avenue, Officer Singleton placed the men under arrest and, searching a car they had been driving, found a revolver. He booked them on suspicion of robbery. They gave the names of Manney E. Calhoun, 23, 1210 South Catalina street, and Ed C. Pedlar of 6210 Seventh avenue.

FOR CARRYING GUN

Because he had a revolver in his possession George H. Meyer, 19, driving an automobile with a Texas license number, was taken into custody by Officers Young and Slavens at Sunset Boulevard and Western avenue on suspicion of robbery. Meyer gave his home address as 3421 East Sixth street.

With a .45-caliber revolver and flashlight in his pockets, Joe Hernandez, 25, of 534 South Avenue 50, was picked up by Officer Bridgeman at Seventh street and Central avenue. He was also held on suspicion of robbery.

Investigation of the suspects arrested was started later yesterday by detectives of the robbery and burglary details. The next public show up of suspects in the police shadow box is scheduled for Monday. The time has not yet been set.

STREET FUND ALLOCATED

The City Council yesterday adopted a report of its County Affairs Committee recommending that $30,000 be allocated toward the improvement of Anaheim street from Frigate to Governor avenues. The total cost of the improvement, which includes grading and paving, is $130,000. The allocation is to be divided equally between the city and county.

JURY IN OFFICERS' TRIAL STILL WITHOUT VERDICT

Eight women and four men deliberating on the verdict in the cases of Arthur McClanahan, C. N. Bradford and S. S. Wylie, negro police officers charged with bribery, were unable to report after ten hours in the jury room, and early last night they were ordered to their hotel by Superior Judge Hardy. The jury will resume deliberations today at 9:30 a.m.

The case was submitted to the jury at 1[illegible] a.m. with instructions to deliberate on eight counts against McClanahan and four counts each against Bradford and Wylie. Judge Hardy sent the jurors out to dinner at 5 p.m. with instructions to return to the courtroom in the evening to resume their deliberations.

OLD FLOWS TO EUROPE

Benefit Expected for America

Economic Gains Overseas to Mean Additional Trade for United States

Industry Here Will Have to Increase Its Output to Care for Demand

BY EUGENE J. YOUNG

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (Exclusive)—In the first ten months of the year gold flowed to America to the extent of $227,000,000. Most of this was due to Wall-street speculation, for high money rates drew funds from many foreign sources, overcoming the outgo of our loans and expenditures. Our share of the world's gold rose above $4,300,000,000.

Now the tide has turned. With the cessation of speculation and the increase in the discount rate of the Federal Reserve Bank, Europe has again begun to draw the metal from us. The net loss in November was $27,000,000, while in the first three weeks of December it has amounted to more than $35,000,000.

There is every prospect that the process will continue in the coming year, probably will be accelerated by heavy loans and investments abroad; and our store of gold may soon fall well below the $4,000,000,000 mark for the first time since 1928.

ROSY PROSPECT

This is a matter of vital interest to every person in America, for the loss of gold will not only affect speculation, and the prices of stocks and bonds, but it will have an enormous effect on trade for the future, on the growth of American wealth and on world political developments. Just what the effects will be is something that defies prophecy, but there is every prospect that America will add greatly to its wealth.

We are, in fact, going back to the conditions which had so much to do with the upbuilding of the so-called Coolidge bull market. To understand what is going on and is in contemplation it is necessary to recall some of the circumstances of that cycle of expansion of American development. At the beginning of the World War we had accumulated almost $2,000,000,000 of the world's monetary gold, which totaled about $8,000,000,000. At the end of the war we had more than $3,000,000,000.
